GOVERNOR WILLIAM A. STONE HAS REMOVED RECORDER A. M. BROWN; EX-DIRECTOR J. O. BROWN APPOINTED HIS SUCCESSOR---ELKIN MAY RESIGN.

MACHINE RULE AGAIN CONTROLS IN PITTSBURGH

City Once More Placed in the Hands of the Men the Ripper Bill Was Passed to Eliminate.

RECORDER A. M. BROWN IS REMOVED

Former Director of Public Safety J. O. Brown to Be Appointed to the Position--Commission Will Be Received by Him Today.

GOVERNOR'S MESSENGER BRINGS THE ORDERS

GOV. WILLIAM A. STONE has removed Recorder A. M. Brown and appointed J. O. Brown in his place. The executive makes a lengthy statement concerning his action. Both Senator M. S. Quay and Attorney General John P. Elkin disapprove of his course.

J. O. Brown was last night notified that he was to be appointed. His commission will arrive today, but he will not assume his new duties until Monday.

It is understood that Gov. Stone has ordered that Director E. M. Bigelow of the department of public works, Director W. W. Nisbet of the department of charities and John P. McTighe, assistant superintendent of police, are to be "protected." Mr. Bigelow has already announced his intention to resign and the resignation of City Solicitor W. B. Rodgers will be forthcoming.

Recorder Brown has been formally notified of his removal. The governor did not even tell the distinguished Pittsburgher why he was dismissed.

The appointment of J. O. Brown means the attempt at restoration to power of Senator William Flinn. The governor is satisfied to have him control the county, and in return he is to give Stone any assistance wanted in state and national politics. This was the bargain struck at the expense of the people of Pittsburgh. Until January, 1903, Gov. Stone will be in a position to demand that the deal be carried out, providing Mr. Flinn can deliver the goods. After January, 1903, Stone is, fortunately for the commonwealth, retired to public life, and Mr. Flinn can laugh at "mutual business and political" contracts.

NOT A SURPRISE IN PITTSBUGRH.

The action of the governor was not a surprise in Pittsburgh. It has been expected for several days that he would carry out his deal with Senator William Flinn. The news of Stone's action, however, brought forth a storm of indignation and the big governor must have found it necessary last night to tie a cake of ice on each ear, and if he went to the place he was generally consigned to it would take a fresh chunk every few minutes.

Thomas S. Bigelow, who was in Harrisburg yesterday, reached his home last night. He declined to discuss the removal until after the formal order is made by Stone. He will then outline his future policy and that of the stalwart organization.

So far as state politics is concerned, stormy times can be expected. The statement of Senator Quay indicates that William Stone will have a rocky road to travel. If John P. Elkin follows the advice of his friends he will resign from the cabinet and repudiate the governor and his action in removing the recorder. Insurance Commissioner I. W. Durham and Senator Boies Penrose are on record as being opposed to Stone's deal with Flinn.

The hundred or more Republicans who voted for the passage of the ripper in the legislature because it would give Pittsburgh a better government and strengthen the Republican organization in the state have been given a gold brick. The majority of them are not inclined to forget.

Among other things the governor says that he removed Maj. Brown because the recorder had ousted old soldiers. If he did he was but imitating the executive. When Col. Stone went into office, after having shed crocodile tears at many a campfire, he promptly dismissed from the service of the state several old soldiers. All of them had good war records. In the number was Capt. John C. Delaney, who was in many a hard-fought battle.

Union Party's Renewed Hope.

The local Union party announces that it will have a full legislative ticket in the field. The managers think that their cause has been bettered by the Stone-Flinn deal.

J. O. Brown declined to discuss his appointment until the commission arrives. He will then have something to say, but the outlining of his policy will probably be left until Monday, when he hopes to be sworn into office in joint session of councils. For the most part his appointments will consist chiefly of a reinstatement of the men Recorder A. M. Brown removed because he considered them incompetent to administer the affairs of their offices.

The first news of the removal of the recorder was received in Pittsburgh early yesterday afternoon in an interview with Thomas S. Bigelow telegraphed from Harrisburg. He said that he considered the removal of the recorder and the appointment of J. O. Brown probable. This was followed by a positive announcement that it would be done.

The news was given to the recorder by a Gazette man. He said that he was not surprised and was not in the least worried, but declined to discuss the removal until the intelligence came to him in an official way. In answer to the question whether he would resign, he made this reply:

Would Rather Commit Suicide.

"I would rather commit suicide than resign. They will have to remove me."

The recorder then took up the business matter before him and one would have never suspected that he had a care in the world.

When Director E. M. Bigelow was told of the governor's intention he said:

"I will resign if J. O. Brown is appointed."

Director Andrew Fulton of the department of safety, Director Nisbet and Assistant Superintendent of Police McTighe said that they would not discuss the matter for the present. It is quite probable that their resignations will be handed in. City Solicitor Rodgers will do the same thing.

Thomas S. Bigelow returned from Harrisburg on the limited. He will not discuss the removal at present. He said that he took to the matter philosophically and was not weeping. He has a very clear idea of who his friends have been.

Sol Bacharach of the executive department, was sent here last night by the governor to perform several missions. He was to arrive from the east on the 7:05 train. J. O. Brown and Clarence Burleigh were at the Duquesne hotel about 7:15 to receive him.

Received a Prize Package.

Mr. Bacharach carried a letter from the governor to J. O. Brown. This was presented and the recorder-to-be and his city solicitor left the hotel happy. Mr. Burleigh had this to say:

"It is needless for me to say that I am well pleased with the appointment of my friend, J. O. Brown. He is fully capable in every way to fill the high position to which he has been appointed."

Mr. Burleigh said that he could not talk of the city solicitorship until the appointment had been tendered him.

Mr. Bacharach drove out to the residence of A. M. Brown, taking with him a Pittsburgh business man. He presented the letter from the governor which was received without comment. He then returned to the city and gave out the governor's statement which appears in another column. He says that he is not authorized to say what was in the letter given to the recorder and J. O. Brown.

Commission Will Arrive Today.

Mr. Bacharach says that J. O. Brown's commission will reach Pittsburgh today. The bond of the new recorder will be sent to Harrisburg today for executive approval.

The make-up of J. O. Brown's cabinet will not be difficult. From present indications some of the more important places will be filled as follows:

A. H. Leslie, director of the depart-

DEMOCRAT MAY BE THE REAL GOVERNOR.

Clinton Rogers Woodruff, the Philadelphia reformer, has this to say:

"I have quit having opinions on Pittsburgh politics. Things are so uncertain out here and at Harrisburg that I cannot keep up with them. The action of the governor has certainly aided the cause of reform in the state. If proper advantage is taken we can elect a Democratic governor and an independent Republican for United States senator. I have never worshiped at the shrine of Flinn, because I never considered him a permanent reformer."

CHARTER TO BE USED TO THROTTLE REFORM IN CITY GOVERNMENT

Hard Fight Made to Pass a Measure for the Relief of Citizens.

BETRAYED BY GOV. STONE

The charter act under which Recorder A. M. Brown was appointed was placed on the statute books of the state March 7, 1901, after one of the hardest fights in the history of lawmaking in the commonwealth.

Its passage was hailed with delight by the longsuffering people of Pittsburgh. They thought it meant a better, more economic, and, above all, a cleaner government. After less than a half-year of relief the same instrument that was used for good was turned by the stroke of a dealing governor's plan into a benefit for the politicians it was drafted to drive from control of the city.

In the passage of the ripper Thomas S. Bigelow was the man who led the fight and overcame all obstacles. Many wanted him to be recorder, and after the act had been signed it was generally believed that he would be appointed. Gov. Stone had 30 days in which to make the appointment. He spent the time thinking.

The governor saw that the ripper, if properly handled, might give him control of Pittsburgh, Allegheny and Scranton. With these he could bud as a leader and demand the seat in the United States senate held by Senator M. S. Quay.

Overtures were made to Senator Flinn and his lieutenants, the very men that the act had aimed to retire to public life. Mr. Bigelow's name was scratched and Major A. M. Brown was decided upon. It was figured that he stood so well in Pittsburgh, the people would hail his appointment with delight. He was named April 6, after an all-night session at the executive mansion that would have furnished Carrie Nation food for a temperance talk. Gov. Stone thought that Major Brown would be subservient and gradually allowed the Flinnites to take charge of the town.

The constitutionality of the nipper was tested in the supreme court. There was a month of waiting for a decision. On May 27, 1901, Recorder Brown went into office. In a short time he learned that an attempt was being made to use him as a tool. He stood it for a time and then rebelled. The incompetent were weeded out and loyal men put in their places. This made the governor angry and the result was his action of yesterday.

GOV. STONE'S CURT DISMISSAL OF RECORDER A. M. BROWN

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber,
Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 21, 1901.

Hon. A. M. Brown,

Dear Sir: By virtue of the authority vested in me by law I hereby remove you as recorder of the city of Pittsburgh.

Very respectfully,
WILLIAM A. STONE,
Governor of Pennsylvania.

The order removing him from the office of recorder of Pittsburgh was delivered to Maj. A. M. Brown at his home about 9 o'clock last night by special messenger from Gov. Stone.

Maj. Brown read the message with composure and immediately announced his intention of preparing a statement for the press today, giving a full history of all that has occurred between himself and Gov. Stone, including every conversation he has had with the state chief executive and every proposition that had been made by the governor for the retention of Flinn men in office. The recorder intimated that he would have some very interesting things to say to the public, and declared that he intends the people of Pittsburgh shall know the whole truth and judge for themselves.

Governor Stone Gives His Reasons For Removing Recorder Brown

To the People of Pittsburgh.

I HAVE removed Maj. Brown and appointed J. O. Brown recorder of Pittsburgh for the following reasons:

The purpose of the new charter for cities of the second class was to take the power of appointment out of councils and vest it in a recorder to be elected by the people. Necessarily there would be an interval between the time the law went into effect and the first election of a recorder. During this time the governor is authorized to appoint a recorder and practically become responsible for the good government of cities of the second class. The ripper feature of the bill was objectionable, but, in my judgment the provisions of the law vesting full power in a recorder to be elected by the people far outweighed the objectionable feaure. I had no purpose in signing the bill to rip out of office the existing officeholders, more than was necessary to put the law in force. I had no intention of building up new political organizations in second class cities or of overthrowing existing ones. My construction of the law was that it should be used to bridge over the interval until the people could exercise their rights through the election of a recorder. That this provisional government should not assume the rights and privileges of an elective one.

Maj. Brown was not elected recorder. He was under no political obligations to any party or faction. He represented, through his appointment by the executive, the majesty of the law, and he should have been content with the simple enforcement of the law. In Scranton and Allegheny this policy has been adhered to, and there have been hardly any removals except the mayors. I appointed Maj. Brown because I believed he would carry out this policy. His professional life, his age and good citizenship all persuaded me that he would administer his office with judicial fairness and impartiality, entirely uninfluenced by political ambition for himself and for others. Had I desired the policy which now guides him to prevail, I would have made a different appointment. But because I believed it to be my duty to hold matters steady in place until the people could speak at the polls, I appointed him. At our interview in Pittsburgh, after his appointment, he was fully in accord with this policy, but afterwards he became ambitious to build up a political organization in Pittsburgh and removed and permitted his subordinates to remove men from office for no cause except that they were supposed to be adverse to this new political organization.

The new charter has been repeatedly violated by the removal of men from office for political reasons. These removals have been against my protest. He has also permitted the removal of a number of old soldiers for political reasons, against my earnest request for their retention. The new charter prohibits the removal from office for political reasons, and makes the officeholder independent in politics. It relieves him from political tenure to his sponsors and guarantees him protection by trial on charges preferred.

SENATOR M. S. QUAY RESENTS REMOVAL.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 21, 1901.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

As you know, the removal of Maj. A. M. Brown, if he is removed, will be against my earnest protest and advice, and I repudiate all connection with it or responsibility for its consequences, which may be far-reaching and disastrous.

M. S. QUAY.

How can we expect these provisions of the law to be enforced by an elective recorder if we remain silent and permit the violation of the spirit and letter of the law by a recorder appointed by the executive to set the pace in the faithful execution of the law.

The 3,000 or more officeholders in Pittsburgh should be given plainly to understand that the best tenure of office is the faithful and efficient discharge of public duty. The fear of losing office through failure to produce political results in their precincts should be removed. It is the intention frequently expressed in the newspapers supporting his administration that a large number of further removals will soon be made. In order to prevent this, there is nothing for me to do but to remove the present recorder and appoint a man who will not remove capable and efficient men for political reasons. I do this without regard to political results.

All this talk about my securing promises that I shall succeed Senator Quay is absolutely false. I have no agreement or arrangement with any person to support me for United States senator. I trust that those who know me will not believe that I would begin a campaign now for an office that does not become vacant until 1905. If the desire to become United States senator influenced my official acts, I probably would not take this course. But I am quite sure that I would do as I have done if I positively knew that I would for this act never again receive political recognition of any kind. My own self-respect and respect for the dignity of the high office which I hold would compel me to do it. No one is responsible for my action but myself. The blame, if any, should rest wholly upon me. I feel that there is no other course for me to pursue in the discharge of the obligations which the law places upon me. I am quite willing to abide the consequences of my official acts. Very respectfully,

WILLIAM A. STONE.

P. S.—Since writing the above letter there has been material for a postscript which I think should be added. I left Philadelphia yesterday for Harrisburg at 4:30. I found T. S. Bigelow, Esq., on the car, and we talked in a friendly way about Pittsburgh matters. I told him it was my intention to remove Recorder Brown, and gave him my reasons substantially as above. He parted from me in apparent good humor.

About 10 o'clock last night a friend called, somewhat excited, to say that he had seen Mr. Bigelow, who had said to him, in substance: That if I removed Recorder Brown I would be ruined politically; that during the last legislature I demanded $200,000 for signing bills, but, finally compromised for $150,000, which sum was paid me; that the papers had this story with cartoons all prepared to publish the moment I removed Recorder Brown. This message being purposely sent me, I receive it in the spirit it is sent, as a threat. I am neither to be influenced by bribes or intimidated by threats. The story is false. I have never received a dollar from any person improperly. I defy this charge and all other false charges. I am not afraid of the papers or their cartoons. If they could ruin me I would have been ruined long ago.

SENATOR WILLIAM FLINN IS MUCH GRATIFIED

I am exceedingly gratified that the change has been made, and that J. O. Brown, who has been a life-long friend of mine, has been appointed. The change of government means much to the people of Pittsburgh. It means the hastening of the filtration contract and pure water, the delay in which has cost hundreds of lives. It means the stopping of the gambling which has been permitted under the present administration. It means clean streets.

DISMISSAL OF BROWN AGAINST GOOD ADVICE FROM SENATOR QUAY

The Older Republican Leader Points Out the Consequences of the Act.

A SUICIDE IN POLITICS

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, 22 Fifteenth St., N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.

About 4 o'clock this afternoon Senator Quay received a telegram from Harrisburg saying that Thomas S. Bigelow had just left for home after announcing that Recorder Brown of Pittsburgh had been removed by Gov. Stone. The telegram also said the governor had requested the newspaper correspondents to call upon him at 8 o'clock tonight, when he would have some news to give out.

While the senator would not discuss the report it was apparent that he was displeased with it and was hoping almost against hope that the governor would not commit political suicide by such an ill-advised act. In this connection the writer can say on good authority that Senator Quay has been doing all in his power to deter Gov. Stone from his course.

When Gov. Stone was here on November 6 to attend the Corbin-Patton wedding, he called upon Senator Quay and was very bitter in discussing Recorder Brown's failure to do as he, the governor, desired him to do. While he did not announce his intention of removing the recorder, his manner indicated that he might do so. The senator strongly urged him not to do anything so foolish, and pointed out plainly the great mistake he would make if he did so.

Senator Penrose declined to discuss the report. He said he had not become mixed up in the Allegheny county quarrel and did not so desire.

ELKIN AGAINST DISMISSAL OF MAJOR BROWN

REFUSES TO SAY IF HE WILL RESIGN OFFICE

Stone Sends a Special Messenger to Notify Old Recorder of His Action.

ALSO STATEMENT TO PITTSBURGH PEOPLE

The Attorney General Breaks the News to Thomas S. Bigelow, Who Almost Immediately Returns Home.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.) HARRISBURG, PA., Nov. 21.—"I am not in sympathy with and do not approve of the removal of Recorder Brown," said Attorney General Elkin tonight after he had read Gov. Stone's statement giving his reasons for Maj. Brown's dismissal. "I had hoped that the political quarrels of Allegheny county might have been adjusted in some other way," continued Mr. Elkin. "My superior officer, however, has assumed the responsibility and acted in this matter on his own judgment."

Thomas S. Bigelow said today to The Gazette correspondent, after he had been told by Mr. Elkin that the governor had removed Recorder Brown, that the attorney general had done everything in his power to prevent the change, and that he would continue to favor the candidacy of Mr. Elkin for governor. The personal relations between Stone and Elkin have been severely strained by the governor's action in the Pittsburgh matter and may lead to the resignation of the attorney general. Mr. Elkin was told tonight that it was rumored in Pittsburgh that he would resign and asked if he had any statement to make on the subject.

"I have nothing to say," replied Mr. Elkin.

The Governor Notifies Maj. Brown.

A special messenger from the executive department left Harrisburg at noon with a letter from Gov. Stone to Maj. Brown formally notifying him of his dismissal. The governor originally intended to remove Recorder Brown on Monday, but he was induced by certain potent political influences to delay action until today.

Mr. Stone gave out a long statement tonight, addressed "To the people of Pittsburgh," in which he gives his reasons for the change of recorders. The governor was seen at the executive mansion and asked if he had anything to add. He replied that his statement contained everything he had to say on the subject. He would not discuss the visit here of Thomas S. Bigelow nor Mr. Bigelow's conferences with Attorney General Elkin and Public Buildings Superintendent Eyre.

Mr. Bigelow did not see Gov. Stone except for a short time last evening during his visit to Harrisburg. He spent the early evening at the Lochiel hotel with Messrs. Elkin, Eyre and other stalwart leaders. This morning he went to the office of Mr. Elkin and was in conference with Attorney General Elkin and Mr. Eyre for an hour. At the close of their meeting Mr. Elkin was called into the governor's office and the two remained together until after 1 o'clock.

The News Broken to Elkin.

It was during this conference that Stone told Elkin he had decided on Maj. Brown's removal, and that nothing could induce him to change his mind. The attorney general pleaded with the governor not to depose Recorder Brown, but the executive was obdurate and refused to reconsider his determination to make the change.

After leaving the governor, Mr. Elkin went to his office, where he found Mr. Bigelow and communicated to him the governor's decision. An hour later Mr. Bigelow left for Pittsburgh.

Before starting Mr. Bigelow was asked if he would support Gov. Stone for United States senator to succeed Senator Quay.

"Well, hardly," he replied.

To his confidantes Gov. Stone professes the greatest admiration for the political leadership of Senator Flinn. He says Flinn is entirely responsible for the vote polled in Allegheny county by Harris and Potter, and that without his support they would have made a miserable showing.

Gov. Stone has removed several old soldiers from office and appointed in their places civilians. He dismissed without apparent cause William Dames of York, nominated in the agricultural department. Mr. Dames served nine months in Libby prison and is so badly crippled that he can hardly walk. His place was filled by a young farmer. The governor also dismissed Samuel Parker of Harrisburg, assistant gardener in Capitol park, and appointed in his place Morris T. Garvin of Sharon Hill, a nephew of Chief Clerk Garvin of the house of representatives. One year ago he removed three old soldiers who were employed as laborers in Capitol park. The McKinley Veteran legion of Dauphin county entered a protest against their discharge and Stone reluctantly reinstated them.

Ten Financial Institutions in Boston May Combine—Ice Company Official Back of Deal.

BOSTON, Nov. 21.—Interest in the movement for the consolidation of several Boston national banks to take effect about January 1, was alive today. It is no longer a secret that promoters are active in trying to secure options on stock and today it was stated that the combination plan involved 10 banks. The names of the institutions are being carefully guarded.

The belief was general today that C. W. Morse of the American Ice company of New York, is back of the proposed transaction.

EIGHTH OHIO REUNION ENDS

Large Crowd Gathered at the Meeting of Spanish War Veterans.

SIGSBEE MADE HONORARY MEMBER

Gen. Dick Presided and Was Given an Ovation—A Private Elected President of the Organization. Camp Fire Stories.

BY ROBERT WREY.
Staff Correspondent.

AKRON, O., Nov. 21.—The gallant Eighth regiment of the Ohio national guard, known as "The president's own," closed its first annual reunion in this city this afternoon. There were cheers and speeches before the parting regrets were said. It was a soldiers' gathering and war reminiscences of the Cuban days were recounted. The reunion was made memorable by the presence of Capt. Charles D. Sigsbee, the famous commander of the Maine, and later of the St. Paul, which conveyed the "gallant Eighth" to Cuba. He was the guest of Gen. Charles Dick and was made an honorary member of the Eighth Ohio at the reunion.

The reunion was attended by 500 fighting men of the regiment. They came from all parts of Ohio, and a simple yellow badge of silk, with the designation of the Eighth Ohio, told who they were.

Col. Edward Vollrath.

They came from the farms and workshops of this great state, and had laid aside their labors to meet their old comrades in arms. As delegations arrived in Akron they were met at the station by a committee of leading citizens. Capt. Aaron Wagoner, a leading banker of Akron, and Gen. Dick looked after the interest of the boys and they were all quartered as soon as they arrived.

Crowd Clamored for Admittance.

It was the intention to hold the first session of the reunion on Thursday evening, but as a number of the officers and men could not give up their business, the plan was changed. The session opened in the Opera House on Main street, where a reception was held.

Long before the doors opened there were at least 2,000 people clamoring for admittance. Akron's police force had hard work in clearing the way for the officers and men of the regiment. It is said to have been the largest affair ever held in Akron. The entire house was handsomely decorated with flowers and flags and bunting of several wars covered the house, and a large picture of President McKinley hung above the stage. Gen. Dick presided. "Hurrah for Dick" was the cry all over the house.

Prayer was offered by Dr. Priest. Mayor W. B. Doyle delivered the address of welcome and told of the preparations for the regiment to assemble in Akron for its movement to Cuba. "Our people," said Mayor Doyle, "never saw a more beautiful spectacle than the one presented that chilly April day when you fell in line."

Capt. Sigsbee Spoke.

Capt. Sigsbee was introduced by Gen. Dick. Among other things Gen. Dick said: "No listener in this audience will forget the message that came up from Havana harbor. It will live in history, and I present to you one of the greatest heroes of the American navy."

Capt. Sigsbee, smiling and bowing, then told of his connection with the Eighth Ohio.

"It was the favorite regiment of the St. Paul," he said, "and the best command I ever transported. I am glad you boys have seen fit to make me a member of your association, but it will take me a long time to find out what my military duties are."

The business session of the reunion was held today in Grand Army hall in Howard street. The session was opened by Gen. Dick with a brief speech. The nominations for officers caused several surprises, as an enlisted man was elected president of the organization.

It was decided that a permanent organization should not be formed until the next meeting of the regiment, which will be held in Canton, July 17, the anniversary of the surrender of the Spanish forces in Cuba.

The session then elected the following officers: A. T. Bowman, Canton, president; Col. C. V. Hard, Wooster, vice president; W. R. Palmer, Akron, secretary, and Capt. H. J. Blackburn, Akron, treasurer. Capt. Sigsbee was elected the first honorary member of the organization.

A committee of five was appointed to prepare a constitution and by-laws for a permanent organization. The committee is as follows: Maj. A. B. Critchfield, Shreve; Gen. Charles Dick, Lieut. George M. Wright, Capt. H. O. Feederle and George W. Rogers, all of Akron.

Told Campfire Stories.

The afternoon session was full of life and was devoted to officers and men who gave their expressions on the Cuban campaign. The campfire was opened by Col. Hard, the commander of the Eighth Ohio. Assistant Adjt. Gen. H. L. Wright told a story of why the Eighth Ohio did not get to Porto Rico. Yellow fever, he said, kept Gen. Miles from taking the Eighth Ohio on his expedition. Maj. F. S. Marquis told many incidents of the campaign in Cuba, as did Adjt. A. W. Wayne of Akron. Adjt. Wayne asked the assembled veterans to rise and bow their heads in prayer for the veterans of the regiment who have passed away. The entire audience arose and the scene was sublime. Other speeches were made by Gen. Charles Dick, Capt. Sigsbee, Maj. Wybreath and others.

Capt. R. V. Smith of Canton, at the campfire in the afternoon, told the story of his mule.

"Who stole your mule, Smith?" was the cry that went up from the audience. He looked around and pointing at Wybreath said:

"Well, it got into your camp, and I have never seen it since."

"No," said Wybreath, "we sent it as a ration to the Rough Riders."

Addresses were also made by Capt. Harry Blackburn of Akron, Ira Morrison, Akron, Surgeon G. H. Wuchter, Wadsworth, and Private John S. Rohrer, Canton, who drove the mule and ambulance teams from Siboney. At the close of the reunion the entire audience arose and sang "America."

Among the original officers of the field and staff present at the reunion were Col. C. V. Hard, Wooster; Capt. and Adjt. A. W. Wayne, Akron; Lieut. Col. Charles Col. Edward Vollrath, Bucyrus; Col. C. C. Wybreath, Alliance; Capt. George Wuchter, Wadsworth; George Smith, Canton; Assistant Adjt. Gen. George Wright, Akron; Lieut. E. Schaber, Bucyrus.

REFORM CONFERENCE ENDS.

Discussion of Marriage and Divorce and Passage of Resolutions Marked Closing Sessions.

The National Reform association's conference on the Christian principles of civil government concluded last night with a splendid symposium of logic and oratory. Congressman Robert Walker Taylor of Ohio, who was the leader of the movement that caused Brigham H. Roberts of Utah to be denied a seat in the house, delivered a carefully written and convincing address. The Rev. Dr. John Crokar White and the Rev. Dr. David McAllister also delivered eloquent speeches.

"The Place of the Family in Our National Life" was the theme of Mr. Taylor's discourse. A typical passage was the following: "What is the remedy for the divorce evil? The answer is obvious. Uniformity of law respecting first, what shall constitute marriage, and second, how the marriage relation may be dissolved. This salutary result may be reached either by securing uniformity of legislation in the several states, or by so amending the federal constitution as to repose in congress the power to enact uniform laws respecting marriage and divorce."

The Rev. Dr. White spoke on "Marriage and Divorce." Dr. McAllister spoke on "The Passion of Our National Christianity in Fundamental Law."

Resolutions were adopted indorsing the movement against vice in Allegheny and approving the proposed anti-polygamy amendment to the federal constitution.

Interesting morning and afternoon sessions were also held at which eloquent addresses on live topics were delivered. Among the speakers were the Rev. Dr. W. J. McConkey of Grove City, Pa.; Dr. H. H. George, field secretary; Clinton R. Woodruff of Philadelphia, and Dr. H. H. McCreary of Utah.

PAID FOR A SUICIDE.

South Dakota Saloonkeeper Must Pay Damages for Selling Liquor to an Inebriate.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Nov. 21.—A jury today awarded Mary Garrigan a verdict for $1,800 damages against Samuel Kennedy, a Dell Rapids saloonkeeper, for selling her husband liquor.

Evidence was introduced to show that Garrigan became intoxicated on liquor bought of Kennedy, and that he later committed suicide. This is the first conviction under the new license law prohibiting the sale of liquor to inebriates.

Date Fixed for Consecration.

DUBUQUE, IA., Nov. 21.—The date has been fixed for the consecration of the Rev. F. W. Keator, rector of St. John's Episcopal church of this city, as bishop of Olympia, Wash. Bishop Morrison of the Iowa diocese will be in charge. The ceremonies will take place in St. John's church, in this city.

Grange Convention Ended.

LEWISTON, ME., Nov. 21.—The closing hours of the National Grange convention today were well filled. Officers were installed this afternoon. The next national gathering will be held in Michigan but the question of the exact place was left to the executive committee.

Boer Officer Enters Parliament.

DUBLIN, Nov. 21.—The election today in the parliamentary contest in Galway, between Col. Arthur Lynch, who fought as a colonel in the Boer army, and Horace Plunkett, Unionist, resulted in a victory for the former by these figures: Lynch, 1,247; Plunkett, 473.

TWENTY-NINE BODIES LOCATED AT TELLURIDE

The Identity of Seven Victims Still Unknown—Rescue Work Impeded by the Mine Gas.

TELLURIDE, COL., Nov. 21.—The number of victims of the terrible disaster in the Smuggler-Union mine yesterday is now known to be at least 29, with a considerable portion of the mine yet unexplored.

Besides the 22 bodies taken out and identified last night, seven were located this afternoon in the north end of the ninth level, but gas is still too strong to permit the rescuers to reach them, and their identity is as yet unknown. Several members of the searching parties were overcome in their efforts to bring out the bodies this evening. It probably will be several hours before they can be reached, or any further explorations made.

PLANNED A REBELLION.

Dawson Miners Organized the Order of the Midnight Sun to Overthrow Canadian Rule.

SEATTLE, WASH., Nov. 21.—It is stated here that a conspiracy had been planned covering the entire northwest territory for the overthrow of the Canadian rule and the establishment of an independent republic.

It is claimed that the Order of the Midnight Sun was originally instituted in strict secrecy in Dawson in December of 1900, and from there spread along the length of the Upper Yukon, with branches as far as Circle City on one hand, and to Skagway and Atlin in the other direction. The total membership of the Order of the Midnight Sun is placed at 1,500, although the members confidently expected outside assistance that would bring the total of the army of insurrection to almost 5,000.

In the early days of the organization a circular was issued and secretly distributed to disaffected miners on the Upper Yukon, in which nineteen different clauses were given as being reasons for an uprising. These dealt with defective mining laws, corruption of officials, royalty, liquor traffic and gambling, delays in the court, British Columbia alien act duties, miners and lodgers license recording fees and boundary disputes. The conspiracy is said to be dead, owing to the publication of its secrets.

THREE CITIES TO BE ADDED.

Chicago, Philadelphia and Detroit Will Be Placed on the Empire Company's Circuit.

As the result of a conference of the officials of the Empire Circuit Company and the Traveling Vaudeville Managers' association yesterday at the Seventh avenue hotel, the cities of Chicago, Philadelphia and Detroit will be added next year to the circuit of the Empire company. The meeting lasted all day, and after its conclusion the announcement as above was made. The towns are to be added, either by the lease of theaters or by building new ones, it was stated, but no names would be mentioned. All the houses controlled by this company present burlesques. The Academy is the local member.

Representing the circuit company at yesterday's meeting were President James J. Butler of St. Louis; Vice President H. W. Williams of this city, Secretary James E. Fennessy of Cincinnati, Treasurer John H. Whelan, and Directors James L. Kernan, Hubert Heuck, W. T. Campbell, George W. Rife, John R. Butler and F. McKee. Present for the managers of companies were Gus Hill, Sam Scribner, Frank Carr, James H. Curtin, Fred Irwin, Morris Jacobs, Harry Martell, Robert Manchester, Jules Hurtig, W. B. Watson and Charles Barton.

On the present circuit of the Empire company are ten cities, Baltimore, Washington, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, St. Louis, Kansas City, Cleveland and Buffalo.

DIED IN A STREET CAR.

Veteran Oil Operator Succumbs While Riding to His Home at Franklin.

OIL CITY, PA., Nov. 21.—Samuel Reed, aged 62 years, secretary and treasurer of the Oil City Oil Exchange for the past four years, died suddenly in a street car tonight while riding from here to his home in Franklin.

He was a resident of Franklin in the early sixties and later a member of the firm of Reed & Brennan, producers in the Bradford and Warren county fields. In 1883 they brought in the famous gusher at Henrys Mills, Warren county, that was in the 2,000-barrel class, but sunk most of their cash in drilling dry holes around it to find an extension of the streak. He is survived by his widow.

COAL DEAL ANNOUNCED.

Fairmount Coal Co. Absorbs Stock of Northwestern Fuel Co.—Capacity Is Enormous.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Charles W. Watson, president of the Fairmount Coal Company, announced yesterday that the stock of the Northwestern Fuel Company, amounting to $2,400,000, was practically under the control of the Fairmount Coal Company.

The Northwestern Fuel Company recently bought all the stock of the North Wisconsin Dock Company, who control all the docks and wharves along the coast of the big lakes that are used for handling coal. Mr. Watson stated that the companies together will have a coal-handling capacity of 2,500,000 tons of coal a year.

Suit Against President Hill of the Great Northern Will Be Settled Without Another Trial.

ST. PAUL, MINN., Nov. 21.—The suit of Herbert W. Pearson for $1,500,000 against President J. J. Hill of the Great Northern Railway Company, alleged to be due for location of immense coal fields for the railroad company, was called for a second trial today. The first trial resulted in a disagreement.

It was expected that another long trial would begin today, but counsel agreed to submit the case to Judge Kelley.

ment of safety. He was formerly superintendent of police.

George W. Wilson, reinstated as director of the department of public works.

John M. Anderson, reinstated as the director of charities.

Clarence Burleigh, reinstated as city solicitor.

Robert Ostermaier, reinstated as collector of delinquent taxes.

Sol Coulson to have temporary charge of superintendent of the bureau of detectives.

Robert Robinson, now county detective, to be made superintendent of police.

Frank J. Klumpp to be reinstated as an assessor.

George W. Gosser to be reinstated as an assessor.

There are many other appointments to be made, but how soon they come is not known. Some of the machine men say that there may not be any general ripping until the end of the month.

There is said to be a disagreement between Senator William Flinn and Councilman W. A. Magee over retaining Henry Whitehouse, police inspector for the East End district. Whitehouse has held the position for years and he was retained by Recorder Brown. He was loyal to the administration and for this reason Mr. Flinn wants him ousted. Mr. Magee insists upon his reappointment. The senator refuses and is credited with saying that he will hold up all Fourteenth ward appointments until Mr. Magee agrees with him. This would prevent Morris Mead, superintendent of the bureau of electricity, and John Henry, who was chief clerk for a time under Recorder Brown, from being reinstated.

The Flinn headquarters were crowded yesterday after the news became known, many who had probably never been there before, but smelled "pie," dropped in to tell Robert Ostermaier and others how glad they were. The men who had remained loyal to Senator Flinn were extremely jubilant and there is talk of a parach and a "Belshazzer's" feast to celebrate the consummation of the odious deal with Gov. Stone.

At stalwart headquarters there was also a crowd. Of course the gentlemen were not jubilant, but they were not weeping. Every man was ready to continue the fight and win a victory over which an uncertain governor will have no control.

Roger O'Mara was at Flinn headquarters. He said he was happy, but he knows that Senator Flinn will not allow him to again be superintendent of the bureau of detectives. He says that he is glad J. O. Brown has been appointed and promises to quit the contest for recorder if Joseph O. will say that he intends to ask for an elective term.

Ex-Representative Clinton Rogers Woodruff of Philadelphia was here yesterday consulting with George W. Guthrie about a personal registration bill. They join in the preparation of a measure.

BETTING IN THE AFTERNOON.

Wagers of Varying Amounts Were Made on the Streets and Were Promptly Paid.

The reports in the afternoon papers that Thomas S. Bigelow had given up hope roused the sporting fraternity. Bets of varying amounts, one or two as high as $1,000, it was reported, were made on the street. The money was not up long, for the news that the governor had taken action was well circulated before the evening was far gone. The stakes were promptly paid.

In the East End the feeling of regret that the change had come was widespread. Telephones were freely used during the evening to learn the news. In few cases was there any satisfaction expressed over the outcome.

Men high in business and professional life expressed their regret that the administration of Adam M. Brown had come to so untimely an end. They feared, and did not hesitate to express their sorrow, that the Flinn influence had come back to power.

SAFETY PALACE QUIET.

The Few Officials There Had No Comments to Make on Governor's Action.

At the safety palace, the only city building open last night, there was little demonstration over Gov. Stone's action. None of the few officials there would discuss the affair. About 9 o'clock Roger O'Mara came in, but had not then heard of the removal of Recorder Brown.

Most of the present officials took the idea of another ripping process good-naturedly. The entire front office force was busy on the McGovern case when the news arrived in Central station and had little time to make any comments.

GOVERNOR TAKES ACTION.

Minnesota's Executive Is Aroused Over the Formation of Northern Securities Company.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 21.—(Special.)—The governor of Minnesota has sent letters to the governors of North Dakota, Montana, Washington, Nebraska, Idaho and Oregon, suggesting that those officials cooperate in the fight against the merger of the northwestern railroads.

The St. Paul Dispatch today says: "Judge Jamison, the governor's private secretary, stated today at Red Wing that the governor and members of his official family have carefully looked into the legal phases of the Great Northern-Northern Pacific consolidation and there is no doubt that the promoters of the Northern Securities Company are trying to do by indirection what they could not do directly. It is time the people were aroused to the fact that their interests are being encroached upon. Two competing lines in the same hands mean that they will be used to further the selfish ends of the owners. He admitted that certain legal aspects of the Northern Securities Company are still in doubt, but said that in a few days these would be passed upon by competent legal authorities. No date has been fixed by the governor for calling the conference with other governors. He declined to commit himself with regard to an extra session, but left the impression that one would be called."

Molineux's Attorneys Making Every Effort to Quash the Indictment.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The brief on behalf of Roland B. Molineux upon the motion to quash the indictment against him and for an inspection of the minutes of the grand jury, was served upon Judge Newburger today. A decision is expected the first week in December.

Molineux's counsel raise the new point that the introduction of the Barnet evidence before the grand jury was illegal in that it charged Molineux with committing forgery, as well as murder.

M'KINLEY MEMORIAL FUND IS GROWING.

The Executive Committee of the Association Issues a Statement in Regard to the Situation.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 21.—The executive committee of the McKinley National Monument association after a lengthy session today at the office of Senator Hanna issued the following statement:

"At a meeting of the executive committee of the McKinley National Memorial association held in Cleveland today the secretary, Mr. Ryerson Ritchie, submitted reports from many states of the union showing gratifying progress, and that the appeal to the people to provide funds for a memorial at Canton is meeting with very general and hearty response. A plan for future work was outlined and the same will be pushed vigorously to completion. Reports received indicate that auxiliary organizations have already been perfected in nearly all states of the union.

"The expression of sentiment from every quarter of the country indicates that the people desire to make the erection of a monument at the home of President McKinley their first duty, as it is well known that he often expressed to his family and friends his desire to be buried at Canton, where already repose the remains of his children and where his beloved wife will rest when she departs this life. In deference to this statement, as well as to the propriety of the occasion, as evidenced in the monument provided for the lamented Lincoln and Garfield, it will be the purpose of the association to carry forward the work of providing for such a memorial at his home. Should more funds be subscribed than are necessary for the purpose of erecting a memorial compatible with the dignity and simplicity of the late president's life and character, any surplus will be devoted to a national memorial at Washington."

Those in attendance at the meeting were: Hon. William R. Day, Senator M. A. Hanna, Col. Myron T. Herrick, Gen. H. M. Duffield, William McConway and Ryerson Ritchie.

Why the Fischer Is a Good Piano

There are so many things that go to make up a perfect piano that one must know all of them in all their phases to hope to produce an instrument that will satisfy the critical.

The Fischer piano is made by a firm that leaves nothing to chance. The standard which guides the workmen is the standard of "best." The piano to find fault with, in the Fischer piano, because time has demonstrated that none exist. The Fischer is dependable—no further argument is necessary to keep it where it has been for years—in the front rank of meritorious pianos.

STRONG PRAISE FOR CRUSADE

Reformers Pledge Support to Gazette's Allegheny Movement.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION TAKES ACTION

Its Executive Committee Called On to Aid in the Work of Clearing Illegal Resorts Out of the River Wards.

At its closing meeting last night the convention of the National Reform association, in the Second Presbyterian church, gave its unqualified endorsement to the movement, inaugurated by The Gazette, for the suppression of unlawful resorts in Allegheny.

The Rev. Dr. John McNaugher read the resolutions and in a brief speech asked for their approval. The Rev. Dr. H. H. George moved that they be received, approved and put on record, and that this action and approval be by a rising vote. Two or three voices quickly seconded Dr. George's motion and the whole audience arose to make a unanimous vote.

The resolutions are as follows:

Startling disclosures have been made within the past few days by The Pittsburgh Gazette concerning the lawless conditions that prevail in certain wards of the city of Allegheny. The published testimony of this responsible journal is that gambling houses and unlicensed saloons swarm in these localities, prosecuting their nefarious business seven days in the week, and that the police officials insolently refuse to enforce the statutes enacted for the suppression of such infamous dens. In view of these facts the National Reform association, with headquarters in Allegheny, voices the righteous indignation of its large local constituency, at the corrupt non-enforcement of municipal law, appeals to the Christian citizens of Allegheny to rise unitedly and compel the authorities to abandon their shameful inaction and perform their sworn duty in stamping out vice and crime, and pledges itself to aid, through its executive committee, in such further agitation of this matter as may be found necessary.

A Stirring Address.

At the afternoon session of the convention a stirring address by Dr. Clinton Rogers Woodruff of Philadelphia, on "The Christian and His Civic Duty," was the feature. Many of his declarations have a striking bearing on the Allegheny situation.

Among other things Dr. Woodruff said:

The papers are full these days of the accounts of the activities of Justice Jerome and the committee of 15 in New York, and of the Law and Order Society in Philadelphia. What do their raids mean? What are they aimed at? To show official connivance at and protection of vice. They say that gambling, illicit liquor selling and the social evil are permitted by the police authorities where the proprietors pay tribute to "the powers that be" either in money or political support and influence. Can you conceive of anything more iniquities or degrading than the utilization of the police power for such base ends?

There may be two sides as to the possibility of the extirpation of gambling and the social evil? as to their police protection, there can, or at least should be, but one. Can there be any doubt as to what the attitude of the Christian man on this question should be?

He also said:

There is, however, the beginning of a new day at hand. We can illustrate what the Christian can do to improve bad conditions and conserve good ones by pointing to what Christians are doing.

Work of Robert Ross.

You remember how Robert Ross laid down his life in Troy to prevent election frauds. The heroic and much criticised efforts of Dr. Parkhurst, resulted in the revelations of the Lexow committee and the temporary overthrow of Tammany. The present activity of the Parkhurst society, as it is called, are again stirring up New York and revealing in their nakedness and hideousness the corrupt relations existing between vice and Tammany. The revelations of the Rev. Alfred W. Wishart resulted in the conviction of the Trenton gamblers. The revelations of the Rev. Robert F. Paddock in the famous "red-light" district of New York, and the brave and unflinching accusations of Bishop Potter gave life to the comittee of 15 which is successfully combatting gambling halls and the contamination of the homes of the poor, but honest and respectable families. The courageous stand of Controller Coler made possible the ultimate defeat of the nefarious Ramapo steal. The work of Theodore Roosevelt as police commissioner is potent to this day and the time is not for distant when there will be a popular demand for the re-installation of his honest and vigorous methods.

Let us not deceive ourselves that silence will excuse our indifference. Standing by while evil is committed makes us partiecps criminis, and I believe that Christian men and Christian churches will have much to answer for because they have stood by silent and indifferent in the presence of great wrongs.

Law and Order Society Favored.

The movement for the organization of a law and order society in Allegheny to carry on the work of reform is steadily gaining. Popular interest is growing day by day. It is now extremely likely that a mass meeting for the formal inception of the work will be called within a very few days.

Editor of The Pittsburgh Gazette.

Dear Sir: I think it is the duty of every law-abiding citizen of Allegheny to offer you their hearty congratulations for the noble work you have already accomplished in your crusade against gambling joints and speakeasies. You have only taken up two wards so far, but good results have shown up even down here in the Sixth ward. One proprietor of a speakeasy said last Sunday to his former patrons that he had orders to close up until this fuss that the Gazette had started had blown over. There are to my own knowledge 16 speakeasies in the Sixth ward, and you could stand in the yard of our select councilman and throw stones and hit four of them, and if some of our officials would take the trouble to walk down the river bank from Locust to Bayard streets he could see men and young boys by the score staggering out of them. I heard one proprietor of a joint say a few days ago to some of his patrons: "You need not be afraid to come in, for I saw so and so and he promised me we would be notified in time if any trouble was brewing."

Now I think it is time to call a halt on such things, and your paper deserves all the credit in the world for taking it up, and if it results in wiping out of existence those disgraceful joints you will have the everlasting blessing of every mother in the Sixth ward. In case of a law and order society being formed it would be the duty of every good citizen to help such a society in a financial way. After their object is gained and all those joints put out of existence they should erect a monument on Monument hill that could be seen from all parts of the city and inscribe thereon, "All praise and glory to The Pittsburgh Gazette." Yours,

Sixth Ward Voter.

Both Are Now in Jail.

Barney Weyl, a miner of Carnegie, and his brother-in-law, Thomas Hughes, a blacksmith, are in the county jail on charges made by one another. Hughes went to Weyl's house yesterday morning and was ordered out, but refused to go. Weyl seized a shotgun and threatened to shoot him. Hughes retaliated by knocking Weyl senseless with a poker. Weyl entered suit for felonious assault and Hughes a cross-suit for pointing firearms. They were both committed by Justice of Peace A. H. McMillen of Carnegie.

Arm Ground Off.

Oscar Inson, living in Washington avenue, Braddock, employed about the metal mixer at the Carnegie blast furnaces at Braddock, had his left arm crushed off last night. He was working in the pit, over which the cars filled with molten metal run, when he attempted to draw himself out of the pit by throwing his arm over the rail on the open top above. An engine pulling a train of loaded metal cars passed over the pit as he threw up his arm and the arm was crushed under the wheels.

WILL NOT ISSUE ANY MORE PASSES

All Roads in the Central Passenger Association Sign Agreement to Abolish Deadhead Privileges.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 21.—The executive committee of the mileage bureau of the Central Passenger association discussed the pass question at a meeting here yesterday, and today the official announcement is made that passes will be abolished January 1. The agreement is as follows:

We hereby agree that for the year 1902 we will not request or issue annual, term or trip passes.

It includes the New York Central, Michigan Central, Lake Shore, Nickel Plate, Big Four, Lake Erie & Western and Boston & Albany of the Vanderbilt system and the Pennsylvania, both east and west of Pittsburgh; Baltimore & Ohio, Vandalia, Norfolk & Western, Chesapeake & Ohio and Erie systems.

SHOT IN BATTLE WITH BURGLARS

DETECTIVE CHARLES M'GOVERN BADLY WOUNDED.

While Trying to Arrest Two Porch-Climbers Was Beaten With "Jimmy" and Shot in the Leg—Attacked From Behind, and Could Not Protect Himself—Struggle Occurred in East End.

During a desperate struggle with two porch climbers last night, in South Rebecca street, Detective Charles McGovern was shot through the calf of the right leg, and beaten on the head with a "jimmy," until he became senseless. The men then turned and walked coolly away. McGovern was removed to the Mercy hospital.

The bullet wound is not of a serious nature and, with the exception of an intense headache, he was said to be resting easily at midnight. The detectives have small clue to the identity of the thieves beyond a general description of their height and build.

For several nights past both the police and the detective force have been keeping a keen eye on that district. Two houses have been broken into, and several hundred dollars' worth of valuables stolen, within the past 10 days. Superintendent of Detectives Sol. Coulson and Superintendent of Police Philip Demmel have been working earnestly to rid that district of the night prowlers. Detectives Denniston, Shore and McGovern have been doing special duty there for the past two nights.

About 8:15 last night McGovern went down South Rebecca street, and had not gone far when he saw two men disappear in the shadow of two houses, near No. 309. He hurried after them, entered a narrow passageway, looked about the lawn in the rear but could not see anyone. Changing his tactics, he was walking quickly back toward the street, when he heard footsteps on the cinder walk behind him. He turned and in a moment was grappling with the two men.

He was taken by surprise and though he held his revolver in his overcoat pocket, could not get it out before they were on him. He fired several times, through his pocket, but the shots missed their mark. The taller of the two men was a strong fellow and weighed down on the little detective with all his strength, holding a revolver in his hand at the same time.

At one time the plucky detective nearly threw him, but was stunned by the blows of a "jimmy," in the hands of the second man. The taller fellow told his companion to strike hard and fast. McGovern still struggled and would probably have knocked the gun out of the thief's hands, but for the blows of the "jimmy. Suddenly the tall man's revolver went off, the ball entering McGovern's leg. It is not positively known whether he shot intentionally, or the gun exploded during the struggle.

Several of the detectives lean to the opinion that it exploded, believing that the robber would have had a deadly aim if the shot had been intentional. Detective McGovern is not quite certain himself that the man shot him. He was carried into a neighboring house and attended until his removal to the Mercy hospital.

BAPTIST UNION MEETS.

Good Progress in Mission Work Shown For Last Year.

The 10th annual meeting of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Baptist union was held last night in the Fourth Avenue church. The annual reports showed that three missions under its care became churches during the year: Bellevue in December, 1900; Homewood in October, 1901, and Crafton-Ingram in November, 1901. Expenditures of $1,598.34 during the year left a balance in the treasury of $201.29.

The missions now under the care of the union are as follows: Lawrenceville, under charge of the Shady Avenue church; Duquesne Heights, Mt. Washington; Cobden Street, Union; Troy Hill, First German, Allegheny; Hazelwood—Glenwood and Logan Avenue, under charge of the Fourth Avenue church.

After the report was read the Rev. C. A. Eaton of Cleveland, O., was introduced. He commended the good work of the union and spoke at length upon "Soul Winning as the Chief Business of the Christian."

Miners Reported on Strike.

KNOXVILLE, TENN., Nov. 21.—A special from Coal Creek says 100 miners employed by the Knoxville Iron Company in the Cross Mountain coal mines went on strike today. It is said that the men claim that some of their number were discharged because they joined a mine workers' union recently organized. The officials of the company in Knoxville will not confirm the reported strike, but say the miners have been threatening to strike for several days. They deny that men were discharged because they joined the union.

Chinese Funeral Today.

The body of a Chinaman, named Ho Jim Lung, who killed himself in Wheeling Tuesday morning by taking opium and gas, was brought here yesterday and will be buried today with all the odd ceremony of the Celestial ritual. The body lay all day yesterday in the home of Wu Ting Fang, in Grant street, and was the recipient of numerous offerings of money, trinkets and other valuables.

FUNDS ASKED FOR COLLEGES

PRESBYTERIANS OF PITTSBURGH CALLED ON FOR $1,746,500.

Pleaded for Large Endowments at Banquet at Hotel Schenley. Washington and Jefferson, Grove City, Pennsylvania College for Women and Western Theological Seminary Make Large Demands.

The Presbyterian laymen of Pittsburgh were treated to no little surprise at the banquet given at the Hotel Schenley last night by Messrs. James I. Buchanan, Robert Pitcairn, vice moderator of the Presbyterian general assembly, Charles E. Speer, and Samuel P. Harbison, in honor of the Rev. Dr. Henry C. Minton, present moderator of the Presbyterian general assembly, when college presidents from western Pennsylvania and Pittsburgh clergymen asked for total funds for their several institutions amounting to $1,746,500.

Following are the amounts asked: The Rev. James D. Moffat, president of Washington and Jefferson college, $1,000,000; the Rev. Dr. Isaac C. Ketler, president of Grove City college, $280,000 in endowments, and $30,000 in subscriptions for the erection of new buildings; the Rev. Dr. Chalmers Martin, president of the Pennsylvania College for Women, $250,000; the Rev. Dr. Richard S. Holmes, $14,000 for the New York Presbyterian building; the Rev. Dr. William L. McEwan, $2,500 for the work among the foreign population in Pittsburgh, and the Rev. Dr. D. S. Kennedy, $200,000 for the Western Theological seminary.

The banquet was held in the ball room of the Schenley, which was tastily decorated for the occasion with cut flowers, chrysanthemums and evergreens. About 175 prominent ministers and laymen of Pittsburgh and vicinity were seated at the tables. The banquet began at 8 o'clock and two hours later the first speaker of the evening, the Rev. Dr. Henry C. Minton, the guest of honor, was called by Toastmaster Robert Pitcairn.

His address was mainly of the work being done by Presbyterians in western Pennsylvania. He said in part: "I assure you, gentlemen, it is a rare pleasure to be here with you tonight. It is an honor to be with any Pittsburgh gathering, and especially with one at home. This I may call home. Within a few miles of Pittsburgh I was born and educated. When the prodigal returns to his old home he finds many changes, especially in the church. The churches in this section have grown and prospered very greatly. This growth of the city churches has been a drawback to the smaller country organizations. In Washington, my native county, the congregation of which I was a member—Upper Ten Mile—has decreased greatly in membership, in the last few years, and has gradually grown weaker. Farming in western Pennsylvania is a flat failure, to what it was 25 years ago. Pittsburgh as a manufacturing city is taking the first place in this country and you are getting all the people centered here. On my return here I see more familiar faces and many foreigners. Pittsburgh is the old Presbyterian center of Pennsylvania."

"Presbyterianism has left very distinct impressions in this country. While in Princeton yesterday I noticed an account in the newspapers of a gift of $50,000 to the Western Theological seminary by Mr. Samuel P. Harbison. I voice the whole sentiment of the Presbyterian church when I say that this gift is deeply appreciated."

The requests for funds will be considered by the Presbyterian church laymen, but no contributions were made last night.

RATES GO UP IN THE DOWN TOWN

Fire Underwriters Make a Flat Increase of Twenty Cents a Hundred.

OTHER ADVANCES LIKELY TO FOLLOW

The Demands of Eastern Insurance Men, After Long Investigation of Local Conditions, Led to the Action.

At a meeting of the board of fire underwriters of Pittsburgh, held yesterday afternoon, a flat increase of 20 cents a $100 was placed on all insurance in the "congested district" except for buildings of three stories or under. This district is bounded by Grant street, Seventh avenue, New Grant street, Liberty avenue, Eleventh street, and the two rivers.

This action was the result of pressure from the big insurance companies of the east. The Eastern Union, composed of the higher officers of the insurance companies in New York, the New England and the middle Atlantic states practically controls the insurance business of the country. For several months this association has been greatly dissatisfied with insurance conditions in Pittsburgh and has from time to time recommended that the local underwriters secure some changes.

A few weeks ago W. D. McGill, fire marshal of the Pittsburgh district, with a committee of the local underwriters, called upon Recorder A. M. Brown, to discuss the situation. Directors Bigelow and Fulton were present at the conference. The committee presented demands for larger water mains, more hydrants and more water in the congested district.

They asked that the city be gridironed with new water pipes, especially in the downtown section, where the pipes are so old and rusted as to make them unable to withstand a heavy pressure.

Objected to Low Pressure.

The new 36-inch water main that extends practically around the city is secure, but at the corner of Wood and Diamond streets the pressure is only 40 pounds, and other danger spots nearby are no better protected. The committee was promised everything possible by the administration, but was told that until new appropriations were made next February, the city would have no money to increase the fire-fighting facilities.

Last week what is known as the committee on larger cities came to Pittsburgh to investigate the situation. It was composed of E. O. Weeks, vice president of the Aetna; Edward Milligan, secretary of the Phoenix of Hartford; A. H. Wray, United States manager of the Commercial Union; Charles G. Smith, secretary of the German-American of New York; R. Emory Warfield, assistant manager of the Royal of England, at Philadelphia; A. W. Damon, president of the Springfield Fire and Marine; Thomas Turnbull, assistant secretary of the Hartford Fire, and B. R. Stillman, secretary of the National of Hartford.

They went over the ground with the local men, discussed important questions and then went east.

This week a copy of their report to the Eastern Union came to Pittsburgh and it was to consider this that the underwriters met yesterday.

It was found that the eastern committee has modified its views considerably, but still suggested many changes. The local underwriters after a careful discussion of the situation finally agreed upon the following changes:

A pink slip will be placed upon all policies calling for an increase of 20 cents a $100 on both buildings and stocks, to be paid until such time as the city provides larger water mains, more fire hydrants, and more water for the congested district.

New Fireproof Schedule.

It was decided also to make a new schedule for fireproof buildings, such as the office buildings now up or in course of construction, and to take all power buildings out of the mercantile schedule. Heretofore there have been scheduled rates for power buildings, but from this time special scheduled rates will be made for each building of this class, the rate to be regulated according to the tenants and the nature of their business.

The length of policies to be written on such buildings was reduced to one year instead of three years, as has been allowed heretofore.

For some time there has been more or less trouble in writing Pittsburgh risks. Eastern companies that formerly accepted policies of $10,000 on down-town property have reduced their lines to $2,500, and in some cases to $1,500. On this account local underwriters have been unable to place the business that their customers offered and say they took this step for the good of all concerned.

No increase was made yesterday in the rates on insurance outside of the congested district. Certain suggestions were offered, to be acted upon soon, will, it is understood, increase rates all over the city.

The amount of the increase outside of the congested district will be determined, it is said, by what is known as co-insurance—i. e., if property owners will insure on a large per cent, 80 or more, of their valuation they will receive a good discount off the rates.

Ordinances Passed.

Allegheny common council met last night and passed the following ordinances: Changing grades on Delaware street, Arch street, Arch street extension, Oak Grove avenue, Kansas alley, Woodland Terrace, Orleans street, Nevada street, Fremont street, Davis avenue, Viola street, Woods Run avenue and Langtry street.

The following ordinances passed by the select council were: Amendments rectifying an error in the bond ordinances, authorizing the settlement of the city's claim against the Pittsburgh & Western railway at $16,000, constructing sewers on Burgess, Buena Vista and Filbert streets; repaving North avenue, Lane alley and Taggart street; authorizing the purchase of additional lamps, engines and boilers for the bureau of water; granting the Pittsburgh & Allegheny Telephone Company permission to string its wires on city poles.

The bribery investigation matter was not touched on at all.

SUPPOSED PITTSBURGH MAN IS KILLED AT PORT HURON, MICH.

Coroner of St. Clair County Writes to Allegheny Man Asking Him to Help Identify Remains Found on Grand Trunk Railroad Tracks. May Have Been Gustave Hanel, but Name Is not in Directory.

Albert A. Falk, coroner of St. Clair county, Michigan, has written under a Port Huron date to J. Henry Long, an Allegheny undertaker, requesting him to help in the identification of a man, supposed to belong in Pittsburgh or vicinity, who was killed on the Grand Trunk railroad, near Fort Huron, September 4. His letter and description is as follows:

"Dear Sir: On September 4, 1901, I was called to a small town 12 miles from here, as coroner, to look after a man that had been killed on the Grand Trunk railroad. I found a card in his pocket with the name of Gustave Hanel on it which he had secured from an employment office in Chicago. I wrote the Chicago office, but could get no information, further than that they had sent him to Imlay City to work. It is my opinion that after he secured his railroad ticket to Imlay City he at once started for home, which I think is somewhere in Pennsylvania, possibly in Pittsburgh. He had a memorandum book which bore the name "Jackson's clothiers and tailors, Liberty avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa.," also has a hat marked with the name of some city in Pennsylvania. He was a man about 5 feet 5 inches in height, weighed 150 pounds; grey eyes, light grey hair, sandy mustache, brown check suit. He wore No. 9 shoes, grey stockings, purple undershirt, blue drawers, black Fedora hat, size 6¾. He had some money in his pockets, and was well dressed."

The name of Gustave Hanel does not appear in the city directory.

CHINESE EXCLUSION URGED.

San Francisco Citizens Will Present a Memorial to Congress Urging Re-Enactment of Statute.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—A state convention of 1,500 delegates from all parts of the state, assembled in this city today to inaugurate a movement in favor of the re-enactment by congress of the present Chinese exclusion law, which will expire next May. Former Congressman T. J. Geary, the author of the present restriction act, was chairman of the convention.

The principal result of the convention will be the adoption of a memorial to congress, urging the re-enactment of the present law without modification, and the appointment of a delegation to do propaganda work in the east. There is some sentiment in favor of extending the restriction to Japanese.

Telegrams have been received from the governors of Washington, Nevada and Oregon stating that the sentiment of their respective states favors a continuance of the exclusion of Chinese and expresses sympathy with the objects of the convention.

FOUR KILLED IN ALABAMA.

Fatal Head-On Collision of Two Freight Trains—Seven Men Were Injured.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., Nov. 21.—Four trainmen were killed and seven injured in a head-end collision today between two Louisville & Nashville freight trains at Hughes siding, seven miles from this city.

The dead are: T. A. Cogbill, engineer; J. C. Rittenberry, conductor; William Bell (colored), brakeman; Anderson Irving (colored), fireman.

The injured are: M. H. Everin, engineer; W. F. Shannon, conductor; C. Shannon, flagman; W. H. Hughes, coal inspector; Preston Pearce (colored), fireman; Frank Fancher (colored), brakeman; Robert Christian (colored), brakeman.

The two trains came together with a terrible shock. Traffic was delayed five hours.

Thousands of Women Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

To Prove What the Great Kidney Remedy, SWAMP-ROOT, Will Do for YOU, Every Reader of The Gazette May Have a Sample Bottle Free.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Troubles.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work. So when your kidneys are weak or out of order you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected, and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the famous new discovery, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

Many women suffer untold misery because the nature of their disease is not correctly understood; in most cases they are led to believe that womb trouble or female weakness of some sort is responsible for their many ills, when, in fact, disordered kidneys are the chief cause of their distressing troubles.

Neuralgia, nervousness, headache, puffy or dark circles under the eyes, dizziness, a dragging pain or dull ache in the back, weakness or hearing down sensation, profuse or scanty supply of urine, with strong odor, frequent desire to pass it night or day, a scalding or burning sensation—these are all unmistakable signs of kidney and bladder trouble.

If there is any doubt in your mind as to your condition, take from your urine on rising about four ounces, place it in a glass or bottle and let it stand two or four hours. If on examination it is milky or cloudy, if there is a brick-dust sediment, or if small particles float about in it, your kidneys are in need of immediate attention.

Other symptoms showing that you need Swamp-Root are sleeplessness, dizziness, irregular heart, shortness of breath, sallow, unhealthy complexion, pimply of ambition but no strength.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is used in the leading hospitals, recommended by physicians in their private practice and is taken by doctors themselves, because they recognize in it the greatest and most successful remedy that science has ever been able to compound.

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one dollar bottles at the drug stores everywhere.

Swamp-Root So Pleasant to Take.

"You have no idea how well I feel. I am satisfied that I do not need any more medicine, as I am in as good health as I ever was in my life." So says Mrs. Mary Engelhard of 2805 Madison street, St. Louis, Mo., to a reporter of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

"For more than ten years I suffered with what the doctors termed female weakness, also heart trouble, with swelling of the feet and limbs. Last summer I felt so badly that I thought I had not long to live. I consulted doctor after doctor and took their medicine, but felt no better. A friend recommended me to try Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and I must say I derived immense benefit almost from the first week I continued the medicine, taking it regularly, and I am now in splendid health. The pains and aches have all gone. I have recommended Swamp-Root to all my friends and told them what it has done for me. I will gladly answer any one who desires to write me regarding my case. I most heartily indorse Swamp-Root from every standpoint. There is such a pleasant taste to Swamp-Root, and it goes right to the weak spots and drives them out of the system."

Mrs. Mary Engelhard

Made a New Woman of Me.

"During three years I was frequently attacked with severe spells of sickness; many of these sick spells kept me in bed, dangerously ill, from three weeks to three months, under the constant care of the best physicians of Kansas City. The doctors never told me I had anything the matter of my kidneys, but I did not know for sure.

Some doctors pronounced my case gall stones, and said I could not live without a surgical operation, to which I would never consent. A friend suggested I try Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. I began to take Swamp-Root regularly, and when I had used only three fifty-cent bottles I felt fine and was able to do more work than I had done in four years. It has made a new woman of me. I have had only one slight attack since I began to take Swamp-Root, and that was caused by being drenched with rain and catching cold. Stomach trouble had bothered me for years and had become chronic. I am now 44 years of age and feel much younger than I did ten years ago. I freely give this testimonial for the benefit of those who have suffered as I have."

TWO INSURGENT GENERALS LOST

Drowned by Capizing of an Open Boat While Going to Capture Colon.

A SCHEME TO CATCH THE PINZON SPOILED

Rebel Victors Behaving Well, Since United States Marines Are Still On Shore—Revolutionists Claim More Than Half of the Railroad.

(SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.)
(Copyright, 1901, by the New York Herald Co.)

COLON, COLOMBIA, Nov. 21.—It developed today that the revolutionists lost two generals by drowning before Colon was captured.

The correspondent of The Gazette was informed today by Col. Barrera, the revolutionary leader, that Gens. Pattino and Cortissoz, who were respectively first and second in command of the attacking insurgent force, left Tatun, which is six miles from here, on Tuesday evening in a small boat for this port. It was a very dark night and their boat capsized in the river. Gen. Pattino, who was wounded in one arm, endeavored to save Gen. Cortissoz, who could not swim, and both men were drowned. The deaths of these two leaders are regarded as a great blow to the Liberal party.

It is reported that more than 12 men were killed in the attack on Colon. The exact number has not been ascertained. The insurgents have released several prisoners.

While Colon was being captured by the insurgents the Colombian warship General Pinzon, with scarcely any coal on board, sailed away with the alcalde and other officers of the city. It is said part of the plan of the attacking force was to capture the General Pinzon.

Remingtons Deadlier Than Mausers.

Both sides in the battle used Remingtons and Mausers. The Remingtons caused the higher death rate. A Liberal lieutenant who was shot in the back with a Mauser bullet is reported to be doing well.

No immediate attack on Panama is contemplated. Col. Parrera is awaiting the arrival at Colon of the Liberal chief, Domingo Diaz, who is expected in a day or two. When Diaz reaches this city definite plans will be formulated.

Since United States marines from the gunboat Machias are still guarding railroad property, the Colombian revolutionists who surprised and captured the town are behaving well and not interfering in any way with the local government.

Two hundred revolutionists are at the Tatu station under command of Gen. Zaidana. The insurgents say they are in possession of all the railroad stations between Colon and Lascascades, or more than half way across the isthmus.

Residents of Colon, generally speaking, are not antagonistic to the Liberal, or revolutionist party. There is no pan-feeling here, but it is realized that the condition of affairs permitting the insurgents to hold Colon and the government to remain in possession of Panama cannot continue long.

The United States gunboat Machias is the only warship in this port, the French cruiser having left. It is said the gunboat Marietta, which sailed from Key West November 18, has been signaled.

Not Much Money Found.

The treasury safe was opened this afternoon in the presence of witnesses. It was found to contain 1,080 Colombian dollars, equivalent to $450 gold. The former postmaster also handed over to the liberals the cases and the postage stamps in his possession. The municipal offices in charge of the liberals will probably be opened tomorrow.

Col. Barrera has informed Col. Shaker, superintendent of the Panama railroad today that all foreign property here would be protected.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—Formal appeal was made to Secretary Hay today by Mr. Herran, Colombian charge d'affaires, that the United States observe its treaty stipulations by maintaining free, uninterrupted communication across the isthmus of Panama. In reply to this representation Secretary Hay gave assurances to Mr. Herran that the United States will permit no interruption of traffice.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Gonzales Esteves, consul general of Venezuela at New York, received this cable dispatch today from Tores Cardenas at Caracas, general secretary of the republic: "The revolution headed by Gen. Matos, which was ready to break out, has been crushed and its leaders are now in jail. The country enjoys peace."

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 21.—Gen. Pedro Ospina and Gen. Holguin, the former minister of war of Colombia and the later formerly finance minister, have arrived here to confer with Gen. Reyes, a member of the Pan-American congress. It is understood they will offer him the presidency of Colombia, assuring him that his taking office will bring peace to his country.

UNDER MARTIAL LAW.

Chinese City of Tien Tsin Is Still Governed by the Military Authorities.

PEKIN, Nov. 21.—The military government established over the native city of Tien Tsin continues in effect, the military commanders refusing to yield the collection of taxes to the Chinese. They also decline to submit the question of their control of the native city to the ministers of the foreign powers here, holding that a continuance of the military government is vital to the maintenance of communication between Pekin and Taku.

The ministers apparently regard the question as within their jurisdiction and some of them are of the opinion that it is impossible, under the terms of the protocol, for foreigners to continue to govern Tien Tsin.

Corea has secured the premises in Pekin long occupied by the United States legation and will take possession thereof at the expiration of the American lease next spring.

Germany Still Maintains Slavery.

A BRITISH SCIENTIST NOW STANDING UP FOR THE DIVINING ROD

He Says the Virtue Is Not in the Hazel Stick, but in the Human Nerve.

SECRETS OF TELEPATHY

(SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.)

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Aristocratic nerve finders have conclusively established the genuineness of the divining rod, according to Sir T. Landor Brunton, F. R. S., this afternoon, in his report of the recent investigations of the Medico-Psychological association.

"Two exquisitely sensitive ladies of the English aristocracy have conducted experiments which demonstrated that the divining rod may be a perfectly reliable implement for detetrmining the presence of water beneath the surface of the earth," says the report. "The experiments illustrate only simple natural phenomena and do not indicate marvelous qualities either in the person using the witch-hazel or in the plant itself. When the divining rod dips toward the earth above a vein of water, it merely amplifies and renders visible an involuntary muscular action produced in the experimenter by the influence of water.

"Very many delicately organized persons feel the approach of a thunder storm long before it arrives. Meteorological changes might be easily foretold by the movement of an instrument constructed and adjusted to record muscular agitation resulting from the imminence of such changes. This would be thoroughly scientific application of the principle of the divining rod.

"The camel in the desert unerringly detects the presence of water miles distant. Why may not a human organism involuntarily detect its presence a few feet away and impress the fact upon a divining rod? The effect of the proximity of water upon the sensory nerve fibers of a human being is not more strange than the cracking of chairs and tables under the influence of moisture."

Sir T. Landor is not yet ready to commit himself on the subject, but suggests that telepathy may be shortly discovered to be a form of intellectual wireless telegraphy. He thinks all the problem needs is a metaphysical Tesla or Marconi. Thought transference is too common to go unstudied.

"An English mother," said he, "wife of a respected physician, dreamed that her son in the Crimea was shot in the foot. Weeks later an officer returned and informed the mother that the boy had been shot in the right foot.

"'You make a mistake,' said she, 'the left foot.'

"It developed that the woman was right and the officer wrong, although the woman's knowledge came from a dream.

"History and experience both are full of similiar incidents, and they cannot all be put down to chance. It is not impossible that two persons are sometimes so mutually attuned to each other that one acts as a sender and the other as a receiver, thus realizing the startling phenomenon of a human telephone."

FRENCH MINERS ON STRIKE.

Nearly Five Thousand Men in the Department of the North Have Already Stopped Work.

PARIS, Nov. 21.—The situation in the mining centers of France is again approaching a climax. The next day or two will see a definite decision upon the question of a general strike. It now appears unlikely that the commission will satisfy these demands, and the extreme partisans are endeavoring to force the hand of the federation officials in favor of a strike.

The situation at present is that 4,300 out of the 15,000 miners in the department of the north have struck and that about 1,000 have gone on strike in the adjacent pits of the Pas de Calais district. The movement is spreading in the department of the north and it is asserted that all the miners there will cease work tomorrow.

Thus far complete order prevails; but an imposing force of gendarmes, infantry and cavalry has been billeted in every coal field to cope with any disorder.

BRITISH SHIP IN PERIL.

Runs Aground in a Storm Off the Coast of Jamaica.

(SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.)
(Copyright, 1901, by the New York Herald Co.)

PORT ANTONIO, JAMAICA, Nov. 21.—The British steamer Ethelred, with a general cargo consigned to the United Fruit Company, is hard aground on the rocks at Galena Point. She struck last night while running at full speed in charge of a pilot at the spot where the Schleswig was recently wrecked. Her stern is in deep water. The steamers Leon and America, now in this port, are going to her assistance.

The weather has been very murky for several days and torrential rains have been falling. Northeast winds have been blowing with great violence and several inland villages have been flooded. Fear is entertained that the Ethelred will not be saved.

NO CONCESSIONS GRANTED.

Viceroy of Kwang-Tung Told to Defend Boundaries and Allow No Foreign Encroachments.

HONG KONG, Nov. 22.—The rumored death of Tao Mu, viceroy of Kwang-Tung and Kwang-Si, is denied. It is now said the viceroy has resigned owing to the empress of China having refused to allow him to grant a concession on Honan island (opposite Canton) to certain foreigners, presumably on application made by the American, German, French and Japanese consuls.

The court, telegraphing the viceroy in reply to his request to grant this concession, said: "Defend the boundaries. Those are your orders."

NO INVASION OF CHILE.

Dispute With Argentina Reaching a Friendly Settlement.

(SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.)
(Copyright, 1901, by the New York Herald Co.)

VALPARAISO, CHILE, Nov. 21.—In discussing alarmist rumors from Buenos Ayres, Argentina, regarding the pathways in the territory under dispute between that republic and Chile, the Mercurio asserts editorially today that the controversy is amicably and calmly reaching a settlement.

The Argentine minister of foreign affairs has assured the Chilean government that troops of Argentina neither occupied the disputed territory nor invaded Chile.

Iglesias Out on Bail.

SAN JUAN, PORTO RICO, Nov. 21.—Santiago Iglesias, the agent of the American Federation of Labor who was arrested here about a fortnight ago on a charge of conspiracy, has been released on $500 bail. The bail was furnished by Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor. Iglesias will be tried December 2.

Queen Draga's Death Denied.

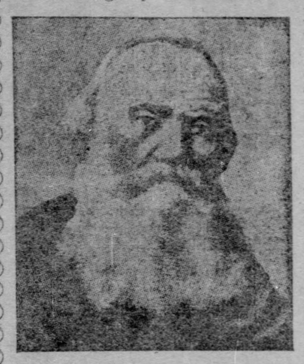
VIENNA, Nov. 21.—(Special.)—A statement from a Servian official says that there is no truth in the rumor that Queen Draga has been assassinated. The statement says that the report is the outcome of a violent quarrel between the queen and King Alexander.

DEATH OF TOLSTOI RUMORED.

All Efforts to Confirm the Report are Unavailing, but it Is Known His Health Was Feeble—Czar's Neglect Hurt Him.

(SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.)

LONDON, Nov. 21.—An unconfirmed dispatch from St. Petersburg says Count Tolstoi is dead. All efforts to secure a positive statement in regard to the rumor have failed.



COUNT LEO TOLSTOI.

It is known, however, that Tolstoi has been in ill-health ever since his excommunication a year ago, and constant reports have said the great Russian author was slowly pining away. In fact, occasional correspondents have declared that the action of the holy synod in placing him within the ban was directly responsible for his feebleness and would ultimately be responsible for his death.

The fact that the czar, whom Tolstoi had considered his warm friend, did not stand between him and excommunication, depressed him more than the fact itself.

ANGLO-GERMAN CLASH IMMINENT

English Papers Are Finally Forced to Admit That the Situation Is Serious.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—The fact that the anti-Chamberlain agitation in Germany has at last extracted a semi-official expression of approval from the North German Gazette has had the effect of convincing the British press that the situation is becoming serious. Heretofore there had been a disposition to disregard and belittle the influence of the agitation. Now the papers are taking trouble to explain that Mr. Chamberlain's words were not intended to insult or offend Germany.

"The temper of the German public is dangerous," says the Morning Post, "and it behooves our people to be on their guard. The Germans appear to regard Great Britain as covetous, rapacious and barbarous. From the belief to the corollary that a barbarous nation ought to be suppressed is a short and easy step."

The Daily News remarks: "Mr. Chamberlain, as the French say, 'costs dear.' The new imperialism which was to strengthen our position in the world has left us without a friend. America cannot supply what we have lost in Europe for the German, Dutch and Irish elements in that great community are today more hostile than they were during the Venezuelan trouble."

The Daily Chronicle, which admits that the agitation is "the outcome of misrepresentation of Mr. Chamberlain's ill-judged and ill-timed remarks," says: "This does not diminish the gravity of the situation. it is a serious thought that Lord Salisbury's self-congratulation at the guild hall at the correct attitude of the great powers is beginning to be falsified." Referring then to "the scurrilous attacks made by the German press," the Daily Chronicle concludes as follows: "Unless the authorities restrain the unlicensed abuse of England in the German press we fail to see how this country can much longer ignore these accumulated insults."

The Standard and the Daily Telegraph are much less serious in tone, but they recognize that "such agitations, even when artificial, are not always harmless, and it is a good thing that the relations between the two governments are so friendly and that Queen Victoria's blood runs in the kaiser's veins."

All the papers publish long specials from Berlin describing the public feeling and agreeing that the article in the North German Gazette is a proof that the German government is altogether powerless to stem the agitation, which is intended, if possible to force Count von Buelow into some anti-British pronouncement.

The Times, defending Mr. Chamberlain against German attacks, says: "We must beg to remind the Germans that we claim an equal right to guard our own honor and to resent accusations founded upon the most hateful and poisonous calumnies disseminated with a deliberate persistence inexplicable in a friendly community. We hope the German people and government will understand that the British nation will not acquiesce in any impeachment of the honor of our gallant soldiers, which is as dear to us as is that of the German army to the German nation."

WOMEN IN NORWAY POLITICS.

They Go in for Destruction of All Party Organizations.

CHRISTIANA, NORWAY, Nov. 21.—(Special Cable.)—Women voters interested in the municipal elections held a mass meeting and decided to try to crush all party organizations.

The local administration has adopted a list of non-political candidates, including seven women, to contest the approaching election, and the whole political press is fighting them. In the majority of the elections in the smaller towns, already held, the women were defeated, owing to weak organization; but the outlook for the gentler sex in Christiana is brighter.

THE AMERICAN PERIL IN OLD-WORLD OPERA

German Singers Growing Old Are Persecuting a Young Yankee Artiste.

(SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.)

BERLIN, Nov. 21.—The royal opera is the latest German enterprise to protest against the "American peril," recenting a hit recently made by Geraldine Farrar, an 18-year-old Massachusetts girl, which has resulted in her securing a three-years' contract.

Several jealous prima donnas, foreseeing the possibility of superannuation, are proceeding to make Miss Farrar's position among them an unpleasant one. Middle-aged Margarita announces that she is unwilling to occupy the same stage with the American "upstart." Miss Farrar is endeavoring to be perfectly oblivious of her detractors, but they are influential and may undermine her with the management.

The incident recalls the experiences encountered by another American—Mrs. Webster Powell—last year. Despite her successful debut and admitted ability as a singer she was subjected to systematic persecution by her confreres, which resulted in her paying the management $12,000 for the privilege of cancelling her contract.

U. S. CONSUL IMPRISONED.

Case of Mistaken Identity Makes Trouble for Berlin Government.

(SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.)
(Copyright, 1901, by the New York Herald Co.)

BERLIN, Nov. 21.—Burning for justice and angry with the authorities, against whom he brings charges for false imprisonment and indignities heaped upon him, Paul Schilling, who represents the United States as vice consul at Sittau, Saxony, is in Berlin. His is one of those cases of mistaken identity which are not rare here, where the police are inclined to be over zealous. He was mistaken for a Magdeburg swindler named Matthews.

Schilling, according to his charge, was dragged from bed in the middle of the night. He showed papers of identification, but in spite of this and his protests he was dragged off to prison, where he was thoroughly searched and his money and private papers were taken away. Finally he was identified by a news company and released. He proceeded to Berlin and presented his grievance before A. D. White, the American ambassador, who will claim satisfaction.

GOSPEL TRANSLATION PRECIPITATES A RIOT AND SEVEN ARE KILLED

Students at Athens University Collide With the Greek Troops.

PREMIER WAS FIRED AT

ATHENS, Nov. 21.—The agitation against the proposal to translate the gospels into modern Greek was continued today. Twenty thousand persons assembled around the ruins of the temple of Jupiter Olympus and took part in a demonstration organized by the students. In the trouble that followed seven were killed, 30 were severely and many others slightly wounded.

A resolution was passed calling on the holy synod to excommunicate any person who translated the gospels into Greek as now spoken. Eight hundred marines were landed and co-operated with the troops in patrolling the locality. Several collisions occurred and occasional shots were fired. The students still hold the university buildings.

During the demonstrations following the assemblage several shots were fired at M. Theotokis, the Greek premier, but without effect.

During the encounters between the military and turbulent demonstrators seven persons were killed, 30 were severely and many others were slightly wounded.

Great excitement prevails tonight. Strong military detachments guard the palace and the residence of the premier. Everywhere anxious groups are discussing the situation.

Heartrending scenes occurred when the bodies of the dead were handed over to their relatives. It is rumored that armed men have arrived at the university, but the building is still guarded by the students, who are adopting military discipline. Opposition deputies paraded the streets during the day, exciting the rioters by violent language.

There were no further disturbances during the evening, but it is feared that there will be a renewal of disorder tomorrow.

Among those slightly injured are the prefect of police of Athens and the prefect of Attica.

A force of 800 marines has been landed to help maintain order. As a result of the demonstrations of the day the metropolitan has resigned office.

BRIGANDS OBDURATE.

Dickinson's Proposed Departure May Induce Them to Concede.

SOFIA, Nov. 21.—Mr. Dickinson, the diplomatic agent here of the United States, will leave Friday or Saturday of this week for Constantinople. There is obviously no prospect of a settlement with Miss Stone's abductors.

The departure of Mr. Dickinson will probably have a good effect upon the brigands who have Miss Stone in their possession, as they may fear to lose everything by not accepting Mr. Dickinson's proposals.

CRIME CHARGED TO HYPNOTISM

Witnesses Declare That a Dead Negro Robber Had Claimed He Was Absolutely in the Power of a Justice of the Peace Who Is On Trial.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

ALTOONA, PA., Nov. 21.—Hypnotic influence, developed to a degree sufficient to force a negro into arming and masking himself and assisting to hold up Paymaster Saunders of the Colonial Iron Company in daylight for $40,000, on a train at Dallas, Bedford county, was the feature of today's evidence in the trial of George B. Cooper, formerly a justice of the peace at Gaysport, Blair county, charged in the Bedford courts with train robbery.

The negro, William Fry, was a companion of Cooper's. With another, alleged to be Cooper, he boarded the train and began firing at the paymaster, demanding the money. Saunders shot Fry dead in his tracks and the other fled. He was followed and the evidence shows that footprints in the soft mud left by the fugitive fit exactly the small shoes worn by Cooper. It was testified that Cooper bought masks several days prior to the tragedy and with Fry practiced shooting at a mark in the wood. Fry had declared several times to witnesses that Cooper had him completely in his hypnotic power and he feared he would some day be forced in the commission of some crime. As Cooper is a church worker and a man of apparent means the negro was laughed at as being superstitious. The case goes to the jury tomorrow.

OVERCOATS.

When buying an overcoat something more than looks must be considered. There are overcoats a plenty at very low prices, with a sightly appearance, too, that are not worth your buying. Though their general appearance is good, they lack the backbone of quality and will not yield you service and satisfaction.

Price does not make an article cheap.

OUR OVERCOATS ARE DIFFERENT

They are not only sightly, swell in appearance and up to the minute in style, but they are good through and through. The vitals of an overcoat, the inside linings, canvas, padding, etc., are as necessary to proper wear as is the inside steel frame to the modern skyscraper building.

All these various points necessary to a perfect garment have been carefully looked after in the overcoats we show.

Our Overcoat Stock Embraces

OVERCOATS From $8.50 to $20.

In these we show the latest styles of short, medium and long coats, in Kerseys, Meltons, Vicunas, Cheviots and Friezes, in blue, black and oxford, brown and gray mixtures. Also the popular "Yoke" in almost all of the above fabrics. Silk sleeve linings in every one of them and some of the better ones lined throughout with silk.

OVERCOATS From $25 to $40.

These are made of finest domestic and imported fabrics, a class of goods usually shown only by exclusive tailors. They include the celebrated Carr's Melton, Thibets, Montagnacs and Elesians. In make and trim they can only be approached by the finest work of the custom tailor. Among the latest arrivals in these are the "Rutland," and the "Tanforan," both extremely stylish garments and exclusive with us.

Two Popular Prices in Men's Suits

MEN'S SUITS AT $15.

At $15 an elegant line of Men's Fall and Winter Suits in the latest style of plain and military cut sacks, single and double breasted, with the new, high cut vest, with and without collar. These come in fancy Cheviots, Thibets, Worsteds and Cassimere effects. The tailors' price for equal garments would be at least $22, while our price is but..... $15

MEN'S SUITS AT $22.

At $22 a superb line of finely tailored Suits, in choice effects in fancy Worsteds, novelties in striped and check Cheviots, Thibets, Clays, Serges and Unfinished Worsteds. Single and double breasted sacks of latest fashionable cut. In suits at this price we show you garments which no tailor will duplicate under $32 to $35. Our price is only..... $22

Contagious Diseases—One case of scarlet fever, three of diphtheria and eight of typhoid fever were reported to the bureau of health yesterday.

Get the Sunday Edition of The Pittsburgh Gazette. The children want to see "The Adventures of the Coon Hollow Folks" in the Colored Supplement.

Shot From Ambush—Cameron Carrell, an Italian residing at 31 Boggs avenue, is at the Homeopathic hospital suffering from a wound in the left shoulder. While walking along Boggs avenue about 7 o'clock Wednesday night he was shot from ambush.

Bad Crossing Going—Work on the tunnel under the Pennsylvania railroad, just west of Edgewood station, is almost completed. In a few days Swissvale avenue will be closed at that point. This will do away with one of the most dangerous grade crossings on the road.

Burned in Explosion—David Donaldson of Blackadore avenue was burned yesterday morning by an explosion at the American Steel & Wire Company's plant, Twenty-sixth and Smallman streets. A pot of metal exploded, spraying Donaldson about the face, body and limbs.

A Two-Day Meeting—The Rev. J. L. Griffin, the negro evangelist, will conduct a Pentecostal and Holy Ghost meeting at Carnegie hall, Allegheny, Sunday and Monday. Converts will be baptized in the Allegheny river near the Ninth Street bridge at 2 o'clock, the first afternoon.

McMurray Escapes Gallows—The sentence of George W. McMurray, Jr., sentenced to be hanged for the murder of James Rudge, was commuted to life imprisonment by the board of pardons at Harrisburg yesterday. McMurray was several times respited while under the sentence of death.

No Report Made—The committee appointed by Homestead council to investigate the charges preferred by Burgess J. Clyde Miller against the chief and captain of police did not make public the result of its investigation yesterday, as was expected. It will submit it to council at its next meeting.

Letters From Mrs. McKinley—Burgess John Brennan, W. E. Alexander and Peter Grounland, all of Braddock, yesterday received letters from Mrs. William McKinley, wife of the martyred president, acknowledging telegrams of condolence sent to her at the time of the assassination at Buffalo.

Conspiracy Is Charged—Inspector Samuel F. O'Brien of the Humane society and Mrs. Lizzie Hartley had a hearing yesterday afternoon before Alderman James Y. McMasters. They were charged with conspiring to indict Lee Carter of Verona of criminal assault. Both were held for court in $500 bail.

Lecture on Life—Prof. E. G. Conklin, professor of zoology at the University of Pennsylvania, lectured before the Academy of Science and Art in the lecture rooms of Carnegie Institute last night, his subject being "Some Recent Advances in Our Knowledge of Life." The meeting was attended by one of the largest audiences of the season.

Epidemic Feared—Residents of Whittaker, Homeville and Bellwood, in Mifflin township, fear an epidemic of scarlet fever among the children owing to the unusually large number of cases now existing. The spread of the disease is attributed to the lax methods in the schools, and the matter will be brought to the attention of the school board.

New Lions at the Zoo—Sayda and Sultan, two of the big lions at the Highland park zoo, are receiving congratulations over the addition of a handsome set of triplets to their family. Sayda, the mother, is now 7 years old. This is her fourth litter since February, 1899. Her offspring now number 16. No names have yet been given the young ones, but some local politicians are threatened with the honor.

Investigating Discharge—The officials of the American Flint Glass Workers' union are making an investigation of the causes that led to the discharge of several employes of the Morgantown Glass Company and the closing of the plant. Vice President T. R. Rowe went to Morgantown last night to inquire into the matter. It is rumored here that the factory is closed pending the reinstatement of the men.

Pastor's Installation—The Rev. W. R. Thompson will be installed as pastor of the Eleventh United Presbyterian church, West End, tonight. The Rev. Robert H. Hood will preside, the Rev. J. L. Dante will preach the sermon, the Rev. Dr. M. M. Patterson will address the pastor, and the Rev. H. H. Martin, Mr. Thompson's predecessor, will address the people. Special music will be a feature of the services.

Held on Second Charge—Gilson C. Blake, a conductor of the Pittsburgh & Birmingham Traction Company, was arrested yesterday on a second charge of knocking down fares. Blake was first arrested several days ago. The last charge covers a time from November 8 to 15, when he is alleged to have stolen 1,065 fares. He was given a hearing before Magistrate McKenna yesterday morning and held for court.

Will Burn the Mortgage—The members of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Braddock will burn their indebtedness on December 4. The debt of the church is practically lifted. At the eleventh anniversary service, held in October, the greater portion of the debt was taken up by individual members and the remainder subscribed by officials of the Edgar Thomson steel works. The mortgage will be burned.

Child's Fearful Burns—Estella Beck, the 5-year-old daughter of Mrs. Josephine Beck of Lawrence street, Millvale, was seriously burned while helping her brother to carry coal. The children used matches to give the necessary light, and one of these, falling on the floor of the shed, set fire to a piece of paper. The girl attempted to stamp out the flames, but her clothing ignited. At a late hour yesterday the child had not regained consciousness.

Engineer Promoted—Edward E. Slick, chief engineer and head of the civil engineering department of the Edgar Thomson steel works at Braddock, has been made chief engineer of all the plants of the American Steel Hoop Company, with offices in this city. The change will occur on December 1. Mr. Slick has been connected with the Edgar Thomson steel works for ten years. He was one of the twenty-three men to share in Mr. Carnegie's gift of United States Steel Corporation stock.

Found Lost Brother Dead—James Black, chief of the coal and iron police of the Homestead steel plant, who was killed by a train, was identified yesterday by his brother, J. F. Black of Lock No. 4. They had not seen each other for 30 years. Their parents died when they were small, and the family drifted apart. James had lived in Pitcairn for four years, and although his brother had frequently heard of him he never knew him to be a brother. There are five other brothers, but where they are Mr. Black does not know.

A Millionaire's Dish—Clyde Grason, A. McKnight and Robert Mossett, three colored boys, all under 14 years of age, were arrested yesterday charged with stealing pigeons in Sewickley and Edgeworth. Many specimens of carriers, tumblers and other fancy strains of the birds have been disappearing recently, and 22 valuable pigeons were taken from James Craig of Sewickley one night this week. It now develops that the birds, worth from $2 to $25 apiece, were used as material for potpie.

War on the Teamsters—The Monongahela Street Railway Company has started a vigorous campaign against all drivers of wagons who insist in blockading the company's tracks and delaying cars. Henry Jackson of Pittsburgh will be given a hearing before Justice of the Peace G. W. Giles of Homestead tonight on a warrant issued by the company for delaying traffic on Browns hill. The company says it will hereafter enter suits against all teamsters who delay its cars.

Was All in German—Ernest Hagenwald of 419 Ella street, Bloomfield, was held for court by Alderman Groetzinger yesterday on a charge of assault and battery made by his wife, Louise Hagenwald, who claimed he knocked her down and kicked her. A peculiar thing about the hearing was that everything was done in German. Both Hagenwald and his wife testified in German and were cross-examined by their attorneys in the same language. Alderman Groetzinger also administered the oath in German.

Good Method of Collection—Since the borough clerk of Homestead first tried the experiment of turning off the water on people who refused to pay up and found it to be such a success the method is now resorted to monthly, and as a result but very little water rents are outstanding in the borough. Yesterday Ordinance Officer William Schwartz was kept busy in the morning turning off the water on a large number of families and in the afternoon required assistance in again turning it on, so rapidly had the collections been made by the borough clerk.

Charged With Rifling Mail—L. Z. Cook, a mail clerk on the Allegheny Valley railroad train running between Buffalo and Pittsburgh, was arrested yesterday morning by United States Postoffice Inspectors J. B. Holtby and H. S. Morse on a charge of embezzling a letter. A decoy letter containing four marked one-dollar bills, dropped at Dunkirk, N. Y., Wednesday night by the inspectors, was found on his person. An information was made against Cook before United States Commissioner W. T. Lindsey.

Caught the Thief—William Cook of Allegheny was arrested by Inspector P. J. Kelly in Liberty street yesterday. Cook is charged with snatching a purse containing $3 from the hand of Mrs. Katherine Fenssy of 6924 Homewood avenue while the latter was riding along Penn avenue on a McKees Rocks car. Cook jumped off the car and was chased by Inspector Kelly and Conductor Charles Watts. He jumped on a Bloomfield car in Cecil alley, dropped the purse behind the motor, and then got off and ran again until caught. The purse was recovered.

To Honor Dead Member—Common council met yesterday afternoon in special session to take action on the death of Thomas J. McTighe. M. G. Leslie, W. A. Magee, Thomas Delaney, John J. Hughes and E. F. Rusch were appointed a committee on resolutions, with instructions to report at the regular meeting of council next Monday. Messrs. Delaney, Donley, Hughes, Rusch, Rogers, Sheehan, Stockdale, Walls and Zenger were appointed a committee to attend the funeral Saturday morning. The city clerk was instructed to provide a fitting floral emblem.

Body Was Burned in Wreck—R. J. Steenson, a plumber of Allegheny, was injured and the body of Miss Blanche Thompson of this city was burned in a wreck on the Santa Fe railroad late Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Steenson was returning from California. Miss Thompson died at Oakland, Cal., Saturday at the home of her uncle, H. H. Gribben. The casket containing her body was placed in the baggage car, which took fire after the wreck and was consumed. Miss Thompson resided with her grandmother, Mrs. Ellen Thompson, of No. 335 Princeton place.

Puddlers Get an Advance—As the start in a wage increase among iron and steel workers in Pittsburgh and the Mahoning and Shenango districts the employes of 14 furnaces in the puddling department of Howe, Brown & Co.'s mill were this week notified of an advance. The wages on the change for puddling common iron will be $5 75 for each ton of 2,240, which will make the puddlers' wages about $6 41, on a basis of five heats of 500 pounds each constituting a day's work. This is the first mill to be notified of an increase, but others are expecting word daily.

Ordinance Returned—The sub-committee of the public works committee of councils met yesterday and decided to return the ordinance for the widening of South Tenth street to councils with a negative recommendation. The ordinance was intended to make way for the new bridge. It took a piece on the west side occupied by the A. Garrison foundry. On the east side there is an alley which has never been vacated, but which is now occupied by a railroad track leading to the Oliver works. The alley and street combined give a width of 37 feet, and it is contended that that is sufficient for the bridge approach.

Will Celebrate Its Centennial—Arrangements have been completed for the celebration of the centennial of the First United Presbyterian church next Sunday. Former members will be present and will be entertained by members of the church. The Rev. Dr. William J. Reid, pastor of the church, will preach the anniversary sermon in the morning on "The Towers of Zion." At night a platform meeting will be held, City Recorder A. M. Brown, an elder of the church, presiding. The first address will be made by the Rev. Dr. A. G. Wallace, on "The Scotch-Irish of Western Pennsylvania." Other addresses will be made. Arrangements have been made for a musicale on Monday night.

FOOD STOPPED IT.

Good Food Worth More Than a Gold Mine.

To find a food that will put an absolute stop to "running down" is better than finding a gold mine. Many people when they begin to run down go from one food to another and find it impossible to find a food that will stop the progress of disease. Grape-Nuts Food is the most nourishing known and will set one right if that is possible.

The experience of a Louisiana lady will be interesting. Mrs. J. H. Graham, Wallace, La., writes: "I received a severe nervous shock some years ago and from overwork gradually broke down. My food did not agree with me and I lost flesh rapidly. I changed from one kind of food to another, but was unable to stop the loss of flesh and strength.

"I do not exaggerate when I say that I finally became in reality a living skeleton. My nights were sleepless, and I was compelled to take opiates in various forms. After trying all sorts of different foods without success I finally got down to toasted bread with a little butter, and after a while this began to sour and I could not digest it. Then I took to toasted crackers and lived on them for several weeks, but kept getting weaker.

"One day I was brought knowledge of Grape-Nuts Food, and it seemed to me from the description that it was just the sort of food I could digest. I began by eating a small portion just as it comes from the package, dry, gradually increasing the amount each day, sometimes warming and adding a little butter.

"My improvement began at once, for it afforded me the nourishment that I had been starving for. No more harassing pains and indigestion. For a month I ate nothing but Grape-Nuts and a little cream and sugar. Then I got so well I could take on other kinds of food. I continued to gain flesh rapidly. Now IN am in better health than I have been in years. I still stick to Grape-Nuts because I like the food and I know of its powerful nourishing properties. My physician says that my whole trouble was the lack of power to digest food, and that no other food that he knows of would have brought me out of the trouble except Grape-Nuts.

Beauty's Blood Deep

How untrue the old adage "Beauty's Skin Deep." How many women of beautiful features marred by impure blood try in vain to get a pure complexion by doctoring the skin. The quickest, surest, only way to beauty is to cleanse the blood.

"I have been taking Cascarets for pimples and have been greatly benefited."—Miss Gertrude Grant, Cambridge, Mass.

"I am very well pleased with Cascarets. They are fine for the complexion."—Miss Catharine C. Coffman, S. English, Ia.

"Cascarets will clear the complexion of boils, pimples and blackheads caused by impure blood."—A. E. Griffin, M. D., Stubblefield, Texas.

"Cascarets have done a great deal of good for me and for all our family."—Miss Florence Cook, Webster City, Ia.

"I must add my testimonial to your valuable medicine Cascarets for stomach trouble."—Irene Ackerman (famous singer), 38 West Fifteenth Street, New York.

"I was suffering with sick headaches a great deal, but after taking a box of Cascarets, am entirely cured."—Miss Clara Schimmel, 20 So. Sandusky Street, Delaware, Ohio.

"Cascarets did me a world of good. My liver was in bad condition for some time and one box cured me."—Miss Mabel Allen, Clare, Michigan.

How many, many young women are anaemic, pale, sickly-looking, perhaps with pimples on face and neck, owing to poor, unhealthy blood. Perhaps womanhood is approaching, that serious time of life when irregularities are liable to break down a constitution. The first rule for purifying and enriching the blood is to keep the bowels free and natural, gently but positively, without nervous shock, and Cascarets Candy Cathartic is the only medicine to do it.

Removal of Recorder Brown.

Gov. William A. Stone, without notice and without a hearing, has removed Hon. A. M. Brown from the recordership of the city of Pittsburgh, to which place this same governor appointed him scarcely six months ago. The new appointee is one who is part and parcel of the disreputable ring which controlled this city for years. His appointment is a complete surrender on the part of the governor of all that the new charter stands for.

What the consideration is to the governor for this extraordinary breach of faith to the people of this city does not fully appear. Many surmises are heard as to his motive, some worse than others, but all of them bad. The explanation he himself gives will not endure a moment's scrutiny. It is to the effect that according to his construction of the act the appointed recorder had no right to assume the rights and duties of an elected recorder, and hence should have refrained from making any changes in the offices. The plain language of the act itself is quite to the contrary. Section 2 of Article XX. of the act says:

> The city recorders so appointed by the governor, and their successors so appointed, shall have the right and power to remove from office:
> Director of department of public safety.
> Director of department of public works.
> Director of department of charities and corrections.
> The collector of delinquent taxes.
> City solicitor.
> Members of the sinking fund commission.
> Members of the board of assessors.

Not only was the appointed recorder specifically authorized to make these removals, but he was further released from restraints imposed upon an elected recorder. Section 3 of Article XX. provides that the confirmation by the select council of appointments by the city recorder "shall not apply to those made by the persons appointed as city recorders." Instead of the powers of the appointed recorder being weaker than those of an elected recorder the act made them stronger.

In the legislature the fight was solely on and about the ripper clause. The opposition would have gladly conceded all but that. But the governor and his cabinet wouldn't have it that way. They raised the "fiery cross" and in its name summoned the stalwarts from all over the state to the battle which was to result as they promised in making the Pittsburgh ring a "hideous nightmare of the past" and give the people of Pittsburgh a taste of what was decent in politics.

But from the first there were indications of an ulterior object on the governor's part. The new charter was intended by the people of this city as a measure in the interest of reform in city government. The bill had no sooner been introduced than its reform features began to be eliminated, not by the members of the legislature as a result of discussion, but by the pen of William A. Stone. He and he alone, without consultation with and against the protests of the friends of good government, made changes, each of which stripped the bill of some good feature.

It is true that he denied to the representatives of the chamber of commerce that he made the changes. But what he said or will say on that subject, or for that matter on any other, is entitled to no credence whatever. He and he alone cut out the provision for the election of select councilmen on a general ticket, inserted a provision that the governor's appointee to the office of recorder should be eligible to election as his own successor, struck out the provision making vacant the seats of all councilmen then holding city or county offices or employments, and put into the bill the unnecessary provision to continue the office of delinquent tax collector, which office had been abolished by the bill because its enormous fees were burdensome to the people and a well-known source of corruption as well. Why he forced these changes was a mystery at the time, but subsequent developments throw light on why he interfered with what was none of his business, and why he did that which no conscientious or high-minded governor of a great commonwealth would do, but which a greedy, selfish and cunning politician would do if he had a chance.

No sooner had the bill passed than there began the midnight plottings and gum-shoe conferences between Mr. Stone and the men who had fought the bill at its every stage and who the stalwarts had been promised were to be eliminated from politics.

The result is now before the people. The governor's scheming with the enemy and his juggling with the government of this city have reached the end of the first stage by the return to power of the insurgent element and the throwing to the winds of all his pledges.

The one decent thing that he did in all this disreputable business was what he yesterday undid, that is, the appointment of a worthy and upright citizen to the office of recorder. Maj. Brown retires from the office as he took up its duties, with the confidence and respect of the people. He assumed the office for the public good with a promise from Gov. Stone that he should be absolutely untrammeled. He leaves it with the applause of the people because he could not be made a tool of Gov. Stone, and could not be bought or bullied to resign.

The postscript of the governor opens up a subject which it is distasteful to discuss as regards a man occupying so high and honorable a position. The matter mentioned is one to be settled by those immediately concerned. As to the governor's part in this whole disgraceful business, there can be but one opinion. Gov. Stone, on a recent occasion, is said to have lamented the fact that so many of his predecessors had gone out of office discredited and poor. He may not leave office poor, but the historian of the future will blush as he writes the story of his shameful administration.

Roosevelt Begins Well.

No adjective is needed to qualify the Republicanism of Clayton McMichael, who was yesterday appointed postmaster of Philadelphia. In the current phrase of the day, he may be termed a regular or stalwart Republican, which is merely another way of saying he is a Republican pure and simple, true to his party and not worshiping strange gods. Mr. McMichael will succeed Thomas L. Hicks who was appointed as a Republican, but who has been misled and misguided, in ways not necessary to mention, into support of nominees for office hostile to the Republican party organization and to Republican principles. Mr. Hicks carried hostility to Republican candidates and policies so far as to make an active campaign against them, his activity being a violation of the civil service regulations and its direction involving bad faith to the party that had made it possible for him to hold a federal office. While it was not at any time assumed by his associates in the recent campaign that Mr. Hicks could be reappointed postmaster of Philadelphia, it was hoped by him and by them that a successor would be named whose appointment would at least be a quasi-indorsement of his course and a blow to the Republican organization and leaders. Instead President Roosevelt has rebuked the influences that perverted Mr. Hicks from his party fealty and has given Philadelphia a postmaster altogether worthy of the importance of the place. Mr. McMichael is a true Republican and a cultured gentleman. His ability is equal to his Republicanism and culture, and his culture is of that fine American type that touches elbow and clasps hand with every good influence of our true democracy, whether it proceed from the workman's bench or from those other workmen who find their activities in the promotion of the great enterprises of industry, commerce, education, religion or philanthropy. President Roosevelt begins well in Pennsylvania. We congratulate him.

Fire Insurance Rates.

The reason assigned by the insurance companies for an increase in the premium rate in the downtown district is the city's poor facilities for fighting fire. The insurance companies point out the need of more water mains, of larger water mains and of more fire plugs. In short, they declare the water supply to be entirely inadequate and raise their rate in consequence. This brings property owners face to face with a grave situation, but one for which a remedy can be easily found. The city officials of Pittsburgh should immediately address themselves to the subject and provide the necessary pipes and plugs. When this is done owners of property will be in a position to demand of the fire insurance companies a rate as favorable as is granted to any other city.

A Notable Centennial.

The attainment of a full century of life by any organization in so young a country as the United States, and in the more youthful section west of the Alleghenies, is worthy of notice. The First United Presbyterian church is about to celebrate its centennial, and the occasion is one of deep interest not only to the pastor and his flock, but also to the residents of Pittsburgh of other ecclesiastical convictions. They congratulate Dr. Reid and the old First church on the sturdy growth of the organization, on the immeasurable good that the congregation has done in its century of Christian work, on the occupancy of its handsome new edifice in Bellefield, a fitting structure in which to celebrate so important an anniversary, and on the bright promise of usefulness that lies before it.

The Scotch-Irish race that forms the strength of the United Presbyterian denomination has been influential in Western Pennsylvania from the earliest settlement by the white people. A feature of the celebration will be an address on this vigorous type by Dr. Wallace, and interest is added by the promise of addresses by Recorder A. M. Brown, one of the elders of the First United Presbyterian church, and by D. D. Bruce, son of the second pastor of the congregation.

An Error of Mercy.

State boards vested with the pardoning power, or rather with that of recommending pardons and commutation of sentences, were not created for the purpose of annulling the actions of juries and judges in the cases of criminals. The real object of their being is the rectification of mistakes and the exercise of clemency deserved by mitigating circumstances or later-discovered evidence. Making due allowance for errors of judgment on the part of members of the Pennsylvania board of pardons, they have not been altogether fortunate in some of their recommendations. One of the greatest surprises to which they have treated the public came yesterday, when it was announced that the board of pardons had recommended commutation to life imprisonment of the death sentence imposed upon an Allegheny county man who had been fairly tried and found guilty of murder of the first degree. The evidence at the trial was so convincing that the district attorney has said it was a more deliberate murder than that of which the Biddles were convicted. There has been no bloodthirsty clamor for the life of the man who brought upon himself the death penalty, but the opinion has been general that there is no good reason why the law should not have taken its course. In its action in this case the board of pardons has done something to weaken public confidence in the even grinding of the machinery of justice.

That At Home Feeling.

The London Standard, dealing in a recent issue with "the American invasion," pleasantly observed:

> With the best will in the world, an Englishman usually finds it a little difficult to overcome a certain insular stiffness which separates him from continental peoples, but with an American he is so soon at home that he scarcely regards him as a foreigner.

This cheerful acquiescence in conditions tends to reassure Englishmen and Americans alike concerning their relations with each other. There has undoubtedly been some feeling that Americans were crowding English manufacturers and that the crowding was resented. We really have been crowding them in the world's markets and capped the climax by underselling them even in England, by building American manufactories in England and by going in strong for English urban passenger traffic. To be assured after all this that the Englishman is "soon at home" with us whereas "a certain insular stiffness" holds him somewhat aloof from others is gratifying. Perhaps some of the credit for this feeling of Cousin John belongs to ourselves. There is no insular stiffness about Americans. They have made themselves wholly at home in England even to the point of taking possession. If, therefore, the Englishman feels at home with us in England so much the better.

The young lady who believes she has received "a call" to search for a lonely person at Homestead neglects to say whether the voice was feminine or masculine.

In Chicago they put the newspaper men in jail. In Denver they shoot them. This may be taken as illustrative of the western progress of civilization.

New York's horse show has developed what remarkable advance has been made within the past year in the style and beauty of automobile coats.

Mrs. Bonine, who is on trial for murder in Washington, is said to keep her nerve and also pay due attention to the latest styles in millinery.

The gentlemen who have been read out of the cabinet by the correspondents seem disinclined to act upon the suggestion.

The Mary E. Wilkins marriage rumor might be used as a serial with the usual ending: "Continued in our next."

Adam Brown goes, but John R. Murphy stays. Gov. Stone likes congenial company.

Senator Quay raises the fiery cross in opposition to "graft" politics at Harrisburg.

All Gradations of Society at the Horse Show.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Nov. 21.

Millionaires having more or less connection with Pittsburgh were represented at the horse show this afternoon. They were Joseph E. Widener and W. L. Elkins of Philadelphia, William H. Moore and W. B. Leeds. All of them had entries in the class for a team to a carriage or victoria, and all were there to watch the judging. Alfred G. Vanderbilt had an entry in this class, of course, because he is in nearly all of them. A suggestion that the horse show levels all distinction was conveyed by the fact that another of the competitors in this class was the young woman who, as Marie Wilson, used to be one of the "pretty maidens" in "Florodora," but who is now Mrs. Harriett R. Wimsatt. She was only a chorus girl a year ago, but she plunged in Wall street vigorously and wisely, and came out with a fortune of $700,000. At least, those were her press agent's figures. Now she appears at the horse show in a different fetching costume every day, and is one of the attractions of the promenade; for be it known, the boxes are not the only stage upon which society, the feminine portion of it, in ravishing gowns and smart hats, displays itself to the critical notice of the men who go to the show to look at the queens of society as much as at the horses. It has been found rather irksome to sit in a box for two or three hours, and some relief was imperative; so this year very few of the young matrons or "buds" sit long in a box. They take the escort of the nearest man of their acquaintance and walk along the boards, glancing over at the horses from time to time, and exchanging greetings with men and women they know, while safely conscious that their costumes will bear any kind of inspection, no matter how close it may go. That is the horse show this year. The idea is the same as ever—that the exhibition is as much a display of millinery carried with well-bred indifference, as it is of the aristocracy of horsedom; but it is worked out a little differently, that is all.

Anna Held's Dainty Equine Pair.

Anna Held was at the horse show this afternoon. The winning of two blue ribbons yesterday with her dainty pair, Jack and Jill, has given her a little more interest in the show, although it has evidently been keen from the first. Charles A. Bigelow, Anna Held's leading comedian, who is a Pittsburgher by marriage, was at the show today, examining the horses with that graveyard solemnity that is only possible to a comedian who is the embodiment of merriment before the footlights.

Gov. Odell's Fortunate Son.

Herbert Roe Odell, a Columbia college student, finds it a soothing thing to be the son of the governor of the state of New York. Young Odell is a nice fellow, but he is helped along the path of popularity by being the son of his father. He has just been chosen chairman of the junior ball committee at Columbia university, and will have control of the arrangements in general for the ball which is to be given at Sherry's January 17.

French Military Pomp in Gotham.

Something like Napoleon's famous cuirassiers is to be seen in New York city. It will be a company of dragoons composed of members of the French colony in this city and will present a gorgeous appearance when it is uniformed and mounted. The dress will consist of an azure and gold tunice, red trousers and a steel helmet topped off by a brass eagle and a long plume of white horse hair. The company is to appear in dress parade on important French anniversaries and will ride through the principal thoroughfares of the metropolic on superb chargers. That is the program, and there is excitement in all the table d'hote restaurants and the Hotel Martin, as well as through the great French quarter on the lower West Side. It is not often that the Gaul breaks loose in Gotham, except on the night of the French ball; but when he does, he is always picturesque.

Croker Denies Things.

Richard Croker today took the trouble to deny that he will return to Europe within two weeks. He repeated a former assertion that he will not leave New York until after Christmas. While he was denying things, Mr. Croker remarked that it was not true, as has been stated, that he has a balance of $2,600,000 in his hands as chairman of the Tammany finance committee.

No Glut in the Turkey Market.

In face of general reports that the Thanksgiving turkey is likely to be a little more expensive than usual in this locality, some wag yesterday set a story afloat that a large consignment of poultry had arrived and that more was coming, which would send turkey prices down to 8 and 9 cents a pound. Today all the poultry dealers in Greater New York are denying it. They reiterate previous statements (which have already been printed in The Gazette) that turkey will not be cheaper than usual, and will most likely be a great deal more costly than last year. Conditions may be better in Pittsburgh, but it will certainly cost more than hitherto for Thanksgiving dinner in New York.

Great Week for Harness Stores.

The sharp weather of last week has caused a boom in horse blankets. The wholesale harness and horse supply quarter of New York is in Chambers, Warren and contiguous thoroughfares, and it is always possible to tell what particular equipment is in demand by the show windows. In horse show week, naturally, there is an increase in the harness business, and the stores have all been rushing, not only this week, but for several before it. Repairs of a slight kind are continually required, while accoutrements need to be perfected from time to time. Altogether there has not been a livelier business neighborhood in the whole city than that in which the horse as well as his master are provided for—at a price.

Coney Delights in November.

One of the consequences of the bright weather which still continues is a steady, if not large, stream of visitors to Coney Island. It is not very warm at the island, but at the same time it is not bitterly cold. One can go there in a thick overcoat and warmly dressed otherwise and enjoy a walk along the sands as much as in midsummer—more, in fact, for there is no cruel sun heat bearing upon your head now. All the show places along Surf avenue and the "Bowery" are closed, of course; but there are hotels where one can obtain a meal, drink or cigar, so that creature comforts are not wanting. For the rest, the sea is never grander than on the edge of winter, and to eyes unaccustomed to a view of the ocean the dark rollers and scattering white caps are always fascinating. The trolley cars to Coney island are pretty well crowded on these sunny days, and largely with visitors from cities outside of New York. It is a question with many of the Coney island veterans whether it would not have paid them to keep their catchpenny enterprises running all through October. But the trouble is, as one of the "Bowery" fakirs remarked this afternoon, "you never can tell what it is going to be at Coney after the middle of September, and there is always a chance of a big wave coming up and washing everything to—to—Texas."

Unemployed Actors Rare This Year.

There are fewer idle actors along upper Broadway than have been seen there at this time of year for several seasons. This is on the authority of an old actor who will not accept engagements away from New York city nowadays, and who has had plenty of opportunity to institute comparisons. The reason why actors are almost scarce on the Rialto is that fewer companies than usual have "come in." There have been the regular number of theatrical enterprises going forth to storm the one-night stands and break into cities wherever possible, and it does not appear that they averaged any higher in merit than in former years; but there has been more loose change lying around the country than has been found in other years, owing to the general industry and consequent larger earnings by working people. This is the cause assigned, at least. So most actors with any ability and push have been able to connect themselves with some organization and are spread over the map from Maine to California and from British Columbia to Mexico. Next week every actor who does not happen to be on the road will have a chance to play for one matinee and night, if not more. "Turkey snaps," the name given to companies organized to play small towns on Thanksgiving day, will be numberless, and there are rehearsals going on in every hall and private room that can be obtained for the purpose in theatrical quarters. There is a downright scarcity of actors for Thanksgiving, if one may believe the complaints of some of the managers of "snaps."

Trouble Tempers Devery's Justice.

Again "Big Chief" Devery conducted the trials of delinquent policemen today. He was subdued in demeanor and he did not deliver himself of any of those pellets of sardonic humor that were wont to strike heavily the delinquent in blue-and-brass. Devery has court troubles of his own. That may make him lenient to the unfortunates brought before him as deputy police commissioner. At all events, there were easy times for all offenders in the trial room at headquarters today. Devery will not admit that his conduct of the trials is different from what it has always been, but his own complicated affairs doubtless have given a twist to his point of view.

A New Hand Rules the Bowery.

There is a new police captain at the Fifth street station. This means much more than might be supposed from the simple announcement, for this particular police precinct covers the toughest part of the Bowery. The new captain walked along the Bowery and closed up all the doggeries at 1 o'clock in the morning. Under the previous captains, they have been in the habit of remaining open till daylight, and the crimes that have been committed in illegal hours were more numerous than at any other part of the twenty-four. McGurk's "Suicide hall," the "Thieves paradise," the "Oxford," and other notorious dives are in this precinct, and there was consternation when the captain, with a group of detectives at his back, stepped in and commanded "lights out and all get out." The Bowery is quieter tonight than it has been for four years, and at 1 o'clock there will be no revelry in any of the gin mills unless the manager should desire to face a magistrate in the morning.

More Grievances for Policemen.

New York policemen are grumbling because they have been told unofficially that every man on the force will be obliged to buy a new belt and two pairs of gloves before the 1st of January. Belts cost $2 50 and gloves $2 50 a pair. The supposition is that Tammany desires to turn over the police force in prime condition to the new administration. As any improvement in their attire must be made at the cost of the men themselves, this seems a cheap way for Tammany to make a good showing to its successors. Policemen were compelled to buy new buttons a few weeks ago, and they have not got over that grievance yet. They declare that the buttons, which cost 6 cents apiece, are not so good as the 3-cent buttons they used to wear. This reminds old G. A. R. men of the scandal over soldier clothes 40 years ago, and these veterans, at least, will sympathize with the New York policemen of today.

Improving the Ferry Craft.

New ferry boats are promised on the North river. This is sufficiently rare to be worth telling about. The Pennsylvania Railroad had put on several new boats in the last five or six years, but its example has not been generally followed; but now the Central Railroad of New Jersey is bestirring itself in this direction. It expects to have its new boat, "Bound Brook," from the contractors by the 1st of December, and intends to have still another before next summer. Now, if the Erie could be induced to put on a few new boats, in place of the ramshackle old tubs that make up a large part of its ferry service, it would improve the appearance of the river, while giving joy to the commuters who are obliged to cross it on the Erie's boats.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Mrs. Henry Ochse.

Mrs. Henry Ochse, wife of Henry Ochse, one of the most prominent women of Etna, died at 12:15 o'clock this morning very suddenly, in the 77th year of her age. She was the mother of Poor Director R. W. Ochse of Etna, and on Tuesday of last week she and her husband celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary. Mrs. Ochse was born in Venango county, August 30, 1824, her maiden name being Miss Mary Sutter. When 2 years old she came to Etna with her parents. In 1841 she was married to Henry Ochse, becoming the mother of 10 children, five sons and five daughters, six of whom survive. They are Henry W., county poor director, and a prominent merchant of Etna; Samuel J. of Etna, Mrs. John Landfried, Mrs. William J. McKee, Mrs. John Metzgar and Miss Emma, all of Etna. She is also survived by 15 grand children.

Edward W. Morrow.

Edward W. Morrow, aged 45 years, died yesterday afternoon at his residence on Schley avenue, Swissvale. He had been sick a week with pneumonia. He was born at Ligonier, Pa., where his mother still lives. When he reached his majority he went to Altoona and entered the office of the Pennsylvania railroad at that place. E. A. Ford, general passenger agent of the lines west of Pittsburgh, made him his private secretary. At the time of his death he was cashier of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh, with headquarters in the company office at Eleventh street, this city. He was a member of the Herron Hill Presbyterian church and for a number of years had been treasurer of the church. He is survived by his wife and three children, Raymond Morrow, Mildred Morrow and Inez Morrow.

Charles T. Angel.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—Charles T. Angel died suddenly at his home in New Wilmington from dropsy combined with heart trouble. For more than 20 years he was a school director of Wilmington. He was a promising member of the United Presbyterian church. He is survived by his widow and six children: Mrs. Frank A. Hover of this city, Mrs. W. S. Bell of West Middlesex, Mrs. J. W. Shaw of Neshannock, Pa.; Mrs. James Sewell, David and Jessie of New Wilmington. He also leaves a brother, D. D. Angel, of the Tradesmens National Bank of Pittsburgh.

Samuel B. Huey.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 21.—Samuel B. Huey, president of the Philadelphia board of education and one of the leading lawyers at the Philadelphia bar, died at his home here today after a short illness. He was 58 years of age and was born in Pittsburgh. He was graduated from Princeton college with the class of 1863, and from the university of Pennsylvania law school in 1866. Mr. Huey served a short time in the navy during the civil war. Mr. Huey was a member of many organizations, including the Loyal Legion and the Grand Army of the Republic.

Edward Joslin.

KEENE, N. H., Nov. 21.—Edward Joslin, prominent manufacturer of Keene and well known in industrial circles throughout the country, died at his home here today, aged 91. Mr. Joslin was one of the pioneers in the manufacture of wood working machinery in this country and was one of the founders of the J. H. Fay & Egan Company, whose headquarters are at Cincinnati.

Mrs. Martha Brady.

Mrs. Martha Brady, aged 28 years, wife of Owen Brady of Port Vue, died at her home yesterday, after a brief illness. Mrs. Brady formerly lived on the South Side, and also at Kittanning. She was the daughter fo Mr. and Mrs. James Coughlan, by whom she is survived; the other survivors being her husband, an infant daughter, two brothers and four sisters.

William P. Atwell.

William P. Atwell died at the Passavant hospital yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. He was a veteran of the civil war, serving in Knap's famous battery during the entire time of its field service. He was well known in Grand Army circles in Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Sarah Buckingham Beecher.

HILLSBORO, O., Nov. 21.—Mrs. Sarah Buckingham Beecher, widow of the Rev. George Beecher, a brother of Henry Ward Beecher, is dead at the age of 84. She had lived here for many years with her son.

Obituary Notes.

Lorman Walker, for eight years past superintendent of Conmoquenessing district of the Forest Oil Company, died at his home at Connoquenessing, Pa., Wednesday.

Anthony Coyne, aged 44 years, a well known milliman of the Eighteenth ward, is dead at the home of his brother, Martin Coyne, No. 6812 Butler street. His death was due to typhoid pneumonia.

Michael O'Connell, captain of Water Tower No. 1, is dead at his home, No. 10 Third avenue, death being due to cancer. Capt. O'Connell served in the fire department for the past 10 years and in that time had been a member of Companies Nos. 1, 3 and 19.

A High Standard Set Up.

From the Titusville World.

The Pittsburgh Gazette last week commenced the publication of a Sunday edition. The first number was a credit to the Smoky City's journalism and if it keeps up to the standard of excellence exhibited will hustle its competitors.

PERSONAL.

S. Yoshii, chief architect to the department of communication and the home department of the Japanese imperial government, spent all day yesterday in this city studying local postoffice and station buildings. The Homestead works of the Carnegie Steel Company were also visited. "My mission in this country is to obtain American ideas on the class of buildings that come under my supervision in the government service," Mr. Yoshii said last evening at the Union station. "This includes postoffices, railway, telegraph and telephone stations, harbors, lighthouses and marine schools. American materials are being used more and more for such purposes, so that an understanding of the offerings of this country is necessary to the position I fill. The new Union station of the Pennsylvania railroad in Pittsburgh I consider one of the finest I have seen in the course of my two months' trip across the American continent from San Francisco. It is modern in every detail. The Pittsburgh postoffice also has been carefully studied." Mr. Yoshii left last evening for New York, sailing on Tuesday for Europe. Until his train was due to leave he made careful study of the new station under the guidance of A. N. Hazlett, the resident architect in charge of construction.

Mayor Julius Fleischman of Cincinnati was a passenger on the Pennsylvania limited last evening en route to that town. "I have been in New York attending the horse show," he said. "If fineness of breed and appearance of the horses and sweetness of the women's costumes constitute success for the horse show then this one is certainly by far the greatest New York has ever had. I have seen them every year for a number of seasons past, so that I can judge of them comparatively." On Cincinnati politics Mayor Fleischman would not talk, but over the business of the city he was enthusiastic.

Clinton Rodgers Woodruff of Philadelphia, the well-known lawyer and reformer, spent yesterday in this city in consultation with Attorney George W. Guthrie. The object was to prepare a bill for the next legislature on personal registration of voters. At the Union station last evening Mr. Woodruff said they had agreed upon a tentative draft of the bill and a later conference to embody all the desirable features would be held in either this city or Philadelphia.

W. H. Hamilton, assistant superintendent of the Lukens Iron & Steel Company's plant at Coatesville, Pa., and Howard Taggart, superintendent of tests of the same company, were at the Duquesne yesterday. They come to this city to study the methods used by the Carnegie Steel Company in the manufacture of plate steel. The report of their company entering the new plate combine was all news to them, they said.

Senor Jose Arce and his daughter, Senorita Ruth Arce of the City of Mexico, are at the Duquesne. The visit is one of business on the part of the senor, his daughter coming with him for the pleasure of the trip. In his own country he has the distinction of being one of the closest personal friends of President Diaz. He is a full-blooded Indian. His wife was English by birth.

J. H. Mern, William Marshall, and William J. Hughes of the Parkersburg Ice Company, are in the city to buy a 75-ton ice plant for their company. They have inspected a number of samples and have decided, they said last evening, to place the order here. They are stopping at the Griswold.

Congressman Robert W. Tayler of Lisbon, O., representing the Youngstown district, was in Pittsburgh last evening, stopping at the Lincoln. Mr. Tayler addressed in the evening the session of the National Reform convention in progress here.

L. Brefeld of Berlin, at the Anderson; W. G. Winterburn of Hong Kong, at the Victoria; and P. A. Panchow of Berlin, at the Lincoln, were among the foreigners in the city yesterday.

Henry S. Moore of this city, left last evening on a business trip to Chicago.

Neighbors Visiting Pittsburg.

Among the guests last evening at local hotels from nearby towns were the following:

Victoria—S. E. Hall, Wheeling, W. Va.; E. W. Powers, Warren, O.; H. W. Bell, Tyrone.
Lincoln—R. W. Tayler, Lisbon, O.
Seventh Avenue—J. H. Glenn, Toronto, O.; L. C. Sickler, Cresson; Nathan Pavonak, Canton, O.; H. T. Snyder, Leetonia, O.; Charles Humphreys, Wheeling, W. Va.; C. W. Howell, Uniontown.
Monongahela—G. S. Armstrong and wife, Altoona; A. B. Ledwith, Brownsville; J. B. Ruly, Uniontown; F. G. Lovejoy, Lodi, O.
Duquesne—R. P. Kennedy, Uniontown; S. C. Bacharach, Harrisburg; E. V. Boggs and Clara Boggs, Parkersburg, W. Va.; C. M. Duncan, Oil City.
Griswold—E. E. Soult, Greenville; E. C. Stricker, Millsboro; H. B. McDonald, Elyria, O.; John D. Carr, Uniontown.
Newell's—W. J. Sampson and U. A. Adams, Youngstown, O.; N. McConnell, Sharon.
Henry—Thomas McCaffrey, Youngstown; Charles Israel, Zanesville, O.

AN OBJECTION FILED.

Member of Turtle Creek Fire Company Objects to Report of Contest at a Blaze.

Editor Pittsburgh Gazette:

Dear Sir—Permit me to contradict and deny a portion of an item in your issue of November 19, wherein you say "at a fire which broke out week before last, the spectators who witnessed it assert it could have been extinguished with a loss of several hundred dollars, but that the old company hampered the new company in its work and a loss of over $1,000 resulted."

Allow me to say that the so-called new company on this occasion consisted only of one member, a mere boy of 18 years; this being the only member of the new company who responded to the alarm. The truth of the matter is simply this: That regardless of the fact the new company is equipped with a team of horses, the old company, who ran a-foot to fires, beat the team of the new company, and had the fire extinguished before the lone member of the new company arrived, the loss on the building being practically nothing, as only a few shingles were charred. Again, permit me to say the new company is not composed of members who "did not take well to the action of the old company." The only such members consist of two men who previously had been discarded for a term of 90 years from the old company. You will confer a just favor on our company by correcting that item, and oblige very truly yours,

AL. J. JOHNSTON,
Assistant Chief No. 1 Company.

Cannon for Daniel Morgan's Grave.

From the Baltimore Sun.

In lieu of a costly monument for the grave of Maj. Gen. Daniel Morgan, the revolutionary soldier, which it sought from the government without success, the Morgan Memorial association has taken steps to secure two bronze cannon captured by Morgan to be placed over his grave in Winchester, Va. At present the cannon are the property of the government at the Pittsburgh arsenal, which will be abandoned shortly, and it is the purpose of the association to ask congress to give the city the one taken from Gen. Burgoyne at the surrender of Saratoga and one captured by Morgan at the battle of Cowpens.

THE WORLD'S WAY.

We sing of the rose with its perfume rare
And the violet blooming serenely fair,
And melodies quaint and fine unfold
Of the homely phlox or the marigold—
But nobody sings of the cabbage.

It has a leaf with a gentle sheen,
With convolutions of dainty green,
And when 'tis cooking a perfume rare,
Richer than roses, fills the air;
But nobody sings of the cabbage.

'Tis larger far than the various blooms
For whom such friendship the muse assumes;
The epicure oft has old Leviked;
'Tis not only eaten, but sometimes smoked;
But nobody sings of the cabbage.

So let's take courage, my honest friend,
Though scant the strokes that may attend
Your earnest efforts. Remember when You're quite forgot by your fellow-men
That nobody sings of the cabbage.

WHAT THE EDITORS ARE DISCUSSING.

THE STATE PRESS.

There is no mistaking the attitude of the state press upon the Chinese question. They, like the Inquirer, are for exclusion, and say so without hesitation.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

With another theater and a baseball club in prospect, we are reminded that there is still something to live for in Scranton, despite the gloomy views taken by esteemed Wilkesbarre exchanges.—Scranton Tribune.

The football folks of Westmoreland county are enlisted in a splendid cause in getting up a benefit carnival for Thanksgiving day. The gain from the sport is to be turned over to the Westmoreland hospital.—Greensburg Tribune.

Lackawanna county has two candidates for the Republican nomination for governor—Congressman Connell, the leader, and ex-Lieut. Gov. Watres, with some independent tendencies. The county went 3,000 Democratic, but this seems not to dampen the aspirations of either, and each seems bent upon beating the other.—Delaware County American.

We, of the Twenty-first congressional district, feel like congratulating ourselves, as well as the country at large, that upon the return of the Hon. S. M. Jack we have a representative whose past record has been so satisfactory to the many thousands composing this congressional district. He is recognized by his associates in the congressional hall as a man of more than ordinary ability.—Indiana Progress.

The test of domestic devotion in Bedford county is simple. The Everett Press presents it by saying that if a wife really and truly cares for her husband she never says she would gladly die for him, but she gets quietly up on a cold night and gets more covers without saying anything about it, gets up in the morning, starts the fire and has the breakfast ready before awakening him.—Oil City Blizzard.

The fortunes in Connellsville coal have been made. Scarcely an acre can be secured any more at any price. Fabulous sums have been realized by its development, but in a few short years the greatest resource of our rocky, rugged hills will be a thing of the past. Perhaps before that time we will be able to make fuel from air and water, of both of which we have a plentiful supply.—Connellsville News.

It is predicted that the river and harbor bill will not pass at the coming session, but will be held until the last session of the present congress, which expires in March, 1903. However, it is to be hoped that when the next river and harbor bill passes congress it will contain a substantial appropriation toward the proper slack-watering of the Allegheny river. With proper legislative action this magnificent stream will exceed its former glory as a waterway.—Franklin News.

Congressman Arthur L. Bates and Dr. William H. Crawford, president of Allegheny college, were here from Meadville yesterday. During the day they called upon a number of Titusville's representative citizens. Dr. Crawford's mission being in the interests of Allegheny college. This college has lately come to the front among the educational institutions of the country with great rapidity, a result largely due to the active efforts of its capable president.—Titusville Herald.

STORIES OF THE HUNT.

John Langan was out hunting on Tuesday and succeeded in shooting one little red squirrel.—Punxsutawney Republican.

Harry Bell was hunting a few nights ago and captured four coons. He could not have caught them before the election. "The same old coon" is still running at large.—Armstrong Republican.

"Sode" Ogden and Vic Iams left on the morning train on a hunting campaign. We hope that they may have excellent luck, but that they will not venture to bring home their heavy game for fear of blockading traffic on the W. & W.—Waynesburg Times.

Darr and Murray, the great coon hunters of this place, have within the last few weeks bagged 15 fine coons, besides dozens of other smaller fur animals. One of the coons measured three feet eight inches from tip to tip, and weighed 32 pounds.—Somerset Standard.

Edward Grugan of Glen Union trapped a black bear yesterday that tipped the scales at 358 pounds. This makes the fourth bear that Mr. Grugan has captured this season. G. B. M. Farwell of the same place caught a coon that weighed 23 pounds.—Lock Haven Democrat.

Loman Tucker, Charles Evans and Miles Kephart went to the forest yesterday to seek game. They sighted but one loose cotton-tail. Tucker shot and missed, Kephart did likewise and then "Chilly" swiped the bunny with a club. It never phased the beast, but in its endeavor to escape it ran into a fence and broke its neck.—New Brighton News.

Mr. B. F. Strigle has just returned from a hunting trip in Perry county and reports an exciting experience. After tramping through fields for one whole day with poor success—45 squirrels—he was about to give up in disgust and return home. He jumped a ditch in the field, but didn't quite reach, and his foot slipped from the bank and he dropped about two feet into a nest of 18 rabbits, killing them all.—Lancaster (O.) Gazette.

The city hall will tonight be converted into a market house, where wild game of all kinds will be sold at rummage sale prices. Policemen Dawson and Davidson went hunting today, which explains the reason for holding the sale. It is said that Officer Dawson proposes to run down the rabbits and then Officer Davidson will finish them with his police club. The quail and other birds will be caught by the never-failing tail-salting method.—East Liverpool News Review.

DOINGS IN SOCIETY AND GOSSIP OF THE HOME.

SOCIETY

FOR the second time this week two cousins made their debut on the same occasion. They were Miss Marie McKelvy, daughter of J. Erastus McKelvy, of Westminster place, and Miss Jane M. Peebles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Peebles of Richmond lane, East End. They were introduced to society by their aunt, Mrs. William M. McKelvy, at her home, Fifth and College avenues. Sharing the honors of the occasion were Miss Cornelia McKelvy, an older sister of one of the debutantes, and Mrs. William Erastus McKelvy, the recent bride. The reception hours were from 3 o'clock until 4, and the large house was crowded with guests. The hostess and her four honor guests received in the drawing room, whose walls were almost covered with the myriads of beautiful bouquets received by the two debutantes. They were arranged in panels, reaching from the floor to the ceiling, the bouquets resting in invisible holders, and the striking contrast of coloring from the rich red roses and chrysanthemums, the delicacy of the beautiful pink roses and orchids, the depth of coloring of the numberless violets, and the purity of the white roses and lilies gave to the decorations of the apartment a piquancy not often seen.

The hostess received in a handsome gown of grey panne crepe, with trimmings of white lace. The debutantes were prettily gowned in white lace-trimmed mousseline. Miss Cornelia McKelvy wore white lace, with trimmings of pink rosebuds, and Mrs. McKelvy, the bride, appeared in her wedding gown of white duchess satin and duchess and pointe lace. Assisting the receiving ladies were many young girls and some married women. Among the number were Miss Helen Horne, Miss Helen Earl, Miss Helen Long, Miss Margaret Brown, Miss Mary Evans, Miss Anna Ferguson, Miss Florence Day, Miss Elizabeth Friend, Miss Lillian McClure, Miss Grace Aiken, Miss Eleanor Humbird, Miss Emma Humbird, Miss Marian Sellers, Miss Elizabeth Utley, Miss Ruth Kirtland, Miss Ethel Cassidy, Miss Coffin, Miss Craighill, Miss Jane Lloyd, Miss Mary Lloyd, Miss Jean McKelvy, Miss Grace Kelly, Mrs. Charles Wooldridge, Mrs. J. P. E. Kumler, Mrs. James H. McKelvy, Mrs. William Peebles, Mrs. J. T. Lazear, Mrs. Henry Brackenridge, Mrs. George A. Kelly, and Mrs. John Wight of Washington, D. C.

After the reception an informal dinner was given for the honor guests of the afternoon and the assisting ladies.

St. Brigid's Tea Party.

The annual tea party of St. Brigid's church will be held November 27 and 28, in St. Paul's Orphan asylum, Tannehill street, and promises to be a success in every way. The committees in charge have details perfected for the entertainment of their guests. The tables in the dining room will be in charge of the following ladies:

Nos. 1 and 2—Color, pink: Mrs. James Pendor, assisted by Mrs. William Ryan, Mrs. H. Duffy, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. McMahon, Mrs. Kruse and Misses Mary Alker, Ella Cunningham, May Stewart and Kate Brennan.

No. 3—Color, blue: Mrs. James Donnelly; aides, Mrs. T. Foley, Mrs. M. Purtil and Misses Nettie Haggerty, Clara Swinehart, Margaret O'Neil and Margaret, Alice and Annie Donnelly.

No. 4—Color, gold: Mrs. John Whitney and Mrs. John Flynn; aides, Mrs. Stephen Donnelly, Mrs. Flian, Mrs. Madden and Miss Ella Flynn.

No. 5—Color, green: Mrs. W. A. Boden and Mrs. Gillen; aides, Mrs. C. J. Geoghegan, Mrs. Cregg and Misses L. Weimerskirch, Mamie Gillen, Lillian Gillen and Catherine Creed.

Flora booth—Directed by Miss Mary Walsh, assisted by Misses Catherine Klein, Mary O'Leary, Frances Entress, Josie Marsula, Florine Marsula, Agnes Kelly, Bella Buckley, Rose Walsh.

Lemonade booth—In charge of the Young Ladies Sodality; Miss Catherine Dinley, prefect. Misses Ella Kittrick, Catherine McMahon, Ida McGovern, Julia Bird, Loretta McGillen, Mamie Abel and Elisabeth Mulvaney.

The euchre prizes will be many and valuable; the dance music will be the best that can be procured. The church committe, Messrs. Henry Fitzpatrick, D. P. Crawford, M. J. Purtill, J. J. Kelly, John Whitney and Joseph White, will have supervision of the building and the several departments of the tea party.

Culbertson-Booth.

The most elaborate wedding that has occurred in Carnegie for years was that of Miss Elvira Harshman Culbertson, daughter of Mrs. Samuel D. Culbertson, and Dr. W. W. Booth, both of Carnegie, which was solemnized in the First Presbyterian church at 7:45 o'clock last evening, the Rev. Joseph M. Duff, pastor, officiating.

The interior of the church was handsomely decorated with palms. Miss Lillie Cook Culbertson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor; while the bridesmaids were Miss Emily J. Heisey of Newark, O.; Miss Annie G. Stewart, a cousin of the bride, of Allegheny; Miss Agnes Duncan and Miss Amelia Duncan of Washington, Pa. Dr. Harry F. Koontz of the East End was best man and the ushers were Charles H. Pascoe and John Keller of Carnegie; Dr. William Hoeffer of Philadelphia, and Cecil Booth of the East End.

The bride was gowned in white crepe de chine, with lace yoke and sleeves, trimmed with pearl applique and chiffon, and her veil was held in place by an empire bow. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and brides' roses. The maid of honor wore white organdie, with ecru lace trimmings, and carried white carnations. The bridesmaids' gowns were also of white organdie, trimmed with ecru lace, with pink ribbon sashes and carried bouquets of pink carnations.

A reception was held at the bride's home on Wednesday evening and after the ceremony yesterday evening the bride and groom left on an extended wedding tour to the principal eastern cities. The bride was one of the social favorites of Carnegie. The groom is a rising young physician of Carnegie. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Booth will reside in Carnegie.

Future Sewickley Affairs.

Mrs. Archibald George of Sewickley will entertain at a dinner party on Saturday night, in honor of her daughter, Miss Elizabeth George, who will be a bride on Tuesday of next week.

Mrs. Hugh J. Murdock of Chestnut street, Sewickley, will entertain at a party this afternoon in honor of her sister, Mrs. William N. Cunningham of Sewickley, who has recently returned to Sewickley from a long visit in Tennessee.

Mrs. Frank E. Rutan will entertain at cards this evening, at her home in Fleming Place, Sewickley. A number of invitations have been issued for the affair, and a pleasant time is expected.

On Saturday afternoon the Misses Anna and Sarah Christy, the children of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Christy of Sewickley, will give a party to a number of their young friends, at their home. It is expected about 60 of the little ones will be present and will be entertained with games and refreshments.

Miss Yznaga a Bride.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—Miss Consuelo Yznaga of this city, daughter of Jose M. Yznaga and niece of the Duchess of Manchester, was married to Lieut. James H. Regan, U. S. A., today. The ceremony was performed in St. Patrick's church by the Rev. Dr. J. D. Stafford. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Martina Yznaga, as maid of honor, and Miss Margaret Regan, sister of the groom; Miss Marie Clad of Devon, Pa.; Miss Agnes Brooks and Miss Louise Burford of Washington; Miss Julia O. Ayres of Fort Hamilton, N. Y., and Miss Minnie Purdy of Washington. Lieut. Joseph Conn, U. S. A., acted as best man, and the ushers were Alexis Yznaga, brother of the bride; J. McLeod Page, John Burg, Dr. Charles O'Connor, William Wilson and Mason Brown. The bride was given away by her father.

The engagement is announced here of Mrs. Lane, widow of Thomas F. Lane, and daughter of Senator Blackburn of Kentucky, to the Chevalier Trentanove, the famous Italian sculptor. The wedding is to take place here December 17. Chevalier Trentanove is now in Florence. Mrs. Lane is the youngest of Senator Blackburn's three daughters. Her husband, who occupied a departmental position, committed suicide here a year ago.

White-Cunningham.

The marriage of Miss Marie G. White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John White, and James J. Cunningham, was solemnized yesterday morning with a nuptial mass at St. Brigid's Roman Catholic church, the ceremony being performed by the rector, the Rev. M. Ryan, in the presence of a large number of invited guests. The wedding music was rendered by Prof. Vogel and choir. E. J. White, a brother of the bride, was best man. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Margaret White. The ushers were William T. Duffy, a cousin, of San Francisco, Cal., and Wallace P. Hartigan, who came home from college for the occasion. The bride was attired in pink silk, trimmed with applique lace, and the bridesmaid in old rose, with white satin and chiffon. Both carried bouquets of Bride's roses.

The bride is a niece of S. Arnold, the Fourth avenue real estate broker. The bridegroom is in the employ of the Pennsylvania Company. His gifts to his best man and ushers were unique pearl scarf pins. After the evening reception at the White residence, which was attended by many out-of-town guests, the couple left for a trip to New York and eastern cities, they will be at home to their friends after December 5, at No. 2219 Webster avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirk's at Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kirk gave a large reception last evening at their home in South Canal street, Sharpsburg, the hours being from 8 o'clock until 11. It was an at home and Mr. and Mrs. Kirk were assisted in receiving by their daughter, Miss Sarah C. Kirk, and their sons and daughters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David M. Kirk and Mr. and Mrs. John A. Kirk of Sharpsburg. A couple of hundred guests were in attendance at the reception, which was one of the handsomest entertainments of the day. The Kirk family has made its home in Sharpsburg for many years and each season Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kirk give a large general reception for their friends in all parts of the city.

The house last evening was handsomely decorated. Yellow chrysanthemums, with tropical plants, were found in the large parlors and the library, while in the dining room the American Beauty roses gave rich coloring to the decorations. In the apartments on the second floor roses were conspicuously placed for adornment, pink and red roses appearing in different apartments.

Orchestra Concerts This Week.

The third orchestra program of this season will be given tonight and tomorrow afternoon at Carnegie Music hall, under Mr. Herbert's direction. The list, as will be seen below, is of great interest, and presents composers of the past and present day, with characteristic selections from each. The soloist, Miss Jessie Shay, pianist, of New York city, is one of the younger artists of the country not heard before in Pittsburgh, who has won enthusiastic indorsement in the most critical circles in eastern cities. The program in full is as follows:

Symphony, "Surprise".....Haydn
Concerto for pianoforte and orchestra, op. 56, 3.....Moszkowski
Suite, "L'Arlesienne," No. 2.....Bizet
Piano solo (a) "Liebestraum;" (b) "Spring Song".....Mendelssohn
Huldigungsmarsch, from "Sigurd Jorsalfar".....Grieg

Afternoon Entertainments.

The Misses McKay of Oak Hill, Amberson avenue, give a large card party on Monday afternoon, November 25, to meet the Misses Drake Rust Gilchrist.

Mrs. Robert Lanphier Martin, the Misses Martin and Miss Frances Martin will receive on Tuesday afternoon, November 26, at their home in South Dallas avenue, East End.

Miss Georgia Gormley's card party on Friday afternoon, November 29, will be given in honor of Miss Florence Mean Day, whose engagement to George Blackstone was recently announced.

A Morning Recital.

A series of three violin recitals will be given at the Thurston preparatory school this season, the first to be held tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. Programs of violin music of different epochs, from the time of Corelli, 1653-1713, to the present day, will be presented by E. N. Bilbie, violinist, assisted by William H. Oetting, pianist. Tomorrow morning Mr. Bilbie will also be assisted by Mrs. Florence Lancaster Archer, soprano. The program for the first recital is especially interesting, and contains several numbers, the work of the earlier composers.

Annual Dance in Greensburg.

Invitations are out for the twenty-seventh annual Thanksgiving hop at Armory hall, Greensburg, Pa., which will be held next Wednesday evening, November 27. The promenade will commence at 9 o'clock. The patronesses include Mrs. Richard Coulter, Mrs. W. A. Huff, Mrs. John F. Wentling, Mrs. James S. Moorhead, Mrs. George F. Huff, Mrs. L. W. Doty and Mrs. J. B. Head. The committee of arrangements is composed of Henry W. Coulter, Richard H. Jamison, Joseph D. Wentling, Morris W. Head, Alexander Coulter and Richard H. Laird.

Luncheon for Bride-Elect.

Mrs. Lawrence C. Woods of Edgeworth gave a luncheon yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in honor of Miss Elizabeth George of Sewickley, whose wedding will occur on Tuesday. Ten covers were laid, those present being Miss George, Mrs. L. C. Woods, Mrs. George Shaw, Miss Shaw of the East End, Mrs. F. E. Rutan, Mrs. A. D. Starr, Miss Campbell, Mrs. Marshall Christy, Mrs. Archibald George and Miss Maria King. The house was beautifully decorated in pink, the flowers being pink roses.

Bowling at the Club.

Two bowling parties were given in the Edgeworth clubhouse yesterday, one in the afternoon and one in the evening. The first was given by Mrs. George Rice and Mrs. Charles B. McVey in honor of Miss Lelia Looker of Lancaster, Pa., who is visiting Mrs. McVay. The party was made up of the young people of the valley, about 22 being present. The prize winners were Miss Anna Semple and Mrs. Christy. The party in the afternoon was given by Mrs. J. B. Gilmore, and was for her women friends of the valley, about 25 of whom were present.

Knights Templar Reception.

The first of the winter series of receptions of the drill corps of Pittsburgh Commandery No. 1, K. T., will be held on Friday evening, November 29, at Braun's Auditorium. These receptions have been an annual occurrence for some years past and have met with much favor among the Masonic fraternities. Good music will be in attendance and a cordial invitation is extended to the Masonic fraternity at large to be present.

Strothers-Lampenderfer.

The marriage of Miss Nola Blanche Strothers and Christian Lampendorfer of this city, was solemnized on Wednesday, November 20, by the Rev. Robert W. Grange, rector of the Church of the Ascension. The wedding took place at the rectory.

NOTES OF SOCIETY.

Miss Ada Storey of Connellsville is visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. Edgar Swartz at their home in Orchard Place, Bellevue.

Mrs. John B. Crombie entertained at her home in North avenue, Allegheny, yesterday afternoon, giving a large reception.

Miss Susan Blow gave her initial lecture of a series at the Kindergarten college, in Fifth avenue, Oakland, yesterday afternoon.

The Pittsburgh council, No. 234, Daughters of Liberty, will give the third in its series of euchre parties this evening at the hall, No. 340 Fifth avenue.

Dr. and Mrs. Francis Henry Wade are attending the horse show in New York this week and are among the Pittsburghers staying at the Waldorf-Astoria.

The annual reception and donation day at the South Side hospital will be observed today. An enjoyable musicale will be conducted both afternoon and evening.

May Parker's Little Pickaninnies and Concert Company gives an entertainment tonight in Old City hall in the course of entertainments under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian association.

Miss Jeanette Riggs of Allegheny has issued cards for a dance in honor of Miss Gretchen Wellington, daughter of Senator Wellington of Cumberland, Md., to be given on Tuesday evening, December 3, in Cyclorama parlors, Allegheny.

"A Dream of Fair Women," presented in tableaux, under the direction of R. Stanley Burleigh, together with music and recitation, comprised the delightful entertainment given last evening at the South Side Presbyterian church. The entertainment tonight will include drills, recitations and music.

The Cut and Art Supplement which is issued with the Sunday Edition of The Pittsburgh Gazette is the most beautiful ever issued in this city.

PRISCILLA'S PENCIL

Was on hand yesterday afternoon when three Christmas boxes were packed for three sailor boys afar in European waters. All are among the youngest and consequently most insignificant of officers, so care had to be exercised in sending them gifts which will please without encumbering. To one went a portfolio of dull green kid, made by Somebody's own fair hands from very thin pasteboard, and kid which was bought in the piece. It was lined with silk of the same shade, and was sufficiently flexible to roll when not in use. Inside one edge was tucked a tiny photograph of the sender, outlined by a bit of gilt tracery and small plain ribbons put on as straps, with a sort of tailor stitch provided space for envelopes, paper, postals, stamps and all the paraphernalia of writing which even a sailor cannot do without.

A Useful Adjunct—
Which went into another box, consisted of a little "housewife," such as we all saw and probably used in our boarding school days. It was of thin bronze kid, with leaves of white flannel for needles and pins, and puffed ends of silk to hold spools and thimble. One such sent to the same sailor in cadet days brought forth such encomiums of praise that the welcome of this one is assured.

A Dainty Little Case—for the outlay of scarf pins contributed by each member of a large and affectionate family was designed for the third, and though it must be kept for occasions when civilian dress is worn, it cannot be received with anything save warm delight by its prospective owner. The case looks like a lady's card case, but has six leaves of chamois skin. Slits are cut in each, so that the pins may be slipped through, and preserved in safety and unbroken wholeness for the wearer's use.

At the Wedding—
Of a Pittsburgh man on Wednesday a laughable incident occurred. The groom and his party were delayed by a refractory train, and did not reach the bride's home until some moments after the hour set for the ceremony, which, though informal, was witnessed by a houseful of friends and relatives. The minister was waiting, the strains of the wedding march had been softly played and more softly replayed, and everybody was growing impatient, so the ardent groom hastened up to the hall where his bride awaited him, and scarcely pausing to greet her, the procession started. When half way down the stair the bride's eyes, properly downcast, fell on her companion's feet, and, to her horror, she discovered that he had neglected to remove his goloshes, which stood out in glittering prominence from his light trousers. A frantic "wait" stopped the march, a frantic clutch removed the offending rubbers and flung them into a corner, and then, flushed, but triumphant, the march was resumed with no further mishap.

A Pretty Home—
Just completed for its owners in the Oakland district has its dining room fitted up in regal style with black walnut. For years the family has been gathering bits of this precious wood wherever possible, and, little by little, enough was secured to furnish the room with but little extra outlay. With crimson velour paper on the walls and a Turkish patterned rug on the oiled floor, the effect is that of an expenditure five times the reality.

The Reception Hall—
Which is up to date and charming, will never be without a tall, slender stemmed lamp, with a huge silk or crepe shade, unless a round, colored globe be suitable. An air of cosy homelikeness is given by the presence of a lamp, which the cold radiance of the electric bulb or the flare of gas can never bestow. Even where the electricity is used, the bulb is carried down and hung inside a lamp.

The Single Rose—
Fashion is with us once more, and at theater and concerts whole regiments of swagger girls may be seen carrying a long stemmed American Beauty, or a shaggy chrysanthemum.

Gas to Burn and Gas to Drink.
When natural gas is mentioned in this country, is generally understood to mean such as is found and used for heating and manufacturing purposes in our coal and petroleum regions.
In Europe, however, the only natural gases knows are the sulphuric gas about the regions of Vesuvius and Aetna and the carbonic acid gas of the extinct volcanic region along the German Rhine.
In order to become acquainted with these various gases one has to visit the districts in which they abound, except in the case of the natural carbonic acid gas with which millions all over the globe are now acquainted, because of the wide distribution of Apolinaris water, bottled at the Apolinaris Spring, which is very rich in its own natural carbonic acid gas. Scientists say that this natural gas, besides rendering the Apolinaris refreshing, preserves its purity. Germany is proud of its natural gas, and its text books on watering places and springs make much of its valuable region in the vicinity of the Rhine.

R-I-P-A-N-S

I suffered terribly for years with heartburn and sick headache. My husband had used Ripans Tabules for indigestion with great success. I used two of the 5-cent cartons and have not had an attack of heartburn since. Whenever I feel the headache coming on I take one Tabule, and if taken in time it always has the best results. I consider Ripans a blessing to the rich and poor alike.

LOUD CLOTHES AT THE GARDEN

CANADA MAKES A GOOD SHOWING

George Pepper, from the Dominion, Carries Off Three Ribbons in the Jumping Contest—Other First Prizes of the Afternoon.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—With horse show week half over there is a steady increase in general interest. The attendance today was larger than on any other since the opening, and tonight it was difficult to move about at all, on account of the crowd. It demanded the kind of tactics employed in a football or bargain counter rush to get through at all. The "flying wedge" was employed more than once by groups of young college men as the evening wore on.

Many persons at the show are still talking over the ill success of Mr. Alfred G. Vanderbilt, and the crowd on the promenade is much more excited over Mr. Vanderbilt's four rejections for the blue ribbon than is the loser himself. A pretty girl was heard asking a well-known horseman why the young millionaire appeared to have no chance, and the horseman, speaking in the pompous manner of an authority, replied:

"It is true that Mr. Vanderbilt has sufficient of the wherewithal to buy and sell all the prize-winners in the show. But a blue ribbon winner cannot necessarily be purchased for millions. The horse-wise persons have the blue-ribbon nags, and they will hold to them until they have no more use for the animals. It takes skill, and above all experience in selection to present the prize horse. There are many unknown John Joneses exhibiting today who have had entries in the show for a decade and have never got so much as a white ribbon. A man must take his medicine first."

Clothing Is Very Gay.

A most astonishing sartorial competition is being carried on at the show between a number of gentlemen of explosive tastes. Waistcoats, such as would outshine those that adorned the rotund trunk of the Hon. Bath House John of Chicago, before he retired to rural life, have been in evidence in the promenade since Tuesday evening. Today a certain Newport veterinary dentist blazed into the garden in a wonderful armor of light cream trousers, a pea-green waistcoat, adorned with white stars, a flaring yellow coat, trimmed with bold braid and a golf cap smeared with rainbows. As this gentleman entered several of the horses in the stalls below the main floor shied violently. The soubrettes on the promenade frowned with envy, and even the boxes smiled languidly.

Another of the uproariously clothed gentlemen approached the veterinarian with a sneer, saying: "What class are you in, pray?"

"Thoroughbred," replied the veterinarian. "And your class?"

"I'm not a horse," growled the other.

"Beg pardon; of course not," was the reply. "I'll look you up at the dog show."

The veterinarian, who combines so delightfully tooth patching and sartorial accomplishments, declared that the aurora borealis he wore was his quietest suit.

Afternoon Prizes.

Glorious Flying Cloud, exhibited by Thomas W. and Arnold Lawson, captured the blue ribbon from a big field of harness horses and T. J. R. Murling's Mona was awarded first prize as a saddle horse.

Thomas W. Lawson took a first prize with Glorious Bonnie, br. s., 14.0, 8 years old, in a class for ponies in harness above 13 hands and not exceeding 14.1.

E. T. Stotesbury's pair of roadsters, Miss Lou and Zulu Z., which captured a blue ribbon yesterday, again took a first prize.

The next class called for a jumping performance over six fences, two of them five feet high, two five feet six inches, and two at six feet. The test is a severe one in the somewhat uncertain light of the garden, and most of the competitors failed at the highest jumps. The result of the competition was a signal triumph for Canada and George Pepper, its representative, for his three entries carried away the blue, red and yellow ribbons. The judges placed Lord Minto first, Pearl second, and Rupert third.

The other first prizes of the afternoon were:

Pair of horses—to be shown before a victoria or cabriolet—Gagrael, br. g., and Richmond, br. g., Joseph E. Widener, Ogontz, Pa.

Shetland stallions, not to exceed 45 inches—Jim Blaine, b. s., 38, 8 years old, Walter J. Goger, Newark, N. J.

Election Was Expensive.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The payrolls of the board of elections of Greater New York, approved today, showed that the recent city election cost the municipality $671,000, or $1 05 for each voter that was registered. Advertising cost $90,000; ballot printing, $35,000; incidentals, $75,000, and the rest went to registration and election officers. The state also expended about $80,000 in connection with the election.

CITY MAY NOT HAVE DEFICIT

ECONOMY OF BROWN ADMINISTRATION RESPONSIBLE.

The Recorder in Discussing the Financial Outlook Says That Even if Money Must Be Borrowed Before the End of Year the Amount Will Be Much Smaller Than It Has Been for Ten Years Past.

Pittsburgh may escape a deficit this year. The economy practiced during the administration of Recorder Adam M. Brown will be responsible if one does not result.

"We are economizing and hope by keeping the expenses of the city government down to the minimum to avoid borrowing any money this year," said the recorder yesterday.

"For more than 10 years past the city, under the Flinn regime, has regularly borrowed money, commencing months before the close of the year," said the recorder. "Large sums would be borrowed, to be paid out of the appropriations of the next year. Notwithstanding that more than $1,000,000 were borrowed last year and that a considerable part of this was redeemed out of this year's appropriations, and in spite of the additional fact that the tax rate this year was two mills less than last, we hope to finish the current year without borrowing.

"If we do have to borrow the amount will be considerably less than in former years. Some of the appropriations are almost exhausted, but the directors of all departments are practicing economy and reducing expenses at every possible point to avoid a deficit."

City Treasurer David R. Torrence said that it had been the custom for many years to roll up a big deficit at the end of each year. He said he had discussed the present financial condition of the city with the controller within the past few days, and they had agreed that the prospects were bright for a reduction of the deficit.

"Formerly we commenced, as a rule, to borrow about the first of October and continued to borrow until the succeeding March, when the spring collections of taxes came in," said Mr. Torrence.

"Last year the deficit at the end of the fiscal period was $1,296,000. The deficit was about the same every year. Although the tax rate was reduced two mills we expect to do much better this year."

STARTED MANY FIRES TO SEE ENGINES RUN.

Fourteen-Year-Old Boy in Jail for Endangering Business Center of of Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—After spreading consternation throughout the business section by kindling half a dozen fires last night, Charles McMenamin, 14 years old, thought he would start one early today with a few remaining matches. He was detected by a fireman in the act of kindling flames among waste in the rear of the Philadelphia Savings Fund. The lad, when questioned, broke down and confessed that he was a runaway and started the blazes which imperiled several business structures. He owned up to starting flames at these places between 6 o'clock last night and 8 o'clock this morning: Rear of the Pittsburgh Glass Company's building; rubbish in rear of Stetson's piano store; rubbish in the rear of E. Clinton & Co.'s brush store; fruit stand in a small alley adjoining Doeners hotel; a blaze in rubbish in the rear of A. G. Elliott's paper warehouse; some waste on the pavement of Evan G. Badges' warehouse on South Marshall street, and waste paper in bags in the rear of the Philadelphia Savings Fund society building.

The first six fires occurred at intervals of one-half hour and before midnight. The last occurred this morning.

At the station house the youth said he kindled the blazes because he liked to see the engines run. He was committed to prison to await trial.

CREEK LANDS DEEDED.

14,000 Allotments of Land in the Indian Territory Will Be Made by the Interior Department.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Nov. 21.—A letter from the secretary of the interior to a prominent Creek citizen states that deeds in severalty are now ready for the members of the Creek tribe, and will be issued at once to 4,000 citizens, to the amount of 230 acres each. The remainder will be issued at the rate of 1,000 deeds a week until all the lands shall be deeded. These lands may be sold to the whites after being deeded, with the consent of the interior department. There are 14,000 allotments in the Creek nation.

A STRONG PLAYER LEAVES.

Arthur Smith of the Edgewood Golf Club Goes to Washington, D. C.

Pittsburgh golf circles will lose their foremost professional, and the strongest player of the game in Western Pennsylvania, when Arthur Smith of the Edgewood club, leaves the first of the month for Washington, D. C. Smith has held the open championship ever since his advent here, two years ago, as the instructor for Edgewood. The Columbia Golf club of Washington, D. C., has secured Smith's services.

Smith came here from Toronto, Canada, and his play this season has attracted special attention. He won the open championship in the October tournament, at Schenley park, by a score of 39 for 36 holes. His record of 65 for the 2,000 yards of the Edgewood course is almost par golf, the best amateur mark being 70.

Smith's engagement with the Columbia club begins January 1. He is endeavoring to secure another professional for Edgewood, and is at present in communication with Nicol Thompson, the professional of the Hamilton Golf club of Toronto, Canada.

The Edgewood course is being improved for next season, by the elimination of the fifth hole, and the construction of a new hole, to be used as the eighth. This will be a little shorter than the fifth, but will be very difficult.

There is nothing scheduled for Saturday at Edgewood, though a golf ball sweepstakes will probably be played, if the weather is inviting. The tie of November 16 between Blaine Robinson and W. S. Dalzell may also be decided.

One of the biggest days of the season is planned for Thanksgiving. Cups offered by F. X. Barr and J. F. Guffey will be played for in a 36-hole contest, one going to the lowest gross score, and the other to the best net. A third subscription trophy will be played for against "bogey."

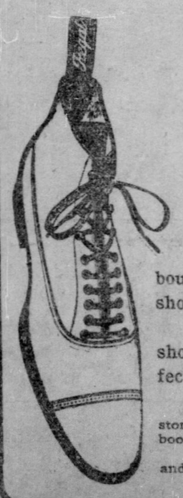
REGAL SHOES $3.50

PITTSBURG: 309 Fifth Avenue.



MORE REGALS ARE WORN IN PITTSBURG

than any other shoe. The reason is not hard to find. Pittsburgers have learned that the Regal is the best shoe they can buy—style, fit, wear: in every point the Regal is best.

No matter what you pay you can't get a better shoe than the Regal. Only recently a man came into a Regal store wearing a pair of $14 custom-made shoes. He had had them only a few days. He bought a pair of Regals—liked them better than his $14 made-to-order shoes—and declared that hereafter he would wear Regals.

No shoe at any price can be made of better material than Regals. No shoe can have more style. All sizes—all widths—you are sure of a perfect fit. Always and only $3.50.

The Regal is the only shoe sold at $3.50 direct from Tannery to Consumer in its own stores from the Atlantic to the Pacific. If Regals are not sold in your town, send for handsome book showing latest shoe styles and complete instructions for ordering by mail.

Regal Dressing gives the most lustrous and lasting polish, makes the shoes soft and easy, and preserves the leather indefinitely.

OUR THANKSGIVING SALE OF OVERCOATS

Commences Tomorrow Morning at 8 o'clock and continues until Thanksgiving Eve at 10 o'clock---A Not-To-Be-Missed Event.

If you are going to the football game tomorrow, or Thanksgiving Day, you will want a good, warm overcoat. You'll enjoy the game better in a smart, stylish outer garment bought at this annual Thanksgiving Overcoat Sale at a money-saving figure.

This is not a "cheap" sale. A "cheap" sale is one that puts price before quality; that sells any old shoddy garments; that lives on promising something for nothing.

This is a legitimate sale, offering overcoats at the height of the season at prices which are shaved closely to draw a large volume of business. Our recent heavy purchases give us the lever to raise the standard of our offerings and at the same time scale down the prices.

Wherever our clothing goes, satisfaction follows. This sale is calculated to place overcoats on the backs of hundreds of new friends, who will be made lasting believers in the "S. & R." policy of value-giving.

CLEAR VICTORY FOR REGULARS

The Candidate of Quay and Penrose Made Postmaster of Philadelphia.

CHARLES EMORY SMITH TURNED DOWN

Postmaster General Agreed to the Appointment Only After It Had Been Decided Upon by the President—Hick's Time Up January.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, 603 Fifteenth St., N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.

President Roosevelt wasted no time in placing himself on record as a friend of Senators Quay and Penrose and the Republican organization of Pennsylvania. The chance to so record himself came on the expected vacancy in the postmastership of Philadelphia with its salary of $8,000 a year.

The term of Postmaster Hicks, who was originally appointed through the influence of Senators Quay and Penrose, expires in January. As he had proved to be disloyal to the organization, he knew he would not receive the same recommendation for a reappointment, and last month he openly espoused the cause of the fusionists and was promised their support for another term. Postmaster General Smith was to see that the reappointment was made.

Yesterday Senators Quay and Penrose went to the White House and submitted to the president the name of Clayton McMichael for appointment to the position, and before they left the president assured them that the appointment should be made. He, however, asked them not to make public what had been done, as it might stir up trouble. They agreed, and the first announcement came from the White House today. It was a bombshell to the insurgents, and to none more than to Postmaster General Smith, as Mr. McMichael's name had not been mentioned for the place until it was presented to the president.

The insurgent organ here says Mr. McMichael was agreed upon by Senators Quay and Penrose and Postmaster General Smith. The writer is in possession of information that Mr. Smith's share in the alleged agreement was after and not before the president decided to make the appointment. It can also be stated that under President Roosevelt, as under the late President McKinley, Postmaster General Smith will not be consulted about the appointments of postmasters in Pennsylvania.

The selection of Mr. McMichael is a clear-cut victory for the organization in Pennsylvania, as he has always been a loyal supporter of Senators Quay and Penrose, and about five years ago was nominated and elected treasurer of Philadelphia, his victory being brought about by the senators and their friends. Mr. McMichael was marshal of the District of Columbia from December, 1882, to December, 1885, when he resigned to be succeeded by Marshal A. A. Wilson. Mr. McMichael was heartily commended by President Arthur for his work in the office. President Cleveland also wrote Mr. McMichael a letter speaking approvingly of his administration of the office, and all of the United States judges of the district united in a letter eulogizing in the highest terms the business-like methods instituted and maintained by Mr. McMichael. CHARLES W. METZGAR.

TOLD OF FINDING THE CENSUS CLERK'S BODY.

Colored Hotel Waiter the First Important Witness in the Trial of Lola Ida Bonine.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—The first testimony was heard today in the case of Mrs. Lola Ida Bonine, suspected of the murder of Census Clerk Ayres. The government's case was outlined by Assistant District Attorney Hugh T. Taggart.

There was, he said, a tie between the prisoner and the dead man in the fact that Ayres was a student of dentistry and she had studied medicine. As a consequence she became a frequent visitor of his room in the hotel where they both lived, not only in the daytime, but at night, as well, "and," he added, "the door was not always open when she was there." He told of the quarrels between them, saying that Ayres ceased to speak to her and that she complained of his ingratitude. He had danced with her on the night before the tragedy, but had shown that he was averse to a renewal of the former familiar relations.

A draughtsman and two photographers identified drawings and photographs of the room in which the tragedy occurred.

Daniel Woodhouse, colored waiter in the Kenmore hotel, who discovered the body of the young man, said that at 8:30 on the morning of May 15 he was asked by Miss Minas, who occupied a room next to Ayres, to go to Ayres' room. She said that on the night before she had heard strange noises in the room. He first discovered the body by looking through the keyhole, and afterward saw it through the transom. Ayres' body lay upon the floor and was doubled up.

Before Woodhouse had concluded the court adjourned for the day.

STAKES OF MILLIONS.

Distillers, Brewers and Brokers Will Besiege Congress to Reduce Tax.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—Indications multiply that the whisky distillers intend to make a tremendous effort this winter to have their tax reduced from $1.10 a gallon to 70 cents. The stake for which they are playing amounts to something like $60,000,000. An effort will be made to come together on some common ground before any effort is made with congress itself. The brewers will fight for a stake of $24,000,000, based on the manufacture of beer last year, which amounted to 30,000,000 barrels. They ask for a reduction of the tax from $1 60 to $1. The distillers and brewers have been unable to unite and these will fight their cases separately. The stock brokers of the country will also make a strong effort to have the war tax on the sale of shares removed. A delegation from the consolidated stock and petroleum exchange of New York called on the president today and presented a resolution requesting a repeal of the war revenue measure requiring a stamp tax on the sales of shares or certificates.

THE PENSION ROLL.

Veterans, Their Widows and Dependents Provided For.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—The following pensions were granted today:

Pennsylvania—Winfield S. Birch, Pittsburgh, $12; Norman G. Bundy, Dagus Mines, $6; Michael Fitzer, Runville, $10; Charles Richardson, Pittsburgh, $8; Sarah E. Miller, Pittsburgh, $8; Amanda E. Crable, Uniontown, $12; Emeline Pierce, East Smithfield, $12; Mary C. Bennett, Harrisburg, $8.

Ohio—Henry Brooks, Toronto, $6; Henry Foye, Freelands, $12; Lavenia Abbott, Massillon, $8; Anna M. McAfee, Dalton, $8.

West Virginia—Samuel A. Lackett, Garretts Bend, $12; Franklin Mason, Montgomery, $12.

West Virginia Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—West Virginia postmasters were appointed today as follows: Lewis Harrison county, E. F. Lyle; Mineral Wells, Wood county, Alonzo T. Morrison.

The Ambassadors and the President.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—All the ambassadors from European governments, except France, have called upon the president and have paid their respects, Count Cassini of Russia being the last. They express themselves as gratified over the reception accorded them, and as being greatly impressed by the president's manner and personality. It was the first time they had met President Roosevelt since he entered the White House. These interviews have developed no cloud upon the international horizon.

Moonlight Launching of Monitor.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—The novelty of a launching by moonlight will be attempted at Elizabethport, N. J., on November 27, when the monitor Florida will be christened. It is understood at the navy department that the hour set for the ceremony will get the advantage of a flood tide.

WILL SETTLE STRIKE.

Massachusetts Official Says the End of the Morocco Trouble Is Near.

LYNN, MASS., Nov. 21.—The morocco strike, which has been in progress for seven days in several factories and which affects over 1,00 men, appears within measurable distance of settlement in the opinion of Judge Reed of Brockton, chairman of the state board of arbitration and conciliation.

Only four morocco factories so far are directly affected, but a settlement of the trouble, now under consideration, will have a direct bearing on all the morocco shops in the city.

THE BIDDLES' DOOM SEALED.

Governor Fixes Different Days for Execution of Brothers.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 21.—Gov. Stone today fixed Tuesday, January 14, as the day for hanging John Biddle, and Thursday, January 16, for the hanging of Edward Biddle.

Being brothers, the Biddles dreaded the idea of being present at each other's death, and were content to take chances on who should die first.

"Fact and Philosophy," an entertaining article by "The Quiet Observer," in the Sunday edition of The Pittsburgh Gazette, November 24.

Here's a Pointer.

Take a postal card, address it to the Cranitonic Hair Food Co., 526 West Broadway, New York City, and write on the reverse side something like this: "Please send me a copy of the 48 page illustrated book entitled Hair Care and a sample of the Cranitonic Hair Food Products, which the Commercial Gazette says you are sending free and postpaid to people who ask for them." Sign your name, give your address, street and number and mail the card. Then wait a few days and you will receive by mail a sample of the most exquisite French toilet preparation ever offered to the public.

If you will write a letter, enclosing a small lock of hair or a sample of the daily combings, and state if you have falling hair, dandruff or itching scalp, the physicians of the Cranitonic Institute will make a microscopical examination of the hair, send you a report upon its condition and prescribe curative treatment free of charge. 11ih

SUIT AGAINST AN OHIO BOARD

Tom L. Johnson Demands Higher Equalization of Railroad Property.

WANTS TO FILE PETITION IN MANDAMUS

Cleveland's Mayor Claims That the Buckeye State Railroads Have a Tax Valuation Much Below the Proper Figure.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 21.—When the state board of equalization of railroads, composed of Attorney General Sheets, Treasurer of State Cameron, Auditor of State Guilbert and Commissioner of Railroads Morris, refused to grant the demand of Mayor Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland, that it raise the valuation of the railroads of the state far above that returned by the county auditors, Mayor Johnson gave notice that he would appeal to the courts to enforce his claims.

Today a motion was filed in the supreme court of the state by the mayor's attorneys asking leave to file a petition in mandamus against the board. The motion was accompanied by the petition as an exhibit. The petition asks for an order in mandamus commanding the board to reconvene at once and properly value the railroads of the state and not to be limited in this valuation by that placed on the roads by the auditors of the various counties.

The relator recites that he appeared before the board and showed its members that while certain 12 roads of Ohio were valued at $81,690,215 by the county auditors, their actual value was not less than $365,352,683, and that the whole of the railroad property in the state of Ohio was valued at not more than 30 per cent of its actual worth, instead of 60 per cent, as the statutes demanded.

The board, when the demand of Johnson was presented to it, decided that under the law it had no right to increase the aggregate valuation of the roads as returned by the county auditors. The supreme court will hear the motion for leave to file the petition Tuesday morning, and will allow the attorneys of the mayor 15 minutes in which to present their case.

Attorney General Sheets said today that he would not resist the motion, but would be glad if the court would grant it, as in case the action came before the judge, some long unsettled points of law would be decided.

BOTH WANT THEIR RIGHTS.

St. Louis Exposition Committee Still Disputing With the National Commission.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 21.—Another day was spent in fruitless conferences between the world's fair national commission and the officials of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition Company over disputed points in the rules and regulations adopted by the local organization for the government of foreign exhibitors.

The rules adopted gave to the local company the power to act as a board of appeals or arbitration in any differences that might arise between foreign exhibitors and the exposition. The national commissioners hold that, under section 4, of the act of congress, creating that body, it is entitled to this prerogative. Neither body seems willing to accede the point.

EPILEPTIC FITS

Mr. Shaffer had Epilepsy from infancy until he was cured by Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer.

NICHOLAS SHAFFER
EPILEPTIC FITS
—BY—
WHEELER'S NERVE VITALIZER.

The letter printed below tells of a nervous system disordered at birth and continuing into manhood, being successfully cured by Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer. Surely such testimony is convincing evidence that it will cure Nervous Prostration, St. Vitus' Dance and all of the milder forms of nervous diseases. A postal card will bring to any one more proof of this fact.

I have been troubled with Epilepsy all my life; some times would have three or four convulsions a week while at other times I would not notice them for several weeks. I tried several kinds of medicines advertised to cure such troubles, but did not get relief. I learned of Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer and gave it a trial and can honestly say I felt a greater improvement in using it than at any other time in my life. I keep it in my house all the time and recommend it to everyone who is suffering from such nervous troubles Nicholas Shaffer, West Liberty, O.

See that Spot!

You dont, but your friends do.

Why don't you have it covered but functional. It is caused by a weakened condition of the hair follicle, due to a microbe that feeds upon and destroys the delicate mucous membrane with which it is lined.

The hair-root, deprived of its nourishment, gradually becomes weakened, shrivels up and the hair easily falls from its collapsed follicle.

This very common condition—known as premature baldness—is overcome by the use of Cranitonic Hair and Scalp Food, the only safe and scientific cure for all hair and scalp diseases. It strikes at once at the seat of the disorder, destroys the microbe that causes it and assists in feeding the weakened hair-follicle back to health.

It can be done. The trouble is not chronic.

Cranitonic Hair and Scalp Food is not greasy or sticky, and contains no disagreeable or dangerous sediments. It is clear, pure as crystal, and delightful to use. Its odor is pleasant—yet not pungent. The important thing is—it grows hair.

For Sale by Druggists at $1.00 the bottle, or sent, expressage prepaid, upon receipt of price by the Cranitonic Hair Food Co.

SPECIAL NOTICE—If you have a thinly-covered spot like that shown above you are becoming prematurely bald. Don't wait until your case becomes chronic. Write the Cranitonic Hair and Scalp Institute, 526 West Broadway, New York City, and send a small sample of your hair combings; state in your letter if you have dandruff, falling hair or itching scalp, when our physicians will make a microscopic examination of the hair, mail you a report upon its condition and prescribe curative treatment free of charge.

To all who send hair we will mail free a 48-page illustrated book, entitled "Hair Cure;" also a sample of the Cranitonic products.

CAPTAIN FULTZ TO LEAD STARS

Has Been On the Sick List for Two Days, but Left for Quaker Town.

EXPECT TO RETURN WITH VICTORY

Players Are in Good Shape and Will Put Up a Sharp Game—Wash-Jeff and Carlisle Teams Ready for Hot Contest.

All doubt as to whether Dave Fultz, captain, coach and left half back of the Homestead Stars, would be able to play with the eleven tomorrow afternoon, when it lines up against the Philadelphia inter team, were removed last night when he started east with the team. Capt. Dave was not the most prepossessing looking star in the bunch, but he was there all right, and his presence added cheer and courage to his fellow players.

There was a wild rumor on the streets yesterday that the leader of the stars was confined to bed in the Monongahela house suffering from an aggravated attack of erysipelas, but such, happily, proved to be untrue. On Tuesday night Capt. Dave suffered from a slight attack of neuralgia which affected the side of his face and came very near closing up his right eye. Following this a slight rash broke out and the attack did look like erysipelas. A specialist was at once sent for, who, after a close examination, pronounced the eruptions to be a simple skin disease, which would yield to treatment in a day or two.

Capt. Fultz said last night, previous to the departure of the team, that he would be in the game all right. He will start out in the first half, and if all goes well will play the entire game, otherwise he will drop out and give one of the sub half backs a chance. He did not care to express an opinion as to the probable outcome of the game, but felt satisfied that his men would bring back a victory. He was well aware of the fact that the opposing eleven would be a very strong one, and said it would need to be strong, as he was taking quite a lively bunch of players down to Quaker town.

The stars had their final home practice over at Exposition park yesterday afternoon under the direction of Quarter Back Richardson. Hunt was out with his sore finger done up in bandages, and Perry Hale wore a pad over his right shoulder that looked for all the world like a jockey's saddle. Both players got into the practice work in lively fashion. Arthur Poe was not in uniform, but he was with the team last night, and said his knee was in pretty fair shape. Yesterday's practice was largely confined to signal work, and was gone through without the semblance of a mistake.

While the stars are doing stunts down at Philadelphia there will be a battle royal over at Exposition park on Saturday afternoon between the Washington and Jefferson and Carlisle elevens. This is one of the games which football followers have been looking forward to with considerable pleasure. The Indians have always been popular here and so has the Washington county team. The elevens this year are so closely matched that the experts of the game hesitate to pick a winner, and this fact alone will make the game worth seeing.

Manager Craig of the W. & J. team was in the city yesterday, and while here he made arrangements to reserve the star seams at Philadelphia announced by means of a megaphone to the spectators at Exposition park. The plays will be announced just as they are made on the field in Philadelphia. The score in the Yale-Harvard game will also be posted on the big bulletin board. The Carlisle team is booked to arrive here tonight, and will make headquarters at the Monongahela house, and the W. & J. team will arrive tomorrow morning. The W. & J. team will be accompanied by nearly 1,000 rooters from Washington county.

Season Over at Ashtabula.

ASHTABULA, O., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—The football season in this city is closed and the team has disbanded. Stoddard, one of the best men in the team, is unable to play the balance of the season on account of injuries sustained in an accident, and other members of the team are out of the city. The game which the Ashtabula team had scheduled with Conneaut for Saturday is off, and Conneaut will play New Lyme Institute. Conneaut will play with Greenville Thanksgiving day at Conneaut.

BUMPED THE SCRUBS.

Wash.-Jeff. Eleven Gave Evidence of Being Back Into Its Old-Time Form.

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—College men and others who witnessed the practice of the W. and J. football team this afternoon, in spite of the weak showing made by the 'varsity yesterday, declared the practice one of the best of the season. The 'varsity showed up surprisingly strong, and scored against the strong scrub team seemingly at will.

The feature of the practice today was the return of Heimberger, the big tackle, to the game. Heimberger was injured in the game against the Case school team several weeks ago and has been laid up ever since. He played at tackle during a part of the game, and in spite of the fact that he has not had a uniform on for several weeks, played in his old-time form, and the scrubs were unable to make any gains through his side of the line. Heimberger is one of the best players that ever played here, and his presence in the game has instilled more spirit into the playing. He will be able to play in a part of the Indian game at least. Capt. Aiken, who has laid off for a couple of days on account of a severe cold, was on the field today and took charge of the team during the afternoon.

All the men have now got into fairly good shape again, and if none of them are injured in the practice tomorrow, will be able to play the game of their lives against the Carlisle team. As has been the custom all week, the scrubs used the "wing shift" play against the first team again this afternoon, but the 'varsity did not have much trouble in breaking it up, and Coach Knipe thinks that the system of defense as practiced by W. and J. should effectually stop this famous formation on Saturday. Tomorrow will be the last practice the team will get before going to Pittsburgh on Saturday morning. The W. and J. college men have been practicing their yells for the game and will be out in force to root for the local team.

FOUGHT TO A DRAW.

Jack McClelland and Jack Hamilton Put Up a Very Lively Bout.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—Jack McClelland of Pittsburgh and Jack Hamilton of Troy, N. Y., fought a fifteen-round draw here, ending at midnight at the opera house before 3,000 people. The fighting was fast and furious and McClelland had the best of the match up to the tenth. Then Hamilton mixed matters and the honors were even. Lawrence Lutz of Beaver Falls refereed and William Roach of Steubenville was timekeeper. Jimmy Dime and Walter Burge of Baltimore seconded Hamilton, and Billy Corcoran of Pittsburgh was in McClelland's corner.

The men fought for and divided $500. This was their fourth meeting. McClelland having won twice and fought one draw. Both men were strong at the finish and the last three rounds were lively in the extreme. Hamilton led thrice to McClelland's twice, but repeatedly failed to land. The audience was the most orderly ever assembled in the local theater, and the police, who were present, were not needed to maintain order. A 10-round preliminary between Jimmy Dunn of this city and Dave Wayne of Allegheny was won by the former. This afternoon a committee of the Women's Christian Temperance union waited on Mayor Warnock to protest against the affair, but he was not in the city, and the women had no one to whom they could present their protest. On Thanksgiving McClelland meets Tim Callahan at Toronto, Canada, and Hamilton the same day fights Ed Quinn at Brattleboro, Vermont.

THE FOX LIES LOW.

Those Kentucky Hunters Are Having a Hard Time of It.

IRVINE DEPOT, KY., Nov. 21.—This was the third day of the National Fox Hunters' association's eighth annual meeting. A large attendance was attracted by the all-aged hounds contest. At sunrise the first cast was made four miles down the river, where last year two foxes were up at one time. The hounds hunted faithfully for two hours without striking even a cold trail. They were then called in and taken across the Kentucky river and recast at the point where the puppies raised a gray fox yesterday. They hunted here for an hour with the same result.

The judges in the puppy race rendered a formal decision, refunding the entrance money and commending certain of the entries, the highest recommendations being given to Williams' Lightfoot, Walker's Ellis, Grady's Cora and Wooldridge's Sid. The judges have ordered the running of another trial tomorrow.

Scottdale Eleven Outplayed.

MT. PLEASANT, PA., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—The Mt. Pleasant and Scottdale junior football teams came together at Frick park this afternoon, and the visitors were outplayed at all points of the game. The locals made three touchdowns in the first half, but the visitors braced up in the second half and kept the locals from scoring. Final score, 16 to 0, in favor of Mt. Pleasant.

Practice and Trophy Shoot.

The Homestead Gun club will hold a practice and trophy shoot on the club's new grounds on Saturday afternoon, to which all shooters are invited.

BOTH ELEVENS GOT SEND-OFFS

Yale and Harvard Cheered On to Victory by Thousands of Students.

ARE READY FOR THE BIG BATTLE

Yale Money Finds Lots of Takers at Cambridge—Blue Team Favorite in Betting—Cornell Is Shaping Up for the Pennsy Game.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 21.—Yale this afternoon finished her football training for the present year. At 2:30 o'clock over 1,100 undergraduates followed the team out to the field to get a glimpse at the final practice. The big crowd stood and waited patiently until 3:30 o'clock, when the gates were opened. There was just five minutes of play and then the players were sent to the gymnasium. The undergraduates greeted the team with tremendous enthusiasm. Every player and every coach was cheered again and again. Then the football songs were sung and the players went through their mystic rites preparatory to starting for Cambridge to battle with the crimson.

This evening the coaches held a long conference at the home of Walter Camp for the purpose of deciding upon the line-up for Saturday. Two places on the team, namely fullback and right guard, are still in doubt. It now looks as though Weymouth would start the game at fullback. But this question will be definitely decided tomorrow. The coaches are divided as to whether Johnson or Hamlin shall play right guard. This is the position left vacant by Glass. Hamlin filled it in good style in the Princeton game, but since then the work of Johnson has improved so much that some of the coaches think he is a better man than Hamlin.

Harvard Got a Great Send-Off.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—Every man on the crimson eleven got into the practice today and showed by the vim that he put into the game that he will be ready to fight tooth and nail against Yale next Saturday. Not a thing marred the playing of the team as it ran through the signals, cheered by thousands of enthusiastic students.

The practice, as will be the case tomorrow, was extremely light. The men went through a few of their more intricate formations in secret and then the gates were thrown open and the student body thronged in. Today's demonstration eclipsed anything that was ever given a Harvard eleven. More than 7,000 students and undergraduates were on the field, and, led by a band of 35 pieces, they gave the team some idea of the support that it will get in the game with Yale.

In return for this the team played fast, snappy ball. Early in the week a thousand dollars of Yale money arrived in Cambridge, and since then other installments have kept coming in. They have all been taken, in some cases odds being given on Yale as high as 7 to 4. The majority of bets, however, were 10 to 8 and 8 to 7, and they have been snapped up as soon as the color of the money was seen. Tonight, however, Harvard stock went up with a jump.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—The university indoor sports were given an impetus today when the candidates for the gymnasium team were called out for daily practice. Judging from present appearances the team will be the strongest represented by the university for several years.

All members of last year's team except one are in college and several new men from the big freshman class have reported as candidates. An exhibition will be given early in January to determine the all-round champion of the university and the team. The annual exhibition will be given on Washington's birthday and the dual meet will be held with Yale about March 1.

Cornell Men Get to Work.

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—The first line-up of the week took place on the Cornell gridiron this afternoon. Coaches Reed and Starbuck attended the Pennsylvania-West Point game yesterday and returned to Ithaca today with their heads full of ideas to impart to the men before Thanksgiving day.

The coaches are convinced that old Penn was not at her best yesterday, and still feel that Cornell will have to fight hard to defeat her. At present Cornell's prospects are not any too bright for her final game. Purcell is unable to report for practice, and it is feared that he will not play any more this season.

M'GOVERN AND CORBETT.

Their Coming Battle Promises to Be a Hot One.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—(Special.)—The interest of the lovers of boxing is now centered in the battle between Terry McGovern and "Young Corbett," to be held in Hartford, Conn., on Thanksgiving day. As the featherweight championship is involved both men have considerable at stake. McGovern, who is the present holder of the title, has the call in the betting, being 1 to 2 favorite. Among McGovern's admirers are many of the shrewdest bettors in the country, and they predict a knockout victory for the little champion within 10 rounds.

"Young Corbett" is by no means without friends. Several prominent western bookmakers are loyal supporters of the little Denver pugilist and they are likely to place considerable money on their favorite. Experts who pin their faith on the young westerner are of the opinion the Corbett is McGovern's superior as a hitter. They point out that the Denver lad has knocked out the same men in quicker time than the champion. Altogether it looks as if the battle is a positive in their belief that if the battle exceeds 10 rounds the western lad will surely be declared the winner.

INDIANS IN GOOD SHAPE.

Carlisle's Eleven Ready to Tackle Wash.-Jeff.

CARLISLE, PA., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—The Indian team has spent this week in signal practice and no more hard lineups will be indulged in before the team meets Washington and Jefferson at Pittsburgh. Trainer Conners has been working hard to get the men in physical condition to stand the remaining two games. Williams, the full back, has been given special attention and will be in better condition than he has for some time. Johnston, whose work was so conspicuous against Pennsylvania, has been in bad shape, but a rest this week has revived him and he will be able to go in Saturday's game with increased dash. Capt. Wheelock is also in good shape now.

Another Failure for Cresceus.

PUEBLO, COL., Nov. 21.—Cresceus failed to lower his record today on Pueblo's half mile track. Paced by his running mate he made the mile in 2:10¾.

DEACON PHILLIPPE HAD ENOUGH OF BLIZZARDS

The Pirate Twirler Is Back From Mt. Clemens and Will Spend Most of His Time Here.

Deacon Phillippe, one of the Pirates' star twirlers, who, it was thought, was out on a farm in Dakota, turned up in this city yesterday, looking in the best of health and ready to jump into any sort of a game, particularly baseball, if the weather was suitable.

Deacon Phillippe.

The Deacon's first call was on President Dreyfuss, and the Pirates' leader was astonished when Phillippe walked into club headquarters with a hearty "Hello." He said that he had just arrived from Mt. Clemens, where he has been since the close of the baseball season. Phillippe had been ailing during the best part of last season, but he is in fine trim now, in fact, he says he never felt better in his life, and he looks the part.

Phillippe intends spending a month or more in this city, during which time he will go on hunting trips with Hans Wagner and later a shooting party will be made up which will include President Dreyfuss and Lefty Davis, who is expected to return here next week. Phillippe has given up all thought of spending the winter months out in Dakota, where blizzards are almost a daily occurrence. Instead, he will go to Virginia, where the weather is more to his liking.

NARROW ESCAPE OF THE JOCKEY

His Horse Fell and Broke His Neck in the Bennings Hurdle Event.

HAIR-RAISING FINISH IN ONE RACE

Happy and Cornwall Had a Battle to the Wire in the Second Event. Only One Favorite Managed to Make Good.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Jim Megibben in the hurdle race was the only winning favorite at Bennings to-day, the remaining events going to good-priced horses. In the jumping race Jockey Brazil, on Salesman, had a miraculous escape from being killed. While taking one of the jumps in the midst of the bunch his horse fell and broke his neck and rolled over his rider. A hair-raising finish between Happy and Cornwall was a feature. Weather fair. Track fast. Summary:

HONORS FOR WOODS.

He Rode Three of the Winners at Oakland.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—J. Woods carried off the riding honors at Oakland today by landing three winners. His brother was first to the wire on Florenzo. Favorites were again successful, four of them getting home in front. The weather was fine, but the track was muddy. Florenzo, formerly a well-known performer on eastern tracks, struck a soft spot in the opening event, and won easily from Darlene and Commonwealth's Attorney. Essence lasted long enough to beat Bonnie Lissak a neck in the second race. Mounce, who had ridden Saturday, was in the saddle and finished second in one race. Summary:

First race, mile, selling—Florenzo, 109, J. T. Woods, 5 to 1, won; Darlene, 100, Birkenruth, 7 to 1, second; Commonwealth's Attorney, 109, J. Woods, 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:47. R. F. Mason, Monteagle, Justus Goebel, Meadow Lark, Joe Hocke ran.

Second race, 1 1-16 miles, selling—Essence, 107, J. Woods, even, won; Bonnie Lissak, 98, Birkenruth, 2½ to 1, second; Castake, 109, Romero, 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:53½. Siscovo and Cromwell ran.

Third race, ⅝ mile, selling—Sea Lion, 110, J. Woods, 4 to 5, won; The Singer, 107, Mounce, 5 to 1, second; Ringmaster, 107, Burlingame, 25 to 1, third. Time, 1:01. Corriente, King Dellis, First Shot, Prejudice ran.

Fourth race, ⅝ mile—Redan, 107, Vittatoe, 6 to 5, won; Joste G., 107, Howson, 4 to 1, second; Jean Swift, 105, Bullman, 7 to 1, third. Time, 1:03. The Giver, Fred Atterbury, Sister Jeanie, Winnie Cook, Silva Cruz, Dr. Scharff ran.

Fifth race, ⅝ mile, selling—Orginug, 110, J. Woods, 1 to 2, won; Eonic, 95, Hoar, 6 to 1, second; Flitzkanet, 88, Ransom, 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:15. Diderot, Gusto, Orleans, Follow Me Day ran.

Sixth race, mile, selling—Lode Star, 103, Birkenruth, 7 to 1, won; Dunblane, 112, O'Connor, 6 to 5, second; Alfred C., 112, J. Woods, 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:46. San Venado, Nellie Forest, Tony Lepping, Bob Palmer, The Gaffer ran.

Entries for Friday:

First race, 11-16 mile, selling—Bonitary, Game Warden, 99; Spry Lark, Lou Cleveden, The Scot, St. Anthony, Rinaldo, Blanche Sheppard, Canejo, Searchlight, 104; Ned Dennis, 107; Mac Phelps, 116.

Second race, mile, selling—Koenig, Bagdad, Billy Moore, Mortnel, Atlas, 109; El Oriente, Pegalong, 100.

West Virginia Preps Won.

MORGANTOWN, W. VA., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—In a well-played game here this afternoon the preparatory school football team of the West Virginia university defeated the Fairmont High school team by a score of 22 to 5. A large crowd came down from Fairmont to see the game.

READY FOR THE STARS.

The Philadelphia Eleven Will Have a Very Strong Make-Up—Light Practice Work.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—The Homestead football players will arrive in Philadelphia tomorrow morning and will meet Capt. Wallace's Philadelphia eleven at Broad and Huntingdon streets Saturday afternoon.

On the Philadelphia side of the line will be arrayed Bull, the great Red and Blue center, and McCloskey, Wallace, Steele and Merriam, also of Franklin Field fame. John Hedges has also been secured by the local team for the game. At guard will be found Roller, the 200-pound giant from D. C. A. C., and Smith of the Latrobe Athletic club. Behind the line Kennedy, the clever quarter back of Penn's '89 team, will pass the ball, while Washburn of Brown and Bader of Latrobe will be the half backs. Oscar Lang, one of the best all-around players in the country, will be a full back, and a formidable one at that. Schell, the big State college captain, will be in the game for Philadelphia.

The Philadelphia boys held practice at the grounds today and played Association football to get their muscles in shape. Oscar Lang and Devlin of Georgetown joined the squad, and a rapid signal practice was held. Jack Hedges was out and practiced at end. The team will take light practice tomorrow afternoon in preparation for the game.

THE THREE I LEAGUE.

It Will Remain the Same as Last Season.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—Representatives of the various clubs in the Illinois, Iowa and Indiana Baseball league met here today and perfected plans for next season.

It was decided to keep the circuit the same as for the past year, giving franchises to Terre Haute, Decatur, Bloomington, Rockford, Rock Island, Davenport, Cedar Rapids and Evansville. An attempt to get the Evansville and Terre Haute teams into the ranks of the Western association failed.

Resolutions were passed pledging cordial support to the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues, which was organized in Chicago last September. Another resolution was passed prohibiting farming or the loaning of players among the various clubs, and the salary limit was placed the same as last year, $750 per month, exclusive of managers.

BROAD AND CURLEY.

American and English Fighters Are Matched.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Stakes were posted with the Sporting Life of this city this afternoon for a match between "Kid" Broad, the American boxer, and "Will" Curley of England. The fight is to be for £500 a side and the weight is to be 126 pounds.

Homestead Rooters Have Coin.

About 50 Homestead rooters will go to Philadelphia today to witness the football game between the Philadelphia team and the Homestead eleven. They have all kinds of money with them, one man having a pool of over $1,000, subscribed to by Homestead steel workers, and will back the Homestead team to the limit. Some $500 at the Homestead Realty Company's office, which cannot find a taker who will accept the Philadelphia end.

Barrett Sticks to Detroit.

GENEVA, N. Y., Nov. 21.—Manager Frank Dwyer of the Detroit American league team has signed Barrett of Cincinnati. Barrett will play center field.

Among the Amateurs.

The D. C. and A. C. Jrs. will line up against the strong Kingsley A. C. on Saturday at the former's grounds. There is great rivalry existing between the teams and a good game will no doubt be played.

The Gruver A. C. football team would like a game at Carnegie on Saturday of this week with any 115-pound team. Expenses guaranteed. Call up G. A. Young, No. 1051 court, between hours of 9 a. m. and 3 p. m.

The Brushton Tigers will play the strong Park Place A. C. Saturday at Brushton. The following will report for practice tonight: Burke, Wills, Jamison, O'Leary, Alexander, Graser, Gibson, McCormick, Hissem, Wiel, Owen and Thompson.

The Emsworth Jrs. would like to arrange a game for Thanksgiving afternoon at 100 to 105-pound team, to be played on the Empire grounds at McKees Rocks. Will pay all expenses. For further particulars address Harry Dinsmore, manager, McKees Rocks, or call up P. R. R. 34.

The Central Jrs. basketball team has organized for the coming season with the following players: Gelman, Deaning and Bentel, forwards; Ehman and McClaine, center; Kramer, Alton and Reich, guards. Would like to arrange games with Manchester, South Side Turner Boys, Bellevue Juniors and Mt. Oliver. Address Philip Kramer, 2133 Forbes street.

The Tiger Juniors and McKeever academy Reserve committees met Wednesday evening and completed arrangements for the game on Thanksgiving morning at Recreation park. The tickets have been printed and are being sold. There will be every preparation made for the best and most interesting game and a large turnout is expected. The game will decide the 80-pound championship of Allegheny.

The following players of the original Franklin A. C. are requested to report for practice this evening at 7:30 sharp: Hamilton, Martin, J. and B. Ryan, J. and L. Van Lewn, Perrin, Kuhn, Rosen, Resnick, Silverman, Brody, Segal and Schwartz. They will line up against the High school football team of Carnegie on Saturday afternoon promptly at 3 o'clock. The management would like to arrange a game for Thanksgiving morning. Address, care Brody, 89 Congress street, city.

MAIDEN CLUNG TO HER LOVER

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

CUMBERLAND, MD., Nov. 21.—Late last night a couple arrived here on a Pennsylvania train and registered at a hotel as Frank Imler and sister. A few minutes later the captain of police received a telegram dated Paris, Pa., and signed by Charles Miller requesting the officer to arrest his daughter, Vernie, who had eloped with Frank Haver. As the couple at the hotel answered to the description of the eloping couple, and came on the same train, the police at once went to the hotel and confronted them. They both denied they were the couple wanted.

However, the captain of police wired the father that he thought he had his daughter under surveillance, and the latter wired back that he would be here on the noon train. When the young man learned this he suddenly became ill. A physician was summoned, when the girl confessed their identity and asked the physician to see her father when he arrived and act as peacemaker.

When the father arrived the young man was still in bed and the daughter refused to see her father until the physician had talked with him. After the conference was over a scene occurred between father and daughter. The girl clung to her lover and vowed she would die before she would leave him. The father remained obstinate, but late this afternoon promised the couple they might marry if they would return home with him, which they finally consented to do. The girl is 17 years old.

Miller, who is a prosperous Bedford county farmer, said his daughter leaped from a second-story window to elope with Haver. A constable at Mans Choice, Pa., tried to arrest the couple as they passed through that place, but they gave him the brother-and-sister story and he let them go. Haver recovered sufficiently to accompany the girl and her father home.

Morris Got the Decision.

BELLEVERNON, PA., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—In a ten-round go before a fair sized house tonight Page Morris of Charleroi, was given the decision over Jack Whitiatch of Rostraver. They were to box at 135 pounds, but Morris was much heavier. Besides this he had more science, his upper cut was a fierce one and brought blood on Whitiatch in nearly every round. The latter was floored once and was all but out in the eighth. The crowd was the most orderly ever at an exhibition of this sort here.

PITTSBURGHERS GET RAILROAD CONTRACT

Pennsylvania Company Preparing to Extend New Cumberland Branch.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Nov. 21.—According to information received here and believed to be authentic the Pennsylvania company has let contracts for the grading of the proposed extension of the New Cumberland branch of the Panhandle from its present terminus at Chester, W. Va., opposite this city, to Monaca, Pa. It is expected to have the line completed and in operation by December, 1902.

The successful bidders for the contracts were Thomas McNally and Booth & Flinn, both of Pittsburgh. The former has the Monaca end of the work. The Ohio river will be bridged and the Ft. Wayne tracks reached at Rochester. The right of way has all been secured. The extension will give the Pennsylvania company a through line to Pittsburgh along the right bank of the Ohio from Wheeling. Under the terms of the contract work is to commence by April 1, 1902.

WILL ERECT A BUILDING.

New Castle a Candidate for Amalgamated Association National Headquarters.

NEWCASTLE, PA., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—Local tin workers are pleased over the prospects for the location in this city of the national headquarters of the Amalgamated association. It is the intention of the Amalgamated to erect a building of its own, to be devoted exclusively to the business of the association. John Kaufman, a member of the Pride of New Castle lodge of this city, makes the suggestion that New Castle be selected, as it represents the strongest point in the sphere of the Amalgamated's influence in this part of the country outside of Pittsburgh.

This suggestion is now being considered by the national officers and the executive committee of the Amalgamated and a decision is expected soon upon this matter.

Family Sued for Damages.

LISBON, O., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—Howard Kelley of Highlandtown has entered suit against the McPherson family for $10,000 damages. His name was damaged to that extent he claims by his arrest and imprisonment, caused by the McPhersons last August. Summer McPherson claimed that Kelley had shot at him with intent to kill one night last August. For two years the McPherson family have been victims of whitecap practices. Kelley is a minister's son and a student at Groce City, Pa.

WOULD ABOLISH SECRET DRINKS

Zanesville Mayor Says Saloon Keepers May Do Business on Sunday Provided They Keep Their Front Doors Open and Abandon the "Sneaking" Habit.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

ZANESVILLE, O., Nov. 21.—Mayor James D. Holden, who, on Saturday night announced that hereafter he would abandon his "wide open" policy and close the saloons on Sunday, startled the people again today with a new announcement. He says the reason he issued his closing order was because the saloons would not keep their front doors open as he directed, but did business through the side and rear entrances. This, he says, he will not stand, and he has put the matter up to the saloons in this fashion: If they keep their front doors open and their rear and side doors locked they can do business on Sunday, otherwise he will keep them closed as tight as a tank. In announcing what he defines as his final and irrevocable policy, he said:

"I have always been in favor of a wide open policy. It was my desire from the start to have a wide open town, where people would feel just as free to take a drink on Sunday as they do on week days. But I found that I could not run things that way. Instead of keeping open on Sunday they closed the front doors and pulled down the blinds and conducted a side door business. When I asked the saloon men to keep their front doors open they refused. Then I determined to close them altogether. I am determined to break up this 'sneaking' in and out through the back door and side alleys.

"Now, if they will keep their front doors open I will not interfere with them. On the contrary, I will give them all the protection at my command, and I will stand responsible for the wide open policy. I don't care if they do carry out their threat to impeach me. They can do that whenever they like. It will not change my Sunday policy."

Pardon Board Meets.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 21.—The board of pardons today granted a pardon to Joseph Boschino of Lackawanna, serving a life sentence for murder. Applications for the commutation of the death sentences of John Lutz of Luzerne and William Allen of Fayette were refused.

Change of Time.

A general change of time will take place in the passenger service on Pennsylvania Railroad on Sunday, November 24th. Time tables can be procured from agents on Saturday 23rd instant.

CAR FAMINE HINDERS PRODUCTION OF COKE

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Nov. 21.—The Courier will say tomorrow: Coke production in the Connellsville region last week was practically the same as the previous week. The slight decrease in tonnage was no indication of a fluctuating market. Nearly every available oven in the region is in blast, and all of them would be running six days a week if they had the cars. As it is, most of the works are making full time, but much of the coke is stocked on the yards from day to day. The demand has probably never been so great except in times of strikes, and then it was not natural. The ovens that are idle now are not producing because they are either not in repair or else are new ovens not yet ready for coke making.

The detailed report of the operation and output of the region for the week ending on Saturday, November 16, shows a total of 21,833 ovens, of which 19,941 were active and 1,892 were idle. The total estimated production for the week was 236,155 tons, which was a decrease of 121 tons, compared with the production of the previous week. The active list of ovens was greater than for the week of November 9. The Lemont No. 2 plant is running full, fifty more ovens than reported last week. There was also a light change at the Hill Farm works of the Dunbar Furnace company. Several plants were laid off for want of cars. The Oliver plants were compelled to lay off half a day, owing to the overcrowded condition of their yards, caused by the failure to get cars. The Wharton Furnace company got just 24 cars last week at Bourne. The plant would be making six days a week if the cars could be had, instead of half time.

Shipments for the week aggregated 16,446 cars, distributed as follows: To Pittsburgh and river tipples, 3,577 cars; to points west of Pittsburgh, 5,028 cars; to points east of Connellsville, 1,841 cars.

Exciting Oil Strike.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—Excitement has been caused in this locality by a rich oil strike on the banks of Slippery Rock creek. James Book has just completed a well on the Cunningham farm, in Slippery Rock township, which is producing about 30 barrels daily of the heaviest grade of lubricating oil.

"Fact and Philosophy," an entertaining article by "The Quiet Observer," in the Sunday edition of The Pittsburgh Gazette, November 24.

CARNEGIE GIFT WINS IN COURT

Judge Edwards Decides That a School District Can Make an Annual Appropriation for the Maintenance of a Library—Offer Was Made to Norristown.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

SCRANTON, PA., Nov. 21.—President Judge Edwards today filed at Norristown an opinion in the celebrated case of Remandus Scheetz and others against the school district of the borough of Norristown and others, in which he was called last fall to specially preside. Citizens of Norristown petitioned Andrew Carnegie for a library. He agreed to donate $50,000 providing the town guaranteed $5,000 a year for its maintenance. The school board decide to accept the condition and passed a resolution binding the district to levy $5,000 tax annually for the support of the library.

Scheetz and other citizens, who opposed the acceptance of the gift, because of the attached condition, went into equity court for an injunction to restrain the school board. Their principal ground of complaint was that the debt limit would be exceeded. The defendants demurred on the grounds that the complainants are not parties in interest; that they are not entitled to the relief claimed in their bill, and the court has no jurisdiction. After a lengthy discussion Judge Edwards concludes as follows:

The complainants are proper parties and a court of equity has jurisdiction of the complaint.

The school board acted within the limits of reasonable discretion and by authority of law.

The resolution of the school board agreeing to appropriate $5,000 annually for the support of the library is not such an increase of indebtedness of the school district as comes within the prohibition of the constitution.

The school library act of 1895 is constitutional and is not repealed by the borough act of 1897. Judgment is directed to enter upon the demurrer in favor of the defendants and the bill of complaint is dismissed at the cost of the complainants.

One of Judge Edwards' declarations in his discussion of the constitutionality of the act of 1895 empowering school districts in cities other than those of the first and second classes to accept gifts for library purposes, etc., is as follows:

"It is now settled that there is no constitutional objection to the classification of school districts any more than of cities."

This was the implication of the supreme court's decision in the Pittston case of the commonwealth against Gilligan. Judge Edwards' declaration is an unequivocal interpretation of the meaning and effect of that ruling.

MRS. M'KINLEY DOES NOT GO INSIDE TOMB

Physicians Advised Late President's Widow to Cease Entering Vault.

CANTON, O., Nov. 21.—Abner McKinley, brother of the late president, was here today. During the day he accompanied Mrs. McKinley on a short drive, which included a visit to the cemetery.

Acting on the advice of her physicians, Mrs. McKinley has ceased to enter the vault, but Mr. McKinley went inside today. The casket i almost entirely concealed by flowers, which are received from time to time. Mr. McKinley went to Cleveland this evening to visit his sisters, Mrs. Duncan and Miss Helen McKinley.

OUTBID BY THE LARGE COMBINE

Consolidated Tobacco Company Gets McAlpin & Co., Blocking Universal.

THE SMALLER RIVAL IS UNDAUNTED

Gov. Van Sant's Crusade Has the Effect of Throwing Cold Water Upon Investments in Northern Securities Company.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The Consolidated Tobacco company (the "trust"), through its constituent the American Tobacco company, has acquired absolute control of D. H. McAlpin & Co., that firm being one of the most important independent properties in the country. The consideration is understood to have been $2,500,000.

The combine interests and the Universal Tobacco company were competitors for control of the property. Indeed, it was reported only as recently as yesterday that the Universal Tobacco interests had got control of D. H. McAlpin & Co., and would make it a constituent concern of a new combine, of which the Universal Tobacco company would be the nucleus, and which would include, besides D. H. McAlpin & Co., the Havana Commercial company, the Henry Clay and Bock company and Weisenger & Co. Control of Weisenger & Co. was recently acquired by Universal Tobacco interests, and their hold upon the Havana Commercial company is said to assure control of that concern.

Evidently, when the Universal people began to reach out for the Henry Clay and Bock company and D. H. McAlpin & Co., the combine decided to intercept the progress of an independent movement that was becoming altogether too formidable.

The Universal Will Persevere.

A representative of the Universal Tobacco company said:

"The result of current negotiations, in all likelihood, will result in the consolidation of a number of tobacco properties. Besides the Havana company, a number of others are involved, the names of which I am not at liberty to give. We are taking steps to introduce our products in foreign markets, and it is probable that our goods will be handled by a separate foreign concern.

"The Universal Tobacco company threatens to give the combine the most serious opposition it has ever had, and to trade interests the fight that is now unfolding promises to be long and bitter.

The following explanatory statement was made today by President William H. Butler of the Universal Tobacco company: "The McAlpin business was offered to the Universal Tobacco company, and figures representing the assets, business and earnings of that company accompanied the offer. After a careful examination we agreed to negotiate for the business and offered a price as large as commercial conservatism would warrant. A sum largely in excess of this was asked by the McAlpins, which asking price, by the way, was about $1,000,000 less than the trust is reported to have paid, and we called off all negotiations ten days ago and declined to purchase the business. I may say that the McAlpin company is a local concern, having its business entirely in the metropolitan district. Our goods are so well placed in this district, however, that the assistance of any other concerns are unnecessary. Our stockholders may rest assured that no busines will be acquired by the Universal Tobacco company unless it shows proper compensation to the company and profit to them."

Effect of Gov. Van Sant's Crusade.

The political hue in the northwest against the Northern Securities Company may have greater effect than many imagine. All authorities agree quite readily that the gentlemen who created the proprietary company to take over Northern Pacific and Great Northern are prepared to establish its validity in the legal sense, but that is not all there is to do. There is stock to the amount of $400,000,000 to be floated, and public support is the thing essential. Now the point is made that the hostile attitude of governors and legislatures is very apt to discourage public buying of the stock of the Northern Securities Company, and that would be embarrassing indeed. It is common knowledge that a gentlemen interested in this community of interest are heavily burdened with stocks, and one of the chief considerations making for peace, it may be supposed, was the urgent desire to share these burdens with the public. Presuming that the Northern Securities Company is legally invulnerable, it may require some little time to establish the fact in the higher courts, and, meanwhile, the public is likely to hold aloof from the stock.

Banks Recovering Gold Losses.

The tendency of sterling exchange here today, together with an advanced rate of Paris exchange on London, seemed to indicate that no more gold would be exported this week except unusual circumstances from London, and such inducements are not likely to be offered. As the banks stand now, they have recovered the bulk of the gold sent abroad this week. Credits to the amount of $3,700,000 were made at the sub-treasury today, on account of gold deposited at Pacific coast points. This will not be reflected in the bank statement Saturday unless payment is made tomorrow, which is not likely; but it is, none the less, an offset to the losses suffered by exports of gold, and will count as such in metal calculations.

Pittsburgh Iron Story Contradicted.

There was printed here today in a paper a special dispatch from Pittsburgh that representatives of all the larger steel interests, including those of the United States Steel Corporation, were in session here, and among other things would discuss the expediency of forming a pool of purchasers of old metal. The information was added that negotiations were on foot for a combination of scrap iron sellers to resist the combination of scrap iron buyers. Judge Gary of the United States Steel Corporation contradicts this story, and said that he was wholly ignorant of any such meeting. Other interests also denied it.

The Pig Iron Situation.

Rogers, Brown & Co. today presented an interesting review of the pig iron market. After having noticed the advance of $3 cents a ton in the price of southern iron they say:

"This places southern irons on a parity with northern and central and western markets, but throws them out of eastern markets, where the improvement has been slower. Furnaces in the Shenango valley are, one after another, dropping out of the race, being oversold. One large contract was closed for deliveries commencing in March and running through 1902. Several large interests have booked from half to three-fourths of full capacity to July 1, 1902. There is still a determined effort by large interests to prevent any further substantial advance in prices, and none need be apprehended unless through the over-anxiety of buyers. German and English makers are feeling our markets at various points, but except in a few specialties have not succeeded in breaking in. Reports from furnaces show that in spite of the car shortages stocks of pig iron are going off heavily again in November."

New Eastern Iron Combine.

There was current in New York iron circles today a rumor alleging that negotiations were moving toward the absorption of the New Haven iron & Steel Company and the Susquehanna Iron & Steel Company. The Susquehanna company is a combine of a half dozen or more concerns in Pennsylvania and is capitalized at $1,500,000, divided into shares of the par value of $5 each. Last year the company paid 9 per cent in dividends. The New Haven Iron & Steel Company is capitalized at $500,000, also divided into shares of the par value of $5. Such a deal would not be of much importance to the trade. A director of the Susquehanna company was seen in Philadelphia and denied the story. This denial, however, was considered here as being more or less technical.

Americans Secure African Contract.

Undisguised satisfaction is manifested here over the African contracts that have been taken by the American Bridge Company in competition with foreign builders. A representative of this company is quoted as having said:

"So much has been said in regard to the collapse in prices of iron and steel products in Germany and England that we expected low estimates on this work, and were not confident that we should get the business. We made fair prices, the best we could under the circumstances, and laid some stress upon the time in which the work could be done and upon other matters in which we thought our facilities would count. The result was gratifying, because it shows that, notwithstanding higher prices here, we are able, by the use of labor-saving devices, to reach totals on large contracts which cannot be met by builders abroad."

E. W. HARDEN.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

Latest Finds in Gold, Silver, Copper and Other Metals in the Far Western States.

(BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Vein matter encountered in the south drift on the 130-foot level of the Boston & Tintic at Tintic, Utah, discloses 7.2 per cent lead, 20.8 ounces silver and a trace of gold. A recent sample from the Sunrise, at Park Valley, shows $13 20 gold and eight ounces silver. The last shipment from the Red Wing at Bingham, ran 31 per cent lead, 11 ounces silver and $5 50 gold.

Owing to a shortage of cars Leadville's production has been cut down to 2,000 tons a day, mostly iron ore. If the smelters were in a position to handle the sulphides the output would be 3,000 tons daily.

It is reported that the Mabel M., Gold Dollar and several other smaller companies operating on Beacon Hill, Cripple Creek, are negotiating a consolidation of their holdings, which aggregate over $1,000,000 in value. The Mabel M. has produced upwards of $800,000.

The First Chance at Garnet, Mont., has shipped three carloads of ore that assays $1,073 gold to the ton. There is a narrow but well defined vein of this rock in the mine.

Shipping ore from the Lucky Boy near Kingman, Ariz., to the smelter at Clifton, 15 miles away. Assays run from 4 to 6 ounces silver, 63¾@64c. No. 2 ore, 60¾c. Fair to choice smelting barley, 57@62c. Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The market for coffee futures opened steady in tone, with prices 5 to 10 points lower under realization, following adverse European and Brazilian cables. Larger receipts in the crop country and foreign selling. Throughout the entire session trading was slow and of a professional character, with scarcely a variation in price. The large warehouse deliveries in this country and buying by the "metal clique" kept prices in check most of the day. The market was finally quiet at a net decline of 5 to 10 points. Total sales announced to 24,750 bags, including December at 6.40@6.45c; January at 6.50c; March at 6.70c; April at 6.75c; May at 6.85c; June at 6.95c; July at 7.05c; September at 7.25c. Coffee—Spot Rio steady; No. 7 invoice, 6¾c; mild steady; Cordova, 7½@11c. Sugar—Raw steady; fair refining, 3 3-16@3¼c; centrifugal, 96 test, 3 11-16@3¾c; molasses sugar, 3c; refined steady.

MODEST GIRL'S GRIEVANCE.

She Sues a Magazine for Printing Picture of Her in Short Skirts.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21—(Special.)—Edna M. Crawford, daughter of Chief of Detectives Ralph A. Crawford of Cincinnati, has come from that city for the trial of her suit for $10,000 against a magazine publishing company. The damages are claimed on account of the publication in the magazine of a picture of Miss Crawford in abbreviated skirts.

The trial began before Justice Herrick in the supreme court late today. She testified that she is only 21, graduating from the Sargeant school of art last spring. She had her pictures taken in vignette for class day. Later she learned that the magazine had fixed up the picture in ballet dress and was about to print it. She went to her lawyer, Atkis B. Cunningham, who wrote to the editor of the magazine. He answered, but the picture was published.

An injunction was secured from Justice Freeman and that edition of the magazine was destroyed. Then the suit was begun. David Gordon, for the maganize, moved a dismissal on the ground that she is a minor and must sue by guardian. She is of age in Ohio, though. Decision was reserved and trial will go on tomorrow.

CUBAN TROOPS INSPECTED.

Gov.-Gen. Wood Working Hard in His Island Territory—Will Visit Washington Soon.

SANTIAGO, CUBA, Nov. 21.—Gov. Gen. Wood and his party left last night on the government yacht Kanawha for Guantanamo, where Gen. Wood inspected the troops today. The Kanawha was compelled to return to the harbor on account of the rough sea outside, but left a few hours later.

An enormous amount of work was accomplished by Gen. Wood during his stay here. He inspected the details of every department and ordered many public improvements.

Gen. Wood will return to Havana, visiting all the ports on the north coast, and then go to Washington to endeavor to secure an amendment to the tariff schedules affecting sugar and tobacco, which he says he regards as absolutely necessary.

Rumors of a Vanderbilt Combination Startle Wall Street

BIG ADVANCE IN RAILROADS

New York Central Went Up Nearly Six Points Yesterday.

MICHIGAN CENTRAL WAS ALSO STRONG

Reiterated Story of a Plan to Combine the Vanderbilt Roads Was Probably the Cause—More Gold Will Go to Europe Saturday.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Prices of stocks drifted uncertainly during the early part of the day's trading, the rather acute depression at some points contrasting with steady absorption at others. This irregularity gave place during the course of the afternoon to a general upward movement in sympathy with the notable strength of New York Central, which touched 168½, an extreme advance of 5⅝ over last night's price. The buying of this stock was on a very large scale, many blocks of 1,000 shares and upward changing hands at every stage of the later advance. No news was forthcoming to explain this movement beyond the reiterated rumors of a plan for combining the Vanderbilt system. All of the Vanderbilts were affected by the movement. Lake Shore & Michigan Central, of which the shares not yet exchanged for New York Central collateral bonds are very few, sold at 34½ and 150 respectively.

Manhattan was another effective center of strength and was bought on an enormous scale by brokers usually acting for inside interests, the advance extending to 4¾ over last night's price in the late dealings. Missouri Pacific was also lifted 2¾, but otherwise the Gould stocks were not conspicuous.

Under the stimulating influence of this aggressive leadership practically all of the early losses were wiped out. The most conspicuous of these were in Great Northern preferred, which fell 2¼ under the influence of the agitation in the northwest against the Northern Securities Company. Amalgamated Copper and Peoples Gas. The level of prices was generally below last night at one time during the forenoon, while there was still apprehension that there would be further large exports of gold on Saturday. There was very large buying of Reading, but it never rose more than a point and Louisville & Nashville, Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville, a number of the coalers, Sugar and Consolidated Gas were notably strong.

The developments of the day made it improbable that further gold will go out to Europe immediately. Saturday's steamer is the last one conveniently available to carry remittances by the installment of subscriptions to the British loan due on December 5, and London made it manifest today that gold was not urgently required there by further lowering the buying price of gold and gold eagles, thus wiping out the margin of profit on gold shipments. Sterling exchange in Paris also advanced ½ centime additional, which operates to decrease the pressure for gold exports and adds to the probability that the requirements at Paris have been satisfied. Sterling exchange in New York eased off a fraction and money on call was easier in tone.

WALL STREET FEATURES.

Total sales, 799,900 shares.

Vanderbilt railroad stocks sold at a big advance.

Manhattan also strong.

Northern Pacific falls 2¼.

United States Steel common closed 42¼.

United States Steel preferred closed 92¼.

The New York subtreasury was advised of shipments of drafts on gold deposited on the Pacific coast, aggregating nearly $4,000,000. These developments served to relieve anxiety over the money outlook to a marked extent and were an effective factor in causing the late upward movement in stocks. A large demand to cover shorts helped on the rise. The market closed active and strong in spite of some profit-taking by room traders.

The railroad bond market was moderately active and prices were inclined to advance. Total sales par value $2,285,000.

United States refunding 3s registered, the new 4s and 5s advanced ⅛ per cent on the last call.

Americans Opened Weak.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Commercial Advertiser's London financial cablegram: The stock market today was inactive and dropping. Consols touched 91⅜ on harder money. American securities opened weak in London and remained but New Yorks half-hearted support caused a temporary rally. Union Pacifics recovering a point and others a fraction of a point. The close was weak. The market again borrowed from the bank. The bank returns shows that the reserve has been increased £640,000. The market supplies are depleted £7,000,000. The price of gold bars has been reduced 4d to 77s 9½d. Paris exchange is 25.17½. Berlin 20.44.

Local Stocks Were Quite Active With Several Sharp Movements

FIRE PROOFING JUMPED ABOUT

Common Stock Went Up $2 and Down $1 on Various Rumors.

WINDOW GLASS WAS ALSO VERY ERRATIC

Crucible Steel Common Was Firmer, Active and in Large Demand. The Preferred Strong — Pittsburgh Coal Preferred Weakened.

The market on the Pittsburgh Stock exchange yesterday was quite active, having several sharp movements in some of the issues. The total sales were over 7,000 shares and 200 receipts. No bonds were dealt in, this department being steady to firm without appreciable change in the quotations. Out of the seventeen different securities traded in nine advanced from ⅛ to 1¼ and five declined from ⅛ to 1⅛. Three were unchanged. The feature of the day's business was in National Fire Proofing Company stocks. The common was particularly active, selling almost 2,000 shares. The opening occurred at 33, an advance of ¼, and then the price steadily went up to 35. At the last call the stock reacted to 33½, but finally closed at 34, a gain of 1¼ over the previous sale. The preferred sold a little over 200 shares at 41⅝, a gain of ¼. The movement in the common was doubtless due to rumors of various kinds. One was that a combine with the Columbia Fire Proofing Company would occur and would redound to the profit of the National in several ways. Another rumor was that there was excellent reason to expect another "melon" on the common stock, in some shape or other. But, as the last dividend was just paid yesterday, an extra was deemed improbable. W. H. Graham, treasurer of the company, said last night that the company was doing excellently and that it was expanding in various ways which might some time result in extra dividends, but that so far as he knew, nothing of the kind was in contemplation at present. Owing to the continued building activity the products of the company are in great demand, thus adding largely to its earnings.

In the other stocks Window Glass common divided honors with Crucible Steel common. The first named sold nearly 1,200 shares and was very erratic. The opening and high was at 54½, the low at 52¾, and the close at 53⅝. It is believed that the movement is a result of the decision to cut the price of glass 20 per cent and to reduce the amount sold to jobbers. Outside manufacturers are also beginning to make their powers felt. The result of the day's trading was a decline of 1½. Crucible Steel common sold about 1,050 shares and closed firm and in good demand at 28. The preferred advanced ⅛ to 85⅛ on sales of a little over 500 shares, and finished strong at the top. In the remainder of the list there was not much of importance. The rumor that Consolidated Ice directors might pass the next dividend of 1 per cent on the common stock in order to secure funds with which to build a $150,000 plant on the South Side checked speculation in that stock, so that only 30 shares were sold at 15½. That was a gain of ⅛, but is still ⅛ below the high point of the week. Later, the stock offered at 16, with 15 as the best bid. The Coalers were quite dull, Pittsburgh preferred leading with 450 shares. It was, however, weak and closed at 91⅞, a loss of ⅛. The common was firmer and ⅛ higher at 27½. River preferred advanced ¼ to 46¼ for 100. Brewing preferred also gained ¼ at 63¾. Electrics lost ⅛ at 71⅝, and Airbrake was unchanged at 173. The traction and gas shares were dull but steady. In the quotations, First National Bank of Pittsburgh advanced $5 to $490 bid, and Third Glass at noon.

10 Westinghouse Airbrake offered at 173½ at the last call.

Holmes & Sons sold 100 River Coal preferred at the last call at 46¼.

Hill & Co. bought 300 Pittsburgh Coal common at the last call.

Robinson Bros. bought 55 Citizens Traction at the first call from C. Schmidt.

The First National Bank of Crafton is clearing through the M. & M. National bank.

At the first call Standard Chain common quoted at 10 bid and the preferred at 45 bid.

Masten & Co. bought 200 Crucible Steel preferred before the first call, of which Sproul sold 200.

A. J. Lawrence sold 100 Westinghouse Airbrake at the first call at 173; McMullin took 99 and Hill one.

At the closing call Robinson Bros. were the only buyers of Crucible Steel preferred, taking 185 shares.

At the closing call Crawford & Eberman sold 200 Consolidated Traction common receipts to Robinson Bros.

Masten and Sproul & Co. sold Window Glass common at the last call; Miller, Holmes and A. J. Lawrence bought.

A special meeting of the stockholders of the Bank of Secured Savings of Allegheny will be held December 26 to vote on changes and additions to the by-laws. The stock of the bank advanced to 63½ bid.

At the last call Hoag bought 170 Fire Proofing common; Sproul, 175; Hill, Campbell and Crawford & Eberman 100 each.

R. C. Hall was the only seller of Westinghouse Electric seconds at the first call, Hill & Co. taking 100 from him at 71¾.

The only seller of Fire Proofing preferred at the last call was Sproul & Co., who disposed of 215 shares; they also sold 150 common.

Before the last call Walker & Walwright sold 150 Pittsburgh Coal preferred and Wettengel sold 100; Sproul took 100 and Hill 150.

At the opening call Marlin bid 103 and accrued interest for $250,000 Sharon Steel 5s, and 105 was bid for $1,000. There were no offerings.

The Massachusetts gas and electric light commissioners have authorized the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston to issue 5,000 new shares at $200.

Mustin at the first call bid 53¾ for 1,000 shares American Window Glass common, buyers' option 60 days. He also bid 22¾ for 1,000 shares Crucible Steel common at this call.

At the first call A. E. Masten & Co. bought 1,000 Crucible Steel common, of which Hill & Co. sold 700; before the noon call they got 500 more from Robinson & Orr and 300 from Hill & Co.

The Boston stock exchange has listed the Montreal & Boston Copper Company, Ltd. The authorized capital is 600,000 shares, of which 300,000 shares are held in the treasury. The stock listed amounts to 370,009 shares of a par value of $5.

At the first call R. J. Stoney, Jr., sold 300 National Fire Proofing common, and Miller bought 350; at noon Miller took 200 more; Hill bought 497, Doty 200 and Barbour 80; Anderson and Schmidt each sold 200, Robinson Bros. 50, Wettengel 200 and Mcmullin 100.

At the first and second calls Miller sold 200 American Window Glass common, Sproul 50, R. C. Hall 105 and Carothers & Co. 225. Masten bought 50, Penny 100, Hill & Co. 225, R. C. Hall 100, McMullin 100, and Wettengel, Lawrence and Hoag 50 each; after the noon call McMullin sold 300 to Crawford & Eberman and Carothers & Co. 50 to Speer Bros.

Under the tax assessment made by the Illinois state board of equalization the Peoples Gas Company of Chicago will have to pay $645,000, instead of $866,000 as originally fixed before the supreme court made its recent decision. This advance is for last year and is an increase of back taxes under the court orders. The Chicago corporations are assessed net $7,427,000 compared with $1,700,000 before the court's decision.

According to the bradstreet news bureau the earnings of the General Electric Company are phenomenally large. For September the net earnings aggregated $900,000, but the October net earnings broke all previous records, amounting to $1,000,000, and from orders now on hand it is known that the company will be able to show $1,900,000 net per month the first quarter of this year. These earnings make sure that the General Electric Company will be able to accumulate a surplus of at least $1,200,000 by April 1, which will permit the restoration of its capital to $40,000,000, as it was previous to the reduction in 1898. Its surplus now amounts to nearly $12,500,000. To acquire only $8,000,000 of net earnings per annum to show 20 per cent annum on a capital of $40,000,000 and the company will be able to show better than this for the year to end January 31.

Earnings and Dividends.

The net earnings of Chicago & Alton for October increased $36,471.

Gross earnings of Pere Marquette for the second week in November increased $14,500.

Directors of the Ohio & Indiana Consolidated Natural and Illuminating Gas Company have declared the usual quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on stock, payable December 16. Books close November 26 and reopen December 17.

A report is current in Boston that the Leading Companies which will operate Burlington, will guarantee 7 per cent dividends on the stock and no more.

SMALL LOSS SHOWN.

Pittsburgh Bank Exchanges for Yesterday $83,000 Less Than the Same Day a Year Ago.

Pittsburgh bank exchanges for yesterday were a little over $83,000 smaller than those for the same day last year, but about $1,184,000 larger than for the preceding Thursday. PITTSBURGH PRICES FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Potatoes Reach a Higher Level and the Market Is Excited. Poultry Plentiful.

Hay, Grain and Feed.

Strong hay and grain markets continue to prevail, grain and millfeed especially showing great firmness, and an inclination toward higher prices. Car of white oats sold on track $2 a ton, the highest notation being now $26, the most exalted position occupied by this product for a long time; other grades, together with corn, were forward, but the percentage of increase was not so great. Shelled corn reached 70 cents a bushel, while ear made a new high record for the season, going to 72 cents. There was a fractional advance in oats. There is a heavy buying demand all over the country, which is keeping the markets stiff. Oats seldom sell having so much to do with the present nervous condition as the actual influence of supply and demand. Arrivals in this market are not heavy.

Bellefield: Market quiet; heather yards, 5 cars hay, 1 car feed, 14 cars oats; Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago railroad, 2 cars hay, 1 car oats, 1 car feed, 4 cars flour, 1 car bags; Baltimore & Ohio railroad, 2 cars hay, 1 car oats; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, 1 car hay, 1 car oats; total receipts, 34 cars.

Following are the official quotations for hay, millfeed, grain and flour, as reported by the superintendent of the Pittsburgh grain exchange:

Straw—Oat, $7 50@8 00; wheat, $7 50@8 00; rye, $8 50@9 75.

Rye—Milling price, delivered, No. 2 Michigan, 66@67c.

Hay—Choice timothy, $14 75@15 00; No. 1 do, $14 25@14 50; No. 2 do, $13 00@13 75; No. 1 mixed, $11 00@11 50; No. 1 clover, $11 00@11 50; prairie, $10 25@11 00; packing, $8 00@10 00; loose from wagon, $16 00@17 00.

Wheat—No. 2 red winter, 68@68½c f. o. b. car within radius of 50 miles of Pittsburgh.

Oats—No. 2 white, 47¾@48¼c; extra No. 3, 47@47½c; No. 3 white, 46¾@47c.

Millfeed—Middlings, No. 1 white, $25 00@26 00 per ton; No. 2, $23 00@24 00; brown, $21 00@22 00; bran, $21 50@22 00.

Groceries.

A wider range of quotations is required for flour to meet the views of different jobbers, who are looking at the situation from various standpoints. Wheat has shown a little weakness in the last week, but there has been an inclination on the part of some of the local wholesalers to keep flour quotations unchanged, a few others have decided to make reductions. As a result it is necessary to quote the market for fancy spring patent at a range of $3 90 to $4 10, although there is a strong effort being made by dealers to keep up to the $4 line. Beans are firm, navies selling at a range of from $2 to $2 15, pickers being unable to keep up with the demand. Opinion is expressed by jobbers that, with a fairly cold winter, insuring a steady demand, supplies will not be sufficient to assure plenty of beans for the season.

Flour—Jobbers' price: Fancy spring patents, $3 90@4 10; fancy winter patents, $3 70@4 80; straight winter, $3 50@3 60; bakers' spring, $3 30@3 60; low grades, $3 00@3 25; graham, $4 25@4 50; cornmeal, bbl, $3 75; 10-lb cotton bags, 21 cents.

Fruits and Produce.

It would require a profit and more than a prophet to correctly forecast the outcome of the potato market for the next week. Prices are advancing all week, and selling from store yesterday was at $1, with some sales made at still higher figures, while track prices ranged from 90 cents to $1 10. Factors are waiting from 75 to 90 cents at points of shipment, and some are refusing to sell at any price. Those who have not yet begun to operate during the warm weather of last month are now unable to purchase at prices that are considered profitable, and but little storing is now being done. Farmers are showing a disposition to keep hold of stocks, hoping for further advances in the future, and, where it is possible, deliveries are being refused on contracts. Dealers do not look for prices to go much above $1 25 before long, and that a dollar price will be the lowest point for the balance of the season. However, opinions may be one thing, what will happen as high markets may attract some unknown supplies which will relieve the tension of the situation; or farmers may hold on, and the result will be a still higher market in consequence. New York state had a good crop and the only uncertain quantity is as to how much of it was ruined by dry rot. If a price of a dollar a bushel is reached, it would likely be broken by the bringing into the market of Canadian potatoes, which are abundant and have been sold here before in other years to break high markets. There is not any famine or any shortage as long as buyers are willing to pay the prevailing price, and this will not likely be changed after the present nervous excitement has worn off. As pointed out before, supply and demand are so nicely balanced this year that any temporary shortage is likely to create a flurry in which stock can be hurried forward to meet requirements. Onions are also fancy scarce, and are quoting higher on the spot this season the receipts have been only of second grades; now, however, prime stock is coming forward and prices are advancing. Beets are good property and are selling at 50c per bu. Celery and egg plant are both a little easier. The grape season is rapidly approaching a finish, and but little stock, save Concords, can be found in the market. Celery is selling better, and Bethlehem is slow. Cranberries are active, but are plentiful and of fine quality.

Apples—Common, $2 00@2 25 per bbl; fancy, $4 00@4 50; California, per box, $1 75@2 00.

Spanish onions—Per crate, $1 75@2 00.

Cranberries—Per crate, $2 75@3 75; per bbl, $7 50@9 00.

Tropical Fruits and Nuts.

There is a noticeable improvement in the quality of Florida oranges, both color and flavor being decidedly better; about 15 cars a week are being disposed of in Pittsburgh markets. Californias are not yet coming in freely, the market here is heavy by about $1 than points east and west of Pittsburgh, and 25@50c over the prices in Chicago. The fruit is still a little green and sour, and no anxiety is shown to draw any large amount here. Jamaicas are having some call but very little in demand than Floridas. As prices now remain unchanged:

Limes—Box, $1 00.

Lemons—Messinas, $3 00@3 50.

Pineapples—Florida, crate, $3 50@4 [illegible] smooth, Cayennes, $5 50@6 00.

Almeria grapes—Per keg, $4 50@5 00.

Almonds—14c; filberts, 11c; English walnuts, 11c; Brazil nuts, 10c; pecans, 10c; spanish nuts, 11c; peanuts, jumbos, 7½c; fancy, 6½c; roasted, 8c per lb; chestnuts, 50@60c; shellbarks, $1 50@2 00 per bu; walnuts, per bu, 50@60c; Johnnie brand, per bag, 25c; California paper shell almonds, 16c; Italian chestnuts, 9c.

Butter, Eggs and Cheese.

Receipts of high-grade butter are no average, and heavy, and the market continues firm under the influence of a good demand. Indications are that the advance of the week will be maintained next Monday. There is no change to chronicle in the situation, so far as the hopeful conditions seem to have disappeared from the New York market, but the fact that factories are rapidly closing down for the season will help to keep prices firm and help to put the market on a stronger basis. Eggs rule firm, with supplies of fresh light, [illegible] Elgin creamery, 24½@25c; Ohio creamery, 24½@25c; dairy butter, 18@19c; fresh country roll, 16@17c; cooking butter, 14@16c.

Cheese—New York full cream, 11@11½c; choice, 11@11½c; ¾ cream, Ohio, 11@11½c; Limburger, 12@13c; Swiss, 14@16c; Wisconsin Swiss, tube, 15@15½c; 20-lb block cheese, Ewes, 13½@ 14½@15c; 5-lb brick cheese, 13@13½c; Limburger, new, 12½@13c.

Eggs—Fresh, candled, doz, 27@29c; a scarce article.

Provisions.

Smoked meats—Hams, over 16 lbs, 10½c; medium hams, 12 to 16 lbs, 10½c; small hams, 12 lbs and under, 11c; skinned hams, 12c; boneless boiled hams, 10½c; California hams, 7½c; smoked hams (New York cut), 8½c; dried beef, skinned, 9c.

Breakfast bacon—Rib, 8 to 10 lbs, 12½@ 13c; 10 to 12 lbs, 12½c; do back strips, 11½c; do clear, 8 to 10 lbs, 12½c; do 10 to 12 lbs, 12½c; do back strips, 11½c.

Dry salt meats—Sides (extra short clear), 8¾c; bellies (clear), 20 to 25 lbs, 9c; bellies, under 20 lbs, 9¼c.

Dry salt smoked meats—Sides (extra short clear), 9c; bellies (heavy), 20 to 25 lbs, 9¾c; bellies, under 20 lbs, 10c.

Lard—Pure lard (tierces), 8½c. The advance for smaller packages over tierces is as follows: Tubs, 50-lb, ¼c; tubs, 20-lb, ½c; pails (about 100 lbs), ½c; fancy tubs, new or old, ¼c; wooden buckets, not to be used, ½c; 50-lb tins, ¼c; 20-lb tins, ½c; 10-lb tins, ¾c; 5-lb pails (6 in a case), ¾c; 3-lb tin pails (12 in a case), ¾c; 2-lb tin pails (20 in a case), 1c.

Poultry and Game.

There is no abatement in the heavy receipts of chickens, which have been coming forward in large consignments all week, while turkeys have been in more moderate supply, though not scarce. It is expected that there would be plenty for all next week. Ohio river packets will arrive today and are reported to be bringing large shipments

SHE LEFT HER "HAPPY HOME"

Oyster Man's Marital Troubles Told in Commissioner's Report.

HATED HIM BECAUSE HE WAS A CRIPPLE

Husband Testified His Wife Often Remarked He Resembled a Meat Hook and Deserted Him and His Children.

The report of the commissioner in the divorce case of Thomas H. Johns against Matilda Johns, was filed. They were married August 15, 1895, and separated March 14, 1899. The libellant testified that he was employed at night as an "oyster man" in a restaurant, and upon his return home he always found his wife out. One day, Johns swore, he found his child at a neighbor's, and upon inquiry a woman told him that his wife had gone away, and that she remarked she was going to have a good time even if she left her "happy home." The libellant further says his wife deserted him next day. He also said his wife "formed a hatred for him because he was a cripple," and that she often remarked he resembled a "meat hook."

An answer was filed in the divorce suit of Moffett W. Maxwell against Lucy A. Maxwell, in which the latter denies a charge of infidelity.

WANTS ANOTHER CHANCE.

G. A. Ecker Asks for a New Trial in His Suit Against Jones & Laughlins.

George A. Ecker yesterday made application for a new trial in his suit against Jones & Laughlins, Ltd., for alleged damage to property on Chatsworth avenue, as a result of the fumes and smoke from the defendants' coke ovens along Second avenue, Twenty-third ward, in which case a verdict was returned for the defendant company.

It is alleged the court erred in charging the jury that if it believed under the circumstances in the situation of the plaintiff's property, the defendants' coke manufacturing was carried on in a reasonable manner, there could be no recovery by the plaintiff. It is also alleged that the court erred in expressing to the jury an opinion that the proof as to the plaintiff's damage was not clear, or words to that effect. The matter will come up on the regular argument list.

DENIES SECRET TRADE.

Fidelity Title and Trust Company Files Answer to an Equity Suit.

An answer to the equity suit of the Pittsburgh Manufacturing Company against the Fidelity Title and Trust Company, trustee of Thomas Marshall, was filed in common pleas court No. 2 yesterday. The bill stated that Matilda W. Denny leased certain property on Railroad street to the plaintiff on November 11, 1881, for a term of 21 years. It further said that on May 24, 1893, a representative of the plaintiff secured an extension of the lease for 10 years, and that during August, 1900, Thomas Marshall secretly purchased the property and never declared his interest in the purchase to the vendor or her agent, but left them under the impression that it was purchased for the plaintiff. It was asked that the defendant produce the lease, that a decree be made showing the plaintiff is entitled to a ten-year renewal and that the defendant be required to execute a new lease.

In the answer filed it is denied that Marshall dealt secretly to get the property and that he purchased it with the understanding that the lease expired April 1, 1903.

Enrights Get Damages.

In common pleas court No. 3 Patrick Enright was awarded $500 damages and his son $3,000 damages in a suit against the Pittsburgh Junction Railroad Company, for personal injuries received by the last named plaintiff. At a previous trial of the case a non-suit was granted and the plaintiff took the case to the superior court, which reversed the lower court. Young Enright was stealing a ride on one of the defendant's trains when he was seen by a brakeman. The latter took a club and drove the boy from the car and he fell under the wheels, having one of his legs amputated.

CAR SHORTAGE IS STILL FELT

No Relief Is Anticipated Until Western Grain Movement Is Over.

GREATEST SUFFERER IS PITTSBURGH

Baltimore & Ohio Is Forced to Issue an Embargo Against Receiving Any Coal from Mines—Motive Power Is Also Crippled.

Relief from freight congestion and car shortage is not yet in sight in this city. Conditions are somewhat better now than a month ago, but the present status is still unsatisfactory to all concerned. The Baltimore & Ohio was reported yesterday to have issued an embargo for 48 hours, against receiving coal from any of the tipples. All the available cars and motive power are to be devoted to handling the cars already filled and awaiting shipment.

On the Pennsylvania lines and railroad, and the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie also, the situation continues very unsatisfactory, although some relief must of necessity come when the western demand for cars is filled. It is said that by December 1 the great bulk of the western crops will have been cared for, so that the freight cars, especially box cars, of the local lines will begin to return home.

Reuben Miller, the well-known business man of this city, said yesterday that he believes relief will be found for the present distress only when some one person with sufficient experience assumes authority over all the Pittsburgh terminals.

Chairman John Eaton of the railroad and transportation committee of the chamber of commerce, which has taken up the matter for thorough study, has been out of town for several days, but is expected back today. While it is possible that a meeting of the committee will be called tomorrow, it is thought more probable that the meeting will be held Monday or Tuesday next. There is to be no delay in the action of that committee, it is authoritatively stated, and its first visit upon railroad officials will be to Philadelphia to see President A. J. Cassatt of the Pennsylvania Railroad company.

While the freight car shortage is not restricted to Pittsburgh, there are few cities that have suffered so greatly as this. Chicago, in particular, is still wrestling with the problem, and Cincinnati is also having difficulty in unloading freight, as well as obtaining cars.

Orders for additional equipment are pouring in daily to the car and locomotive builders of the country. The Philadelphia & Reading will, within a few days, announce an order for 3,000 freight cars. That company has already had 5,000 steel cars built at the Pressed Steel Car company in this city and the Cambria works at Johnstown, and it is thought the new order will be divided between those two companies.

Loree Gets Another Presidency.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern Railroad Company was held in Cincinnati yesterday afternoon. The following directors were elected for the ensuing year:

Edward R. Bacon, William M. Greene, Arthur Hale, Otto H. Kahn, L. F. Loree, James McCrea, H. Clay Pierce, J. C. Schmidlapp and Frank W. Tracy.

Immediately after the stockholders' meeting the new board of directors met and organized as follows:

L. F. Loree, president; Edward R. Bacon, vice president; William M. Greene, vice president and general manager; George F. May, secretary; Edward H. Movius, assistant secretary; J. V. McNeal, treasurer.

The change in the presidency from Bacon to Loree was due to the fact that the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company has adopted the policy of having its president also the president of all the constituent companies. President Loree said the removal of the general offices from Cincinnati to Baltimore was not contemplated.

Batchelder and Carothers Named.

F. C. Batchelder, superintendent of the Chicago division of the Baltimore & Ohio, with headquarters at Garrett, Ind., is to succeed Thomas J. English as superintendent of the middle division at Newark, O. Mr. English has just taken charge of the Pittsburgh division. It is also reported that D. D. Carothers, who has been engineer of maintenance of way of the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern, will take charge of the Chicago division, to succeed Batchelder. There is no reason to doubt that J. C. Stuart, now general superintendent at Chicago, will be appointed general superintendent of transportation of the whole system, which position William Gibson, the present incumbent, has announced he will resign, to return to Pittsburgh. L. G. Hass, now assistant to the general manager, is said to be slated for the Chicago general superintendency.

Union Station Strike Weakens.

Representatives of all the striking building trades employed at the new Union station returned to work yesterday, according to A. N. Haslett, the architect in charge of erecting the building. The strike is as good as ended, he says, with this action, for the men have come to the conclusion that the sympathetic strike is not worth while. On the masonry and supporting structural work of the new train shed, which caused the whole trouble, there was a large number of men working yesterday. The contractors claimed they had as many at work as they could use.

Ohio River Traffic for the B. & O.

January 1, it is stated, all the Ohio River railroad's connections, both freight and passenger, for Pittsburgh business will be made at Wheeling, with the Baltimore & Ohio instead of the Pennsylvania, as at present. That this would be done ultimately has been thought since the Baltimore & Ohio bought the river road, but several denials have been made by officials. The Pennsylvania is reported about to give Wheeling patrons a through sleeper to the east, connecting at this city with one of the fast trains for Philadelphia or New York.

RAILROAD NOTES.

It is now said that the surveyors at work on the old South Penn route are in the employ of the Philadelphia & Reading.

Official notice has been given of the abandonment of the Fortieth street station of the Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia, November 24.

On the Pennsylvania, east of Pittsburgh and Erie, there were shipped during the week ending November 16, 97,307 tons of anthracite coal, 202,167 tons of bituminous coal and 161,-283 tons of coke.

A reduction of $4.50 has been made by the Chicago-St. Paul lines in the rate from the Twin Cities to New York. The Michigan Central applied for the reduction and now other standard lines wish to make the same arrangement that the New York Central effects by this.

Gen. Buffington Retires Today.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—Gen. Adelbert R. Buffington, chief of the bureau of ordnance, will retire tomorrow, having reached the age limit. Gen. Buffington became chief of the bureau in 1899. His most important work was the strengthening of our coast defenses, which have reached a high state of efficiency.

Grown-up people experience quite as much benefit as children from Dr. D. Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge. It eradicates many alarming obstructions besides worms, and health comes as a consequence.

Special Thanksgiving Hour Sale.

HOUR SALE

N. B. Please mark the items you wish to buy, then cut out the advertisement and bring it with you today. By doing this, you will avoid all mistakes and get, without waiting, the exact articles you want.

KAUFMANN'S
"THE BIG STORE"

N. B. Please keep to the right and don't push others aside to get near the counters, but wait for your turn to get served. Ask for a transfer card and have all your goods wrapped in one bundle and paid for at one time.

HOUR SALE

Today will be a day long to be remembered by the thousands of our customers. Any ordinary Hour Sale is a sufficient attraction to draw a big crowd, but today will be an extraordinary Hour Sale that is bound to draw extraordinary crowds. The many purchases made by us recently from American manufacturers and the lively shelf and counter clearing that has been going on here lately to make room for the Holiday Goods, now coming in by the carload, have left many thousands of dollars' worth of small lots in our store that we propose to move out today at about

One-Half, One-Third and One-Fourth Regular Prices.

It will pay people to travel 100 miles for the express purpose of taking advantage of the money-saving opportunities presented at this Special Hour Sale.
